Ike Sure Smooth Talking Nik Won't Fool Americans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Thursday Nikita Khrushchev has spoken and acted here like a man who truly is seeking an agreement to end the conflict between East and West.

But Eisenhower told his news conference he is sure Americans will not be psychologically disarmed by the Soviet Premier's argument that communism is a forward step in the march of world progress—that it will bury capitalism.

"When you are talking about communism versus freedom, you are talking down at the very depths of conviction in the hearts of free men," Eisenhower said earnestly.

"I do not believe that master debaters or great appearances of sincerity or anything else are going to fool the American people long."

Convinced Khrush Wants Peace

Most of the news conference sounded like a reply to Khrushchev's Washington speech Wednesday, because that's the way the newsmen's questions came.

But Eisenhower assured the crowded room he feels certain the Soviet leader agrees with him a third great war would be stupid and crazy.

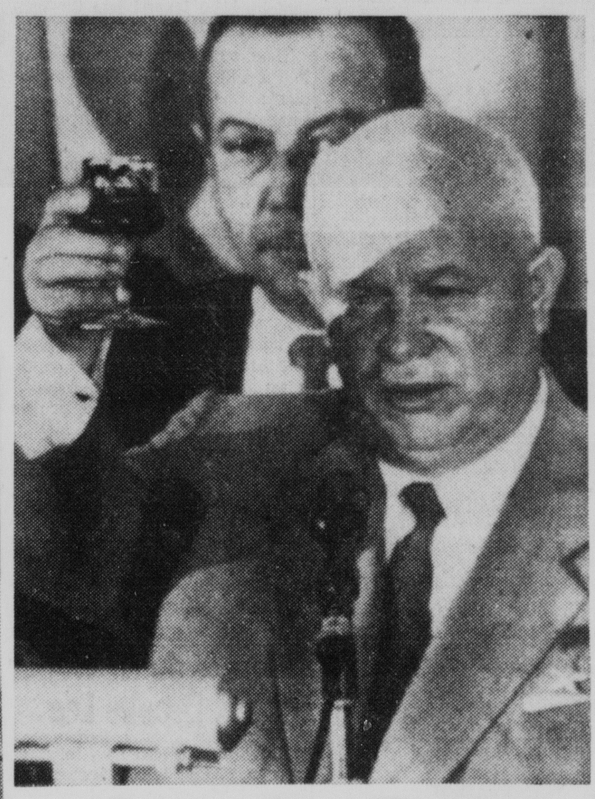
"I believe that is the one thing that he does agree with us very fully," the President said.

But while men can agree on the obvious "futility of committing mutual suicide," he went on, "there is still room for a lot of misunderstanding, a lot of miscalculation which could be very serious."

Too Early To Assess Results

The President replied cautiously when, at the outset of the question-and-answer volleying, he was asked whether he saw any concrete evidence of a change in position by the bald and bouncy Premier on cold war issues.

Khrushchev's attitude has been extremely friendly, Eisenhower parried, but the talks so far have been very preliminary. It would be unwise and undesirable, he added, to talk of progress or the lack of it until after he and Khrushchev wind up their intensive conversations at Camp David, Md., Sept. 25-27.



Roast And Toast

Frosty Welcome Given Khrushchev By New York City

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP(— Nikita Khrushchev told a gathering of American businessmen Thursday night that U.S. restrictions on trade with the Soviet Union have backfired and in some instances even helped his country.

The Soviet leader also said that production in his homeland is expanding so enormously that the U.S.S.R can overtake this country in economic development "more quickly than envisaged in our plans."

Khrushchev spoke to the Economic Club of New York at a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. His prepared address climaxed a day in the great metropolis which produced probably the frostiest welcome New York City has given a top public figure.

For a city of eight million people, the turnout of 175,000 — a police estimate — was pretty unimposing. And the crowds which did show up were largely silent. There were no more flags on display than rigid protocol demanded.

And the traditional ticker tape reception with which the city has greeted some dignitaries with seeming delirium was lacking completely.

Mrs. K Goes To Theater

Earlier, son Sergei and four Soviet companions took a spin over New York in a banana-type Army helicopter.

And Khrushchev, himself, had gone to a reception in his honor given by W. Averell Harriman, former ambassador to Moscow and more recently governor of New York.

Harriman told the Soviet chief that American business and finance want a reduction in armaments, if feasible, thus bringing an end to the arms race.

The Harriman reception followed a luncheon, at which Khrushchev also got off a speech. This earlier address, at a civic affair, again bore down on his call for eternal peace. The Premier didn't neglect to stress the peace theme again Thursday night.

But mainly the talk was beamed toward his businessman audience.

U.S. Embargo Denounced

He hammered hard at U.S. trade policies, as he has done before, and called for better trade relations between his own country and the United States.

Khrushchev struck twice at the U.S. embargo applying to sales of strategic goods to the Soviet Union.

"We are fighting and we will fight against all embargo lists in trade as an unreasonable practice," Khrushchev said.

The Premier said that some people—politicians rather than businessmen — seriously contend that by refusing to trade with the U.S.S.R "The United States retards the economic development of the U.S.S.R. and weakens its defensive might."

Then, with his reference to Soviet scientific achievements, Khrushchev told his audience that all present were familiar with the reports on Soviet Sputniks, rockets and economic growth. This progress has never been so swift, he said, as in the past decade.

Khrushchev said he had told Harriman and was repeating it that "the results of the ban on trade with the U.S.S.R. imposed in the United States as a repressive measure against the Soviet Union have been the very opposite of those hoped for by its authors."

To back that up, the Communist leader said the Soviet Union had to develop the manufacture of machinery it did not have previously and had intended to buy from this country. The Soviet Union, he said, no longer depends on anyone for this machinery, so curtailment of trade with the Soviet Union "has strengthened rather than weakened us."

The kind of reception Khrush-

Khrush To End Visit Sept. 27 With TV Speech

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev will make a nationwide telecast before leaving the United States after his talks with President Eisenhower next week at Camp David, Md.

The Soviet Premier also will hold a news conference here.

This was disclosed Thursday with a White House announcement of the schedule for Khrushchev during the last four days of his history-making American visit.

The newly issued schedule is for the period after his return from Pittsburgh to Washington on Sept. 24.

His plans for a West Coast trip, and a visit to the Des Moines area, had been announced previously.

Khrushchev goes from Des Moines to Pittsburgh Sept. 23.

From Pittsburgh, he flies back to Washington, on Sept. 24, leaving Pittsburgh at 3:25 p.m.

At 4:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 25, he will go by car to Eisenhower's Camp David retreat in the Catoctin Mountains of Maryland, arriving there at 6 p. m. and will stay there until noon of the following Sunday, Sept. 27.

The Camp David talks with Eisenhower are expected to cover the diplomatic work undertaken during his visit to the United States.

The final major public appearances for the Kremlin chief in this country are scheduled soon after his return to Washington from Camp David on Sunday, Sept. 27 at 1:30 p.m.

From 4 to 5 p.m., a full hour, Khrushchev is listed for a news conference to be held at the Soviet Embassy in downtown Washington.

From 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. he is scheduled to deliver an address on NBC TV network from NBC studios in Washington.

Ominous Move?

Red China Defense Minister Replaced

TOKYO (AP)—Marshal Lin Piao, considered Peiping's leading military strategist, replaced Marshal Peng Teh-huai Thursday as defense minister of Red China.

A reshuffle of the high command of the Communist Chinese armed forces was announced without explanation by Radio Peiping.

The changes were regarded as ominous — possibly a prelude to some new Communist military move — by unofficial quarters in Formosa, Nationalist China's island stronghold.

Both Lin and Peng are deputy premiers in the government of Premier Chou En-lai and members of the State Council which recommended the changes. Peng stays on as a deputy premier.

Each commanded the Red Chinese divisions, called volunteers, in the Korean War, first Lin and then Peng. If they have differed since on such things as Quemoy, Tibet, Laos and the Indian border dispute it is not apparent.

Peng has been the chief go-between for years in consultation between Red China and the Soviet Union on military affairs.

Last May he flew to Albania for talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodio Y. Malinovsky, while the Russians were vacationing in that little Red nation. That was in the lull between Red China's suppression of the Tibetan revolt and the outbreak of the Indian frontier clashes.

Lin, a Communist party member for 32 of his 52 years, is a graduate of the Whampoa Military Academy. He led a Red army throughout the Communists' fight against Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists, campaigning from Manchuria to southern China.

Gen. Lo Jui-ching, 52, another veteran educated at Whampoa, stepped from his post as public security minister to become chief of the army's general staff. He succeeds Gen. Huang Ko-cheng.

Herter, Lloyd Hurl Challenge At Khrushchev

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States and Britain Thursday tried to steal Premier Nikita Khrushchev's thunder with a challenge to join in a broad program for peace—including a new approach to disarmament.

U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd made their proposals in policy speeches to the U.N. General Assembly. The Soviet Premier has announced he will submit a new disarmament plan when he addresses the 82-nation Assembly Friday afternoon.

In his first appearance at the U.N. since becoming secretary of state, Herter outlined a program aimed at bringing about constructive changes by peaceful means in disarmament, world politics and economic and social fields.

Although he did not mention Khrushchev by name, many of his statements were obviously aimed at the Soviet leader now in New York.

Lloyd came up with a new three-stage disarmament plan that will go before the 10-nation East-West conference in Geneva next year along with Khrushchev's proposals.

The British minister called for a study by experts at conferences on particular problems, to be followed by a gradual cutback in nuclear and conventional arms and manpower. The final stage would be comprehensive disarmament by all powers under effective international control.

His detailed proposals included a study on how specific arms could be handed over to the international control organization which have the ultimate responsibility for keeping the peace.

Applause rippled through the hall as Herter was escorted to the speaker's platform by Francis O. Wilcox, assistant secretary of state for international organization affairs.

Herter seated himself on a stool and read his prepared text.

He made no new proposals on disarmament, but said the United States regards the coming negotiations in Geneva "as a major opportunity."

On peaceful uses of outer space, Herter issued a direct challenge to the Soviet Union to end its boycott of the U.N. committee that has been exploring the problem this year.

First Powered Flight

X15 Passes Major Milestone To Space

EDWARD AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The X15 rocket plane passed a major milestone Thursday on its way to the edge of space. It performed beautifully on its first powered flight.

The black stub-winged dart, with ace test pilot Scott Crossfield in its cramped cockpit, soared and circled spectacularly over the Mojave Desert then glided to a perfect landing on a dry lake bed.

Crossfield called it "a very successful flight. It performed better than expected."

Jubilant officials of North American Aviation, the X15s makers, said this and future flights are pioneering a technique that could be used to shuttle men between the earth and satellite space stations.

The X15, equipped with more powerful engines, is expected later this year to rocket more than 100 miles high at faster than 4,000 m.p.h. Such performance would enable it to reach space stations.

The X15 was carried to 38,000 feet by a B52 mother ship. Cut loose at 8:07 a.m., it dropped 3,000 feet before Crossfield fired the first of its twin rocket engines. The engines caught and it soared like a bullet to 50,000 feet, passing the B52 and three jet fighter chase planes as if they were standing still. It trailed great puffs of white smoke as Crossfield jockeyed the throttle.

He eased it into a wide circle to the left, lining the clear blue sky with twin contrails. Completing the circle, which had a 100-mile perimeter, he leveled off and, his three-minute fuel supply exhausted, dropped quickly down for a perfect 200 m.p.h. landing at 8:17 a.m. on the bed of Rogers Dry Lake. The X15 skidded a mile, kicking up a huge rooster tail of dust.

Crossfield said he flew well in excess of mach 2—1,400 m.p.h.—but declined to give his top speed.

As he flew, Crossfield chatted by radio with Air Force Maj. Robert White, piloting one of the chase planes.

"Nice and easy, daddy," White counseled as Crossfield came in to land.

New Satellite Shot Fizzles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States failed to orbit a navigation satellite Thursday and added another black mark to an embarrassing week for American space efforts.

The 265-pound satellite, called Transit I, rode skyward atop a three-stage Thor-Able rocket. It was designed to study the possibility of using satellites as navigation stations in space.

But the rocket's third stage did not ignite and the satellite apparently met a fiery doom in a plunge through the earth's atmosphere.

Another U.S. space shot fizzled Wednesday when a Jupiter missile carrying mice and frogs exploded 1,000 feet above its launching pad. The Jupiter was to lift the tiny animals and other biological speciments 300 miles up in an experiment that could help prepare the way for manned space travel.

Earlier this week, the last of the Vanguard satellite rockets failed to get off the ground because of a faulty ignition system. Another attempt will be made soon, possibly Friday, to launch the Vanguard and its 100-pound scientific satellite.

67th Warning To U.S.

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China Thursday issued its 67th warning to the United States, charging violation of Chinese territorial waters. Peiping radio declared an American ship entered Chinese waters southwest of Matsu.

Meany Blasts Soviet Premier

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—George Meany, AFL-CIO president, warned Americans Thursday not to be fooled by visiting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's peace talk in the face of a Communist record of deceit and aggression.

The head of the nation's 12½ million member union federation told the opening session of the AFL-CIO biennial convention that communism is a godless, atheist system dedicated to human slavery.

Meany devoted the major portion of his keynote speech to a blistering indictment of Khrushchev and the Soviets, grimly reciting the Communist record from the Red invasion of Poland at the start of World War II to present aggressions in Laos, India and Tibet.

Meany, lustily cheered by the delegates, went on:

"We are peaceful by nature and have no designs of aggression on anyone else and a sincere desire to live in friendship with the world.

"But don't let us be fooled and deceive ourselves to the point where we see a contribution to peace when actually what we really should see is a further attempt to spread the doctrine of slavery in the world."

Ike's Words Reach Russia; No Jamming

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's entire news conference was broadcast by the Voice of America for the first time Thursday and apparently reached Russian listeners without Soviet jamming.

This was reported by U.S. officials in a widening test of what chinks may be open in the Iron Curtain because of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

Following Khrushchev's arrival Tuesday, American monitors said that Communist jamming of the U.S. propaganda radio's Russian-language programs had ceased for the first time in 10 years.

Outpost Recaptured

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Royal government troops have recaptured the important outpost of Sam Teu in northeast Samneua Province, it was announced Thursday.

Gen. Ouane Rathikone, chief of staff, said the Communists took the post only last Tuesday but royal troops stormed and took it back Wednesday in one of the bitterest battles of the Laos civil war.

N.C. Prison Escapee Nabbed In Maryland

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—A fugitive from the North Carolina Penitentiary was captured near here Thursday by Maryland State Police.

They identified him as Leland Crawford, 35, who escaped from North Carolina last April after serving part of a sentence for a series of burglaries and larcenies.

Five Maryland troopers arrested Crawford after receiving a tip at the nearby Waterloo State Police barracks. They surrounded him as he got out of an automobile near a small house on a side road about two miles south of Laurel.

Hundreds Feared Drowned In India

BOMBAY, India (AP) — The flooding Tapti River burst through a protective wall and poured into the city of Surat Thursday, covering two square miles within five minutes. Hundreds were believed drowned.

The waters rushed into the main bazaar area with such speed that hundreds were trapped. The water was 12 feet deep in some place. Many houses and cattle were swept away.

The inundation took place when one of the two ancient city walls collapsed as the river rose two feet above the danger mark. Several policemen keeping an eye on the river were reported missing.

The Bombay state government said flood waters from the Tapti and Narmada rivers had devastated coastal towns and villages. They estimated 5,000 peasant homes were washed away in the Ahmedabad district alone.

Mrs. K Attends Broadway Musical, Causes Sellout

NEW YORK (UPI) — Grandmotherly - looking Mrs. Nina Khrushchev caused a sellout on Broadway Thursday.

The wife of the boss of all the Russians and her two daughters, Rada, 29, and Yulia, 42, and a party of 27 other persons went to see one of Broadway's longest running musicals, "The Music Man" starring Robert Preston.

The show has been running since December, 1957. But all the tickets for Thursday performance at the Majestic Theater had not been sold until the public learned that Mrs. Khrushchev would be in the audience.

"She sold out the house," said the theater's publicity manager, Arthur Canton. "She should come here every night."

As the word spread that Mrs. Khrushchev would attend the hit musical, crowds began lining the sidewalks on each side of the theater entrance and across the street four and five feet deep.

Police set up sawhorses to hold back the crowds. The lobby of the theater was filled to overflowing with ticket-holders curious to see Russia's first lady.

Mrs. Khrushchev arrived at 8:25 p.m. just before the curtain was to rise. She received some applause from the crowd in front of the theater as she alighted with Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, wife of the U.S. ambassador to the U.N., from her black limousine.

Fraternity Pledge Chokes To Death On Raw Liver

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A fraternity pledge being hazed during an initiation choked to death Thursday while trying to swallow a large piece of oil-soaked raw liver.

Police said his life might have been saved if the fraternity members had not misled an ambulance crew. They told rescuers the boy suffered a spasm and didn't mention the meat.

The University of Southern California suspended the Kappa Sigma Fraternity and told its national headquarters to remove the chapter from the campus. Members were placed on university probation pending full investigation.

Richard T. Swanson, 21, predental student and son of a Los Angeles dentist, died after both an ambulance crew and firemen worked over him.

An ambulance man, Nathan Rubin, said he arrived at the Kappa Sigma house at 1:19 a.m.

"I asked if the boy had eaten anything," he said. "They told me no. I got practically no cooperation. If I'd only known he had eaten something, I might possibly have saved him. I was prepared for such an emergency. I had an extractor and could have removed what was in his throat . . . I was working in the dark and didn't have a chance. Neither did the kid."

A quarter-pound of liver—3 by 4 inches, ¾ of an inch thick—later was removed from Swanson's throat.

Police said 11 pledges were assigned numerous pushups, then marched to a table and told to eat liver soaked in olive oil. Six did. Swanson tried five times and on the sixth fell gasping to the floor.

"Presidential Suite" Occupied By Khrushchev

NEW YORK (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev is living like an American capitalist during his stay in New York, housed in a seven-room hotel suite that rents for $150 a day.

Mr. K Looks Like Born U. S. Politician

By ARTHUR EDSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev has been in this country only three days, but already he looks like a born, and highly practiced, U.S. politician.

For Mr. K misses none of the touches so dearly beloved by our own officeholders—the extra wave and the big grin for the photographers, the appearance of being affable and friendly at all times.

Thursday, he gave an excellent illustration of the flair he has, of that hard-to-define something we call color.

For as some baseball players make each home run seem extra special, so does Khrushchev make the most of every opportunity.

He came into New York under the worst possible conditions.

Probably for security reasons, he was greeted in the baggage room of Pennsylvania Station, dismal and cheerless as a tomb.

The confusion was incredible—photographers relentlessly struggling for better position, radio and television men trying to protect their wires from the onrush, newsmen squeezing in everywhere.

It was noisy, distracting and chaotic. Yet when Mr. K. was welcomed to the city, he stepped forward, thanked everybody in sight and several who weren't in sight, and wound up waving his hat and then his hand for photographers.

A presidential candidate couldn't have done it better.

Or move to the Commodore Hotel, where he addressed a luncheon party given by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

He listened to a long series of introductions, to moderately long speeches by Henry Cabot Lodge, Ambassador to the United Nations, and by the mayor.

Then, like the seasoned old hand that he is,he leaped into the oratorical fray fresh as a daisy.

Then, when everyone was lulled into a jolly spirit, he came to the point: Don't waste your breath, comrades, in trying to convert me to capitalism.

Mr. K. recalled an old proverb: "each duck praises its own marsh." But he said he hated to use it because he didn't like to compare communism with a marsh.

When the meeting ran on so long many of the capitalists had to hurry off to make more capital, Khrushchev hurriedly wound it up and apologized for exhausting his audience—an old pro to the end.

One surprising by-product of the Premier's visit: usually "The Star—Spangled Banner" is sung by few, if any, in the average audience. Thursday almost everyone sang lustily, even though some had trouble remembering the words.

Fact-Finders In Laos Await Solid Evidence

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Laos started presenting its case against the Communists to a U.N. fact-finding mission Thursday. But solid proof was lacking and a U.N. spokesman said the four - nation subcommittee does not know when it will get evidence to support Laotian accusations of aggression by Communist North Viet Nam.

Earlier, a Laotian official expressed hope the subcommittee would have proof of the charges by the weekend.

Hand grenades bearing Chinese characteristics have been captured in northern Laos and top the list of evidence the government plans to present the subcommittee, an authoritative source reported. American rifles and machine guns of Czech and Chinese manufacture also are included in the evidence. The American weapons probably were captured from the French during the Indochina War in the 1950s.

American officials here say they have been convinced by circumstantial evidence that North Viet Nam has participated in the attacks on Laos. British officials are keeping an open mind on the subject and the French frankly are skeptical.

The U.N. subcommittee plans to visit rebel - infested Sam Neua province in northern Laos to investigate alleged North Vietnamese complicity in the war, but it does not appear likely the group can leave before the middle of next week. The government has asked the subcommittee to get six helicopters for the trip.

JUBILANT PILOT—Test Pilot Scott Crossfield uses his hands to demonstrate how his helmet was hitting the cockpit canopy yesterday as Crossfield took the X15 rocket plane on its first powered flight at Edwards AFB, Calif. "I hear a funny noise, a rattle," Crossfield said over the radio during the flight. He added later: "Aw, that rattle's just my head." It turned out it was his helmet hitting the canopy. Crossfield told newsmen he considered it "a very successful flight . . . it performed better than expected." (AP Photofax)

TFC Sets Aside Straits Area As Oyster Nursery

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Tidewater Fisheries Commission Thursday closed Holland Straits off Somerset County to the tonging of oysters in order to develop it as a major nursery for bringing back Maryland's oyster production.

Portions of the straits containing marketable oysters will be opened for limited periods this winter so tongers from Smith Island and Dorchester County, who have been using it, can take oysters for the big Thanksgiving and Christmas markets.

But eventually, the 10,000-acre area between South Marsh Island and Smith Island will be closed entirely to harvesting, the TFC agreed. It will be used solely for developing seed or baby oysters for transplanting in less productive areas.

The straits form the state's richest oyster growing area and last year accounted for 90,000 bushels, or five per cent of state production. It is here the TFC will dump several million bushels of oyster shells next June to catch oyster larvae being spawned and provide it with a growing surface.

After the baby oysters are formed they can be transplanted on public bars.

Ralph C. Hammer, biologist in charge of oyster management, who recommended the closing, told the commission Holland Straits have the potential to become Maryland's equivalent to the rich producing James River seed area in Virginia.

"We consistently get a good set of oysters in that area", Hammer said.

The straits were entirely barren in 1941 when the Legislature turned the area over to the TFC for use in cultivating seed. Oysters were brought from the head of Chesapeake Bay to start the brood stock which is now producing the heavy spawning activity each spring.

Harvard University libraries contain nearly six million volumes.

Here and there applause and cheers rang out. But there were just about as many hoots and boos and cries of "murderer" and "butcher."

If the Soviet Premier heard the jeers, he gave no sign of anger. And, at a civic luncheon in his honor, he was gay and joshing, and telling a crowd that included many distinguished New Yorkers he knew it was useless to try to convert them to communism.

The setting was the grand ballroom of the Commodore Hotel, resplendent in rose and aqua and huge masses of autumn mums and Dahlias.

The No. 1 man of the world Communist movement had no major pronouncements along lines of international politics and policies.

Those evidently were to be saved for another address Friday to the United Nations. Khrushchev promised in Washington Wednesday that he would have a new proposal then on disarmament, which he called the most burning issue confronting the world.

State National Guard To Have Own West Point

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland's National Guard will have its own West Point for training officers.

Lt. Col. Francis R. Dice, commandant of the school to be held at the Pikesville Armory, said Thursday the first class reporting in January would total about 50.

Dice explained that replacement of Guard officers is a constant problem because family needs must come first.

The Department of the Army, through its National Guard Bureau, has dropped its Army extension courses as a basis for commission in the guard.

The Guard now has its own officer candidate schools in 40 other states, including Virginia. The principal Guard unit in Maryland is the 29th Infantry Division, which includes units from the Old Dominion.

The officer candidates will first take 140 hours of classroom instruction in various military subjects and leadership.

The 140 hours are to be given in 10 weekend assembles at Pikesville, running from 10:30 a.m. on Saturday until 2 p.m. on Sunday in order to permit guardsmen from all over the state to attend.

The second phase for the class will consist of two weeks of field training during the 29th Division's annual summer encampment.

Jail Preferably To Freight Car

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Walter F. Hupfer took one look at the Washington County jail and allowed it was preferable to being locked up inside an empty freight car.

The 55-year-old Danville, Ill., man was sentenced to five days in the jail for trespassing after spending 24 hours cooped up in the rattling car.

Hupfer said he welcomed the five-day term after his ordeal. He told Magistrate William Dwyer he was tired and hungry.

He said he climbed into the empty car at Gettysburg, Pa., and fell asleep. When he awoke, the door was locked shut and the car was moving.

The Western Maryland Railway freight stopped three times and each time Hupfer rapped on the door and shouted for help. No one came to the rescue.

Student Surprised During Holdup Attempt Kills Self

INDIANA, Pa. (AP) — A college freshman fatally shot himself Thursday after he was surprised by two policemen during an attempted holdup of the Indiana Hotel.

Bertram Lynn Kaufman, 19, of Johnstown, Pa., fired a bullet into his head in the lobby of the hotel. He died at Indiana Hospital about 1½ hours later.

Kaufmann entered Indiana State Teachers College earlier this month. He was a transfer student from the Johnstown College of the University of Pittsburgh.

John Gray, 67, a night clerk at the hotel, told police Kaufman, wearing a mask, pulled a gun and demanded that he open a safe.

Gray told Kaufman there was no safe. The youth then began beating Gray on the head with the pistol, Gray told police.

Two Indiana borough officers cruising by in an auto spotted Kaufman through a hotel window. Sgt. Charles McAdoo entered the lobby through the front door while Sgt. Edward Sullinger went to a side entrance.

McAdoo said he pulled his revolver and ordered Kaufman to stop beating Gray. Kaufman spun around toward McAdoo, put a .22 cal. revolver to his head and pulled the trigger.

Gray suffered several head wounds, one requiring seven stitches. He was treated and released.

Kaufman graduated from Ferndale High School in Johnstown in 1957. He was president of his class for two years and active in athletics. He graduated in the upper 25 per cent of his class.

A spokesman for Indiana State Teachers College said there was no apparent reason for the attempted robbery. He added:

"It is known that the boy had money in the bank."

Moon Survey Via Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet scientists see a possibility of casting a Peeping Tom satellite into orbit only six miles above the moon.

That would be close enough to get a detailed look but high enough to avoid crashing into the moon's tall mountains.

Such a baby moon of the big moon would be equipped with television and other devices designed to transmit map-like pictures of the moon to the earth as a prelude for future spaceship landings.

The possibilities are outlined in a technical report by Dr. A. Shternfel'd, a noted Soviet scientist, which has just been translated by the Department of Commerce's office of technical services.

Under Shternfel'd's conception, a rocket would be launched from the earth to a point 120 miles above the moon. There it would automatically be given a kind of sidewise kick that would gradually take it, in lower and lower passes, into a circular path just six miles above the moon.

Traveling in a polar orbit above a moon that was slowly revolving beneath it, the satellite would gradually survey the entire surface of the moon in less than a month's time, Shternfel'd wrote.

Dispatch Relief Crews

BOMBAY, India (UPI) — The Bombay state government Thursday dispatched emergency relief crews to Surat where an estimated 10,000 persons have been made homeless by floods that put the city under 4 to 10 feet of water.

A disease which only worms can get is being used by scientists to destroy cabbage loopers pests which attack cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli. Two to five diseased worms can start an epidemic that will kill all the loopers on an acre of crops. The virus is harmless to man and other warm-blooded animals.

Worker Cuts Wrong Cable, KOs 1,000 Phones

SALISBURY (AP)—A lineman cut the wrong telephone cable here Thursday, knocking out service on more than 1,000 lines and disrupting communications between Maryland's Eastern and Western Shores.

A spokesman for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. said emergency service was set up to most affected points.

By late afternoon, most lines were back in service and the C&P said it expected to have full service restored by 8 p.m.

The cable break occurred at about 10:30 a.m., Thursday, as workmen relocated lines to make way for a phase of the U.S. 50 highway construction project.

A C&P official said a worker, directed to cut an old underground cable in front of City Hall, instead severed a recently installed cable.

As a result, normal service was knocked out for subscribers in Delmar, Deal Island, Pocomoke, Ocean City, Princess Anne, Snow Hill, Crisfield, and Salisbury, Md.; Georgetown and Seaford, Del., and Onancock, Va., the telephone company said.

To come face to face with your most charming self each day, you must be honest, forthright and persistently so!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A Well Known "Secret"

Your charm must spring from your inner self. And because of the wealth of beauty and goodness there is in everybody, your charm will develop and grow as long as you live. It is dependent upon your ability to know and understand yourself so that you can put a polish on your best characteristics to make you a more pleasing person for others to be with.

Contrary to an all-too-prevalent impression, the pursuit of charm is not a selfish conceit. It is your duty to others and it is of ever-increasing importance as the world grows smaller and as contacts become more frequent, demanding and exacting.

Vanity is shallow, but charm's depth cannot be fathomed because it is always multiplying itself; it is never static.

Charm never remains with those who treat it lightly. It vanishes quickly from the presence of a woman who is careless of her person and appearance. It flees from those who allow their talents to rust. It is never found where there is intolerance, gossip or hate-mongering.

Deceit and dishonesty are charm's greatest enemies. Procrastination saps its vitality.

Would you like to see your charm grow?

It takes all the frankness, honesay and volition that you can command if you are to make yourself into as interesting and attractive a personality as it is your potential to be.

But as you succeed, you will bring more enjoyment into the lives of all who know you . . . and happiness to yourself!

$5,690 Paid By Swimmers At Constitution Park Pool

The swimming pool at Constitution Park had an excellent year in attendance and income this summer, according to Eugene Mason, city recreation director.

Mason announced yesterday that a total of 24,203 persons used the pool this year, compared to the total of 21,094 in 1958. During the year of 1957 a total of 26,522 used the facilities.

During the past summer 10,301 adults and 13,902 children paid a total of $5,690.65 for swimming, the largest amount paid during the past three seasons.

The figures for this year's receipts also showed an increase of $958.55 over the previous year.

Mason said that Thomas Counihan handled the duties of manager for the second straight year. The rec director said Counihan and his staff of four lifeguards and four checkers turned in an excellent job during the season.

The figures released by the Rec Department yesterday also revealed that during the past season more than 800 persons visited the pool on a single day, while in 1958 the largest single day was the Fourth of July when 750 attended.

The biggest days this past season were on the opening day, June 6, when 858 visited the pool, June 28 when 834 paid admission and on July 6 when 800 were in attendance.

Before the season opened this year, Mason said a number of major projects were completed by Robert Golden, park supervisor, and his department.

Mason said that before the June 6 opening, all the water lines were cleaned and an "overhaul" job was done on the filtration plant.

Before the pool opening in 1960 only one major project is scheduled. That will be a complete paint job, which will also be handled by Golden. The pool will be cleaned and lines checked before the painting is started, Mason said.

Duffy Leaves Today For Navy Duty

James W. Duffy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Duffy, 705 Elm Street, leaves today for San Francisco from where he will fly to Japan for an assignment with the Navy.

Duffy, who has completed nine months of schooling at the Navy School of Music, Washington, is a 1955 graduate of Fort Hill High School. Prior to entering the service, he attended Frostburg State Teachers College.

October 19 Is Deadline On City Taxes

Cumberland's taxpayers, with an assist from the calendar, will have an extra two days in which to take advantage of interest-free tax payments, Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder said yesterday.

The fact that the tax deadline falls on October 17, a Saturday, means taxes can be paid until Monday, October 19, at 5 p. m. without interest. After that time interest at the rate of one half per cent a month will be charged.

Mrs. Roeder said the tax bills were mailed this week and response has been about normal.

Many are taking advantage of the fact that the tax office in City Hall is opening at 8 a. m. for the remainder of this month and through October and November. This is particularly true of workers, it was said.

CUF President Sets Fast Pace

William C. Walsh, president of the County United Fund, is setting the pace for workers in the United Givers campaign, according to Winfield Adam, CUF director.

Walsh had the highest goal of any Golden Gifts worker, $20,000. Adam explained, adding that Walsh reported pledges totaling $20,200 shortly before noon yesterday.

Earthquakes are more common in Italy and in Japan than they are anywhere else in the world.

Investigating Groups Briefed On Bus-Train Crash

Two government bodies received details Wednesday on the school bus-train crash that took the lives of seven Deer Park children last Thursday.

Two representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission attended a company sponsored hearing conducted in the Cumberland Division headquarters of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Garrett County State Sen. Bernard I. Gonder, Oakland, gave a report on the accident at a meeting of the Legislative Council's subcommittee on motor vehicle laws, of which he is a member, Thursday afternoon in Baltimore.

He presented the subcommittee with the details of the investigation conducted by the Maryland State Police and Garrett County authorities.

He informed Del. Edgar Silver, of Baltimore's Fifth District, who is chairman of the committee, that he will have additional reports from the Garrett County grand jury which made public its findings Wednesday, and from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Sen. Gonder said the subcommittee will meet again in Baltimore on Wednesday, October 14, when all findings will be presented the full Legislative Council.

The aim of the between-sessions body of the General Assembly is to come up with legislation that will provide more safety at railroad crossings, Sen. Gonder said.

R. J. Cannon, superintendent of the Cumberland Division, reported the railroad conducted a hearing here with members of the train crew of the Diplomat which crashed into the stalled bus testifying.

Cannon said no new developments came from the hearing.

The ICC investigators will make their report and forward it to the Interstate Commerce Commission, which will issue an official finding on the tragedy.

Md. Fair Honors Glass Company

The Cumberland Glass Company was awarded a cash prize for its display at the Maryland State Fair, according to George W. Hickle, sales manager.

The firm had been invited to exhibit its glassware by Timonium officials who said an extra effort was made this year to show Maryland made products.

Hickle was in charge of the display which included tools and other equipment as well as the finished product. He pointed out that his firm is the only one in the state that produces handmade glassware of the highest craftsmanship.

The glass company, located at Mt. Savage since its old quarters in LaVale were destroyed in a fire several years ago, has been invited to exhibit at next year's state fair also, Hickle said.

Late Sinking Spell Hits Market In Quiet Trading

Volume dropped to 2,090,000 shares from 2,180,000 shares Wednesday, and was the least since Aug. 24, the quietest session since March 3, 1958.

All sections were hit by the late sinking spell which interrupted the serene atmosphere of the earlier dealings. The list had drifted only narrowly on either side of the previous close most of the day, paying very little attention to Khrushchev's arrival here.

It was the thinness of the market rather than any particular news item that brought about the late decline. Most investors stood to the sidelines awaiting some new market stimulants.

Electronics issues were the hardest hit in the late dealings, with losses ranging to 6 points in General Time. Litton dropped 2¾ and Zenith 1¾.

Chrysler stood out in the motors with a loss of 2½ on a report by the company that third quarter operations would be in the red.

Oils also took a good shellacking with Richfield down 3⅜, Sinclair 2, Gulf 1⅝ and Texaco 1½. Youngstown and Lukens both fell 2¼ and U. S. Steel 1⅜ in the depressed steel section.

The rail average was dropped to a new 1959 low by a 2⅜ point loss in Atlantic Coast Line and a 1 point decline in Kansas City Southern.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains were mostly steady Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was off ¼ to up ¼; corn was off ⅛ to up ⅜; oats were up ¼; new oats were off ⅛ to up ¼; rye was up ½ to 2, and soybeans were up ⅛ to ¾.

Moderate liquidation of September wheat led to easiness in some of the deferred contracts. Nearby contracts were steady after an easy opening. There was early buying by brokers with cash connections. Northwest houses sold March and March was bought against sales of May. India was reported to have bought 350,000 bushels of gulf wheat. There was some stop loss selling.

Corn prices were down slightly, led by nearbys as selling encountered resting support on the way down. Commercial houses bought on scale down. One of the mills sold December corn while a cereal house bought March contracts. Export acceptances were 130,000 bushels.

Oats were mostly steady. Longs sold the September after delivery notices were circulated. Cash grain houses bought September and sold December oats at four cents difference.

The soybean market maintained a firm level through most of the session after opening steady. Trade was light. Local traders sold early and bought later. Commission house buying was scattered. Reports from dry areas in downstate Illinois said yields of soybeans are much less than last year. Harvest movement was expected to grow this weekend.

Rye was mostly steady with firmness in the deferred contracts.

Meals were mostly steady. Denmark reportedly bought soybeans and India hard wheat. Peru was said to be in the market for oils and the United Arab Republic for white and red wheat.

Communities Take Steps To Conserve Dwindling Supply Of Water As Drought Continues

The light rainfall received in this section over Wednesday night helped to cut down the forest fire danger, but did little to alleviate the water shortage in many points in this section.

Oakland, Bayard, Hyndman, Keyser and Barton are just a few of the larger communities where the long, hot summer has taken its toll of the community supply.

Cumberland received .11 of an inch of rain while Frostburg had .15 of an inch.

Franklin J. Blaney, city sanitary engineer, reported the city's water supply is in good shape, with Lake Gordon full and Lake Koon only nine feet below the crest.

Oakland's two reservoirs are being replenished by two tank trucks hauling water from Herrington Manor's lake.

Henry McComas, chairman of the Oakland water committee, said two 2,000-gallon tanks were placed on city trucks.

For the past two months there has been a curtailment there. Four wells are in operation at Mountain Lake Park for Oakland's reservoir, but only one is producing any quantity of water.

McComas said another well is being drilled in Oakland's west end.

Attempts to tap depleted natural gas wells in that section as a source of water were unsuccessful earlier this summer.

It is reported that some springs and wells at Deep Creek Lake have gone dry.

In many rural areas, farmers are hauling water for household use and for their livestock.

At Bayard, H. R. Fulk Jr., a town councilman, reported today that the town's supply from its two reservoirs comes from springs, but for the past two months a deep well has been placed into emergency use.

For the past two months, Bayard's council has banned the use of municipal water for washing cars and watering gardens.

Hyndman has put a curtailment on the use of municipal water as has Keyser. In the Mineral County seat the Mayor and Council passed an ordinance allowing for fines for violating the restrictions on the use of water.

The Allegany County schools all have ample supplies, Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, said today. Mt. Savage School was the first to feel a shortage until two years ago when a new and better well was drilled. There has been no trouble there since that time, Webster said.

Globe Trotters Series Will Be Presented Here

Kiwanis Sponsors Filmed Travels

Through efforts of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club, many residents of Cumberland and the Tri-State area will have the opportunity this fall to travel the inexpensive way on personally conducted tours of the North Pole, Russia, Germany and Japan.

Well-known globe trotters will appear here in person this fall with their full-length films in color, according to J. D. Eisenberger, Kiwanis president. These professional explorers accompany their pictures with provocative commentary, often humorous, always interesting, taking the viewers behind the scenes of the country visited.

These places may be visited in the Fort Hill High School auditorium on October 15, 22, 29 and November 5, all Thursday night.

The first famous explorer is Rear Admiral Donald B. MacMillan, of whom Lowell Thomas says, "Donald MacMillan is one of our foremost living explorers, a grand story teller, one of the most fascinating men on the platform. I'd go miles to hear MacMillan any day." He will be here for the tour of "The North — Far North" on October 15.

Stoneall O'Brien will conduct the figurative tour to Germany. On his tour will be seen the fairy-tale castle in Bavaria, the Black Forest, Garden Show in Heidelberg with exotic flowers and fraulein, Berlin night life, politicians, poets, farmers and film stars. Germany as it is today will be seen on November 5.

The visit to Japan will be conducted by Gordon Palmquist and he will feature some areas not readily available to the ordinary traveler. It is an up-to-date story of the Japanese people — factual and interesting. Authentic native music will help create the atmosphere of a delightful visit to Japan. This film trip is scheduled for October 22.

The report on "Russia, The New Face" is said to be the "last" picture of true life behind the Iron Curtain and so important that the State Department has made a reproduction of this film. While the Soviet Union is making a pretense of freedom of travel, guidance has been strengthened to prevent the further filming of the broad truth of Russian life which was captured so completely in "Russia, The New Face" to be seen here on October 29.

Tickets may be obtained from any Kiwanian, the Conlon Insurance and Travel Agency, Peoples Drug Store or Frostburg State Teachers College.

Disturbance Is Blamed On Tavern Dispute

Mrs. Nancy Shaw, 19, of 315 Springdale Street was arrested by City Police Officer Wilbur E. Shank Wednesday night on a charge of disturbing the peace.

The disturbance was considered an outgrowth of the hearing Tuesday before the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners in which the beer and wine license of Mrs. Shaw's mother, Mrs. Ruth G. Metz, trading as Clark's Bar at the Springdale Street address, was ordered suspended for 30 days begining Sunday, September 20.

George O. Hollar, 301 Springdale Street, who was one of the witnesses at the Tuesday hearing, notified police Wednesday night that Mrs. Shaw was standing in front of his house making disparaging comments about his wife, Mrs. Grace Hollar, who also testified at the hearing. Officer Shank was called to the scene and when the disturbance persisted he arrested Mrs. Shaw about 7:15 p. m.

A hearing in Police Court is scheduled for 9 a. m. Monday. Mrs. Shaw posted a $20 bond and Mr. Hollar posted a $10 witness bond.

Two Dwelling Permits Issued

Two permits for new dwellings have been issued by the Allegany County assessing department.

Wesley A. McGraw, Potomac Park, was issued a permit for a $12,000 brick veneer dwelling in Election District 6. The house will be 28 feet by 36 feet.

John A. Nies Jr., RFD 1, Valley Road, was issued a permit for a $5,500 stucco dwelling in Election District 5. It will be 26 by 38 feet in size.

Tax Collectors Expect Busy Day

City taxes are beginning to roll in.

Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder reported that $34,000 of 1959 taxes were collected Wednesday and that collections were $35,000 by 2:30 p. m. yesterday.

Tax bills went out earlier this week and were delivered to most homes yesterday.

Officials are anticipating that collections will be heavy today.

TO DISCUSS TIMBER

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— State Agriculture Commissioner John T. Johnson said Thursday a meeting will be held at Sistersville Tuesday to formulate plans for improving timber marketing in West Virginia.

The Little Kanawha Regional Council is sponsoring the meeting, expected to attract some 40 persons, including experts in forestry. The 1959 Legislature voted $10,000 for working out a modernized timbering plan.

PUBLISHER DIES

TAZEWELL, Va. (UPI) — The publisher and co-owner of the Clinch Valley News, here, Frank W. Leslie, died in a Richlands, Va. hospital Wednesday after a short illness. The paper had been operated by the Leslie family since the late 1880s.

Cattle To Be Sprayed For Grubs

County Agent Joseph M. Steger said that Theodore L. Bissell, entomologist at the University of Maryland, will present the demonstration at 10 a. m. next Wednesday on the farm of Earl F. Stonestreet, Breakneck Road.

Mr. Bissell will demonstrate both the use of spray and the placing of the insecticide in the cattle feed.

Cattle grubs are severe pests of cattle of all kinds and ages. Grubs are known in winter by the ugly swellings, called warbles or wolves, which appear in the backs of cattle. They arise from eggs laid by heel flies on the legs of animals in early summer.

In mid-summer and fall the small grubs, which hatched and bored through the skin earlier, work upward through the animal's body toward the back.

The grubs cause considerable damage to the hides of beef cattle, which results in considerable loss to the owner.

Scotland was settled by Scots, Picts, British and Angles. The Romans called the land Caledonia.

Court Probates Three Wills

The will of John Joseph Reinhard, who was the 73-year-old vice president of the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company here at the time of his death September 3, was one of three probated in Allegany County Orphans Court.

His entire estate was bequeathed to his widow, Mrs. Ada M. Reinhard, Washington-Lee Apartments, who qualified as executrix under a $100 bond. The will was dated February 4, 1958.

Also probated was the will of William F. Breighner, who was 81 and a patient at the County Infirmary at the time of his death August 26. A daughter, Mrs. Rose Breighner Milburn, 400 York Place, qualified as executrix under a $500 bond.

Mr. Breighner left $25 to St. Mary's Catholic Church for masses and the rest of his estate was bequeathed equally to his six children, Mrs. Milburn, James Breighner, Irene Breighner Abbott and three nuns, Sister Ludgena, Sister Theodora and Sister Wilma. The will was dated January 28, 1948.

Also probated was the last testament of William Steele Johnson, who was a 67-year-old Gilmore resident at the time of his death August 28. He left his entire estate to a sister, Mrs. Hannah Johnson Grindle of Gilmore, who qualified as administratrix c.t.a. under a $100 bond.

WATER SKIING--IT'S FUN!

YOUNG ENTHUSIASTS: Mrs. Aliene Williams gets water ski class of youngsters lined up in preparation for going into water together. Tow ropes have to be same length.

The Long Beach Boat and Ski Club at Long Beach, Calif., is a group of families that enjoys flying over the waves — together.

But it's the youngsters who seem to be in the majority at the club as they gather there day after day to get instruction and pick up the finer points of water skiing.

"The club is a family deal," says Mrs. Aliene Williams, a club executive, whose daughter Martha Ann is one of the famed Long Beach baby water skiers. "We have monthly meetings. The kids dance and swim. Then there are weiner bakes, and races and trick skiing." The club numbers almost 100 members and they trek far and wide to get in their water ski thrills.

The children in the group are trained in such fancy water ski events as the slalom, where the skier crosses back and forth across the wake of the speedboat going around the buoys. This can be real tricky. Then they try jumping, flying through the air off a 5-foot ramp. For the smaller children there are always life jackets and extra precautions are taken when they ski.

Martha Ann Williams, the club's young celebrity, started skiing when she was 4. Now Martha is 12 and has already won 194 trophies.

Mrs. Aliene Williams rides beside Sandra Pearson, 8, a beginner, showing her how it's done.

City Loses Bid For Emergency Status Of Municipal Airfield

A city request that Cumberland Municipal Airport be declared an emergency landing field by the Federal Aviation Agency is apparently a dead issue.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said he had received an exchange of correspondence between Sen. J. Glenn Beall and the acting head of the FAA in which it was said it has been many years since an emergency landing field was established.

Keech said the city had asked for the emergency designation to enable the city to get federal assistance in maintaining its electronic, electrical equipment and visual aids.

But James T. Pyle, acting for Gen. E. R. Quesada, administrator of the FAA, wrote Sen. Beall that the agency has been able to reduce the number of such fields from 296 to less than 80 because of the increased number of municipal airports and because of greatly-increased range and reliability of present-day aircraft.

Pyle also said it was felt that federal funds are no longer required for support of emergency fields and although the federal government still pays for operation of lights at some fields and the entire upkeep of others, it is turning these over to states municipalities and counties as fast as the opportunity presents itself in the interest of economy.

The city had made its request after the FAA had sent out notices that aid applications for airfields should be submitted by September 1.

The city felt the local airport located in Wiley Ford should have the emergency status since it is located within reach of the metropolitan centers of Baltimore and Washington and is on scheduled air routes.

A Great Advance Or A Threat?

Most government officials and scientists have accepted the Russian claim to have fired a rocket that gained its target, the moon—although there are some prominent dissenters—so Soviet scientists must be credited with another stupendous achievement in space exploration. As might have been expected, the new feat has created much less interest than did the successful launching of Sputnik I by the Russians.

Obviously, the Soviet Union timed this shot to coincide with Premier Khrushchev's trip to the United States with the aim of making the biggest possible propaganda splash. But if the shot had missed, would the Russians have admitted it?

The implications of a successful moon shot are, after all, obvious to even a rank amateur in rocketry. A nation which can hit a bull's eye on a target 2,160 miles across at a range of 236,000 miles with an 858-pound bullet obviously has the know-how to fire a missile at almost any spot on earth with considerable accuracy.

U. S. experts calculate that an ICBM fired 5,000 miles with the same accuracy as the moon rocket would strike within 5½ miles of the center of the target. With a hydrogen bomb in the nose, this would be close enough for all practical purposes.

These are the cold facts. There is no point in closing our eyes to them. But Mr. Khrushchev has already found that Americans don't panic easily and neither are they ready to submit to rocket blackmail.

The Dalai Lama of Communist-conquered Tibet put it another way. The moon shot, he said, is wonderful. But "It will be still more wonderful," he added, "if that knowledge were to be used for the benefit of human beings."

Will it be, Mr. Khrushchev, or will it be used for their destruction?

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Khrushchev In Kansas

Khrushchev's program does not include Kansas where a large party of Russian Mennonites settled as far back as 1874. These Russians came from the steppes of south Russia and brought with them the seeds for "Turkey Red" wheat. Their story is told by Kendall Bailes in the August issue of "American Heritage."

As I read this article, I could not help thinking that it would be a wonderful experience for Krushchev to go to Kansas to meet the descendants of these immigrants who today are very different from their ancestors who came to America in search of religious freedom. They are no longer frightened people.

Khrushchev comes from a country which cannot accept religious freedom because it interferes with an old Russian adage, "One Czar, one religion, one language." It was the acceptance of this principle by Czar Alexander II which drove the German-speaking Mennonites from Russia to Kansas. In Kansas, they found religious freedom. They settled along the Santa Fe Railroad and no one has interfered with them since, except for a slight misunderstanding about Mennonite pacifism during World War I.

It would be a valuable experience for a man who had never lived in a system of freedom to see what can happen to men from his own country who settled in this land nine decades ago. Altogether 18,000 of them left Russia between 1873 and 1883. Of these, 10,000 went to Kansas, Nebraska and Dakota Territory —mostly to Kansas, however. About 8,000 immigrated to Manitoba in Canada.

In Washington, Khrushchev will meet officials; in New York, he will meet capitalistic tycoons. In Kansas, however, he could meet people whose ancestors were like his, farmers who toiled black soil and who believed in God. Now he can meet their children and grandchildren, English-speaking, looking like any other Americans anywhere, but worshipping God in their own way uncompromisingly. They have been among our most successful farmers and are honored and respected wherever they live.

It could be a novel experience for Khrushchev to meet such Americans. Of course, he can meet other kinds of ex-Russians in many parts of this country, even in New York. He can also meet some of the men and women who helped to make the Russian Revolution to which he is an heir. He did not participate in the initial battles, for he only joined the Communist Party in 1918. But he could sit down with Alexander Kerensky and discover what it took to break away from Czarism. He might hear first hand the story of the early struggles from some of the real revolutionaries who have taken refuge in this country.

Religious freedom is one of the most valuable assets of American life. In Soviet Russia it is not only non-existent but it is regarded as absurd. No person may be a member of the Communist Party unless he is an atheist which means that no God-fearing or God-loving person may hold high office in that country. This is regarded as a scientific view of life. The few religious buildings that remain are a compromise.

In this country, however, Khrushchev could discover, if he sought the facts, that religion plays a large role in the lives of the people. He may be surprised to learn that many American citizens are descendants of persons from countries behind the Iron Curtain and those Americans worship in churches, the creeds of which they brought with them from the fatherlands of their ancestors. In Detroit, Khrushchev might be taken to Hamtramck, to see a large settlement of Polish-speaking Americans. They are Roman Catholics. But if he read the store signs, he would see much to remind him of Warsaw.

In this country are many Lithuanians, Latvians, Esthonians, Czechs, Hungarians and all sorts of peoples from behind the Iron Curtain. Here we think of them as Americans. If they choose to retain relationships with others whose ancestors came from the same country or who have the same religious affiliation, that is their business. Nobody interferes with people over such matters. During World War I, there was some protest against what were called hyphenated Americans, as, for instance, German-Americans. But today, we recognize the rich traditions that many peoples have brought to this country, their religions, their ways of life, their associations.

Perhaps Khrushchev could not understand this.

How To Let The Russians Know How We Feel?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The moon is far away. So seemed the hearts of the people as they watched Soviet Premier Khrushchev when his car moved slowly through the streets of the National Capital. It was a dignified reception — as solemn as a funeral procession.

One couldn't help feeling sad and sorry and wondering why such a visit wasn't postponed until conditions were ripe for it. Khrsuhchev himself appeared friendly and somewhat bewildered. He knew the crowds were restrained. He must have felt the silence of the 200,000 who lined the thoroughfares.

There were some spectators, of course, who look upon the Soviet leader as a criminal, and there were others no doubt who know little of his background but regard him as a symbol of Communism — indeed, as a hostile symbol. It is difficult to show friendliness to a potential enemy. There has been nothing in recent months to indicate that the Soviet ruler will do anything constructive to advance the cause of peace — he was treated, therefore, with natural suspicion and distrust.

The entrance of Nikita Khrushchev to Washington, with all the fanfare and ceremony that is officially bestowed on a head of state, made an impressive picture. Kings and queens and foreign dignitaries have passed along the streets of Washington before, and the people here are not as demonstrative as in other cities. They are used to officialdom in Washington. But the people here do cheer. They do express themselves. They do smile, and they do show their enthusiasm in countless ways. But this time there was a strange mood of quiet acquiescence — a staring at the headline maker whose threats and boasts have been given front-page play in the press in recent years. Even President Eisenhower seemed grave and perhaps worried.

Maybe the Soviet Premier will be unable ever to interpret the curious reception he got. It was not artificially contrived. It was the spontaneous expression of people who feared that the man they were watching might someday push a button and start a world war.

Normally, when a head of state comes to Washington, the people here feel that, in honoring him or her, the tribute is also for the people of the foreign country who have sent their representative on a mission of friendship and good will. Many Washington people must have wished there were on this occasion some way to show the friendship felt in America for the people of the Soviet Union.

Mr. Khrushchev, of course, in his opening address at the airport, spoke about the friendship and good will be brought and managed to introduce a gibe about the Soviet achievement in hitting the moon. But, unfortunately for him, the same words are not as meaningful as when they come from a foreign visitor who is trusted and whose government has repeatedly manifested its friendship for the American people.

There have been times in the last 26 years since the United States extended formal recognition to the Soviet government when there might have been applause and outbursts of enthusiasm if the head of that government had visited Washington. Such a visit, for instance, during World War II might have been the occasion for cheers for an ally — for the people of Soviet Russia who were making supreme sacrifices for our common cause. But since 1945 the Soviets have steadily forfeited the respect of the American people. Even Mr. Khrushchev, in public speeches in 1956, had to denounce what happened during the Stalin regime, though everybody knows he himself played an influential part in some of the same acts of the Stalin government.

To attempt to present to the American people today the head of a government which has for the last 14 years broken pledges, dishonored its written agreements, and carried on acts of aggression and brutality in many countries of the world, is to ask that crime be ignored and applause be given to the man who is responsible for the continuance of the same kind of policies and programs in the Soviet Uuion today.

Nikita Khrushchev's mind dwells in a world of his own making — as far away from American ideals and the spirit of freedom as the distance to the moon. Only a miracle could transform him into a different being.

There are those who hope for such a miracle. The next 10 days could convey to the Soviet Premier some idea of what was really back of the coolness in the courteous reception he received here on Tuesday. If he begins to ponder what makes whole peoples distrustful, he will at least have made a start toward that better understanding which he claims to seek in the relations between the government of the Soviet Union and the American people.

Inside Washington

NINA PETROVNA — Remember that name, for you're going to read a lot about her in the next few weeks. She is the wife of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. She also represents a major shift in the behavior of Russian leaders.

Mrs. Khrushchev will accompany her husband on his tour of the United States, along with their son, two daughters and a son-in-law. She is one of the few wives of Soviet officials to emerge from the privacy of her home in many years.

American officials are jubilant over her coming. They hope she will see many things that her husband would miss or tend to discount — women as homemakers rather than laborers, well dressed, fed and housed; rearing their children in what to her eyes undoubtedly will be relative opulence.

Through her, the United States will have incomparable opportunity to show off hospital facilities, schools, recreation areas, all as the fruits of virile capitalism operating under political freedom.

"Never underestimate the power of a woman" is an old American slogan. It is not too far-fetched to hope that the real results of Khrushchev's tour will stem from what his wife sees and transmits to him as a wife and mother, rather than what he sees and hears as the hardened Communist realist he is.

GOP Sold Negroes Down The River To Buy Votes To Uphold Vetoes

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Shortly before Congress adjourned, Charlie Halleck, Republican of Indiana, was lying raw and naked on a rubdown table in the Burning Tree Club where Ike golfs. On the next table lay Sen. Tom Hennings, Democrat of Missouri.

"Tom, when are we going to get out of here?" asked Halleck from under a wet towel.

"I'm afraid to talk to you," drawled the Senator from Missouri. "I've been reading about you being a tough, relentless, gut-fighter, the President's leader in Congress. It didn't sound like the old Charlie Halleck I used to know in the House."

"When are we going to get out of here?" repeated Halleck undaunted by Hennings' kidding.

"Well, we're all tired of each other, and the country's tired of us," replied the Missouri Democrat. "We ought to give the country a rest and come back in the winter, but you're the President's leader, you're the tough gut-fighter. Why don't you do something about adjourning Congress?"

Reviewing Congress

Senator Hennings was not far off. His old friend Charlie Halleck had more to do with upholding the President's hand on a long string of vetoes and running circles around the good old 77-year-old Sam Rayburn than anyone else in Washington. And now that Congress has adjourned it might be well to take a brief moment from speculating over Nikita Khrushchev to figure how Charlie did it.

He did it by the simple expedient of promising 33 key southern Congressmen everything they wanted in the way of slapping down the Negro, if they in turn would slap down housing aid-to-education, rural electrification, a moderate labor bill, and anything else Eisenhower wanted defeated.

In return, the civil rights bill was blocked for weeks in the House Judiciary Committee. Halleck had the votes to bring it out at any time. The 11 Republicans on that committee have been almost completely loyal to him. But the Congressmen from the party of Abraham Lincoln threw their weight with southern Congressmen to water down the bill and hold it up for months. Even GOP Congressman Arch Moore, who represents a srong Negro district in northern West Virginia, went along with Halleck though it may defeat him.

As a result, even the Loser bill to try to prevent dynamiting of schools and places of worship got lost in committee. A southern Congressman, Carl Loser of Tennessee, introduced the anti-dynamiting bill, but failed to get northern support.

When Halleck faced a battery of newspaper questions on "Meet the Press," Sarah McClendon of the El Paso Times was the only one to goad Charlie on the ticklish question of the GOP-southern alliance. It's supposed to be the privilege of a diplomat and a politician to lie. Charlie smilingly and effectively exercised that privilege.

As he did so, his own party whips and the GOP Policy Committee members were having regular meetings with a carefully selected group of southern Congressmen in order to strengthen the coalition, which Charlie swore did not exist.

The key southerners they picked were: Frank Boykin of Alabama, E. C Gathings and Oren Harris of Arkansas, Syd Herlong of Florida, John Pilcher, E. L. Forrester, James Davis and Iris Blitch of Georgia, Otto Passman of Louisiana, John Williams and William Colmer of Mississippi, Graham Barden and Carl Durham of North Carolina, Mendel Rivers, John Riley, W. J. Dorn and John McMillan of South Carolina, O. C. Fisher of Texas, and Howard Smtih, Vaughan Gary, Watkins Abbitt, William Tuck and Burr Harrison of Virginia.

Other Congressmen joined the coalition at times. But this was the little group of regulars that Halleck could count on. This was why when the margin of votes was slipping against him during the veto fight over the public works bill, Halleck was able to get Herlong of Florida, a Democrat, to switch his vote in order to uphold the President.

Halleck's Risks

Despite Charlie Halleck's effectiveness, he took some risks. Chief risk is that northern Negro voters will wake up. Negro voters read the newspapers less than some other groups, but once they wake up they don't forget. And Halleck runs the grave risk of having the big bloc of Negro voters in northern cities who were beginning to lean Republican suddenly wake up to the fact that they were the goats of the 86th Congress.

They didn't know it at the time, but they were responsible for upholding the President's hand. And each time it was upheld, they were sold down the river.

For in addition to Negro interest in civil rights, Negroes need public housing perhaps more than any other group. They also need better schools. But each time these questions came up, Ike's leader in the House, Charlie Halleck, rallied Republican votes with the Dixicrats to block or defeat legislation.

Another risk Halleck took is industrial repercussions in the north. Some Republicans, as Silvio Conte (Mass.), William Cahill (N. J.), and John Lindsay (N. Y.), began openly bucking the Halleck leadership. Others didn't buck openly but worried privately. Many come from strong labor districts. Even more come from industial districts which will suffer from the migration of industry to the non-union South.

And the Landrum-Griffin bill which Halleck pushed through Congress is likely to start the biggest migration of northern industry southward that this country has ever seen. Halleck's home state, Indiana, lost six Democratic Congressmen last November, and he himself squeaked through by only 6,000 votes. So if more industry moves out of Indiana as a result of Halleck's "relentless, restless gut-fighting," some of his GOP friends wonder how many more Congressional seats their party will lose in the industrial North, including Indiana.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The sweet season is coming. This will be the best. The rivers flow quiet and cold and fat fish fracture the wet mirror. Wild ducks break bomber formation to come down in the tall reeds. The summer anger of the sun has mellowed and it comes up over the blue veils of morning mist to give the milkman a long shadow. It is a time for sleeping.

The breeze is cool and it sweeps the leaves into little whirling bowls of cornflakes. The pheasant cock scratches the ground, ruffles his feathers, and begins his mating dance for a speckled hen who sits on the nest, watching and blinking and thinking. A cat digs her paws into a rug, and pulls against them in a long stretch, stares balefully at the world through yellow eyes, and dozes.

Cellars and attics are cleaned out, and debris sits on top of the refuse cans at the curb. A girl going out on a date is told by her mother: "Better wear a coat." From kindergarten, the first little drawings are brought home to mother. A man mows a lawn and mutters: "Positively the last time." From a window, an announcer says: "Carnegie Tech takes the kick on its own four, and runs it back to the nineteen."

The sea is quiet, digging its long green fingers into the scalp of sand on shore. Far out, a rutsy freight with spurious pride moves off the edge of the world. A big oak moans in the night wind because summer is gone and the long sleep is ahead. On a farm, the hounds sit quietly outside the kitchen, tails twitching, waiting for the man with the gun.

Across the Great Plains, miles and miles of gold wheat are cut and digested by big combines and corn shocks stand crisp in death. A talior dry cleans a topcoat and tries to match a button. Crisp criss-cross curtains go up behind windows. The oil man leaves the first bill of the season in the mail box. Near the breakfast table, school bus tickets and sandwiches wait on the drainboard for a child who doesn't want to get out of bed.

Little huts in the mountains are boarded up. A rowboat, pulled up from the edge of a lake, lies upside down. At the shore, sea gulls walk miles of beach alone, pecking for baby crabs in the sand. For days the sky is deep blue and cloudless. The air has a clear sparkle to it and the odor of burning leaves supplies the perfume of autumn.

The good shows are back on television and the teen agers demand to know why they can't stay up until eleven. The man at the filling station says that the car could stand a tuneup. When daylight saving goes out, everyone asks: "Do I turn the clock back or forward?" The news commentators warn us about hurricanes that are a thousand miles away and die there.

A round orange moon grins down at a country dance. On a hayride, a laughing girl looks up seriously at a boy chewing on straw and murmurs: "Don't say that unless you mean it." Birds fly south and a hint of honeysuckle hangs in the air. Church steeples hold crosses against the clear sky and a little girl puts on her Doctor Denton nighties and forgets to shut the trap door.

An old lady sits on a rocker in a home and she squints as she watches one more season die. Soon, she too will go, and she no longer minds because she has seen all this so many times. An infant draws his tiny knees up as the hunger pain hits him and he wails for service.

A teen ager on a phone says: "I'd like to, but my mother says I have to wash all the windows. Outside." On Broadway, the big shows stage their opening nights, nights when the show on the sidewalk is better than the one on the stage.

In the deep woods, the colors make drunk the eyes. It is a season of plumage and death. The sweet season . . .

Allergy Patients' Reactions Differ Greatly

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Allergies affect different people in different ways. The relationship between dust and asthma is well known and the same can be said of ragweed pollen and hay fever. Babies who are allergic to milk develop asthma; hives is the reaction of persons sensitive to strawberries or tomatoes. In these instances, the adverse effects are noted in the lungs, nose, or skin.

No one knows why John's allergy crops out in the lungs as asthma whereas Tom's nose is the target when the hay fever season rolls around Some cases of deafness, stomach ache, canker sores, diarrhea, as well as certain eye afflictions and emotional upheavals, have been traced to allergies.

The latest to come to my attention is a disturbance of the bladder arising from a food allergy. The victim was a 45-year-old woman who had been bothered by hay fever and asthma since age 17. For more than 10 years she had encountered bouts of urinary burning, bladder spasms, and frequency.

These attacks usually came on about once a week and were associated with a rash on the face and hands. All of the usual tests for bladder and kidney diease were normal. Food tests showed a strong positive reaction to cabbage, peanuts, soybeans, and filberts. Her physician suggested that she avoid cabbage, nuts, and all members of the pea family. She improved immediately.

Bedwetting in children also has been blamed on food allergy but this is a rare cause. Dr. Harry Swartz tells of an allergist who bleeds from the urinary tract every time he eats foods that contain the slightest trace of cane sugar.

A Brooklyn dermatologist described an itching eruption on the hands of a 4-year-oid who was a hula hoop addict. Tests showed she was allergic to the plastic material used in the gadget. The eruption subsided after she switched to an aluminum hula hoop.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send a leaflet on allergy if stamped, addressed envelope accompanies request).

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

One of the reasons Jack Benny stays at the top in the turbulent TV world year after year is his infectious enthusiasm and obvious enjoyment of his work. His wife Mary reveals that Jack's gusto carries over into the most minute facets of his home life.

One day, sunning himself beside his Palm Springs swimming pool, he suddenly pulled George Burns to his feet and urged, "I've got to show you something sensational upstairs in my dressing room." Burns expected the blueprint of a new space ship at least — but Benny whipped out a pair of sport shoes. "Admit it," he declared happily. "Isn't that the greatest shine you ever saw?"

Poem composed by a weary Arizona taxpayer: "Rock-a-bye, baby, why do you fret? Are you aware of the national debt? Father has gone 'round the corner to vote millions in bonds that his snookums will tote. Are you suspicious? Sleep while you can. You will squirm later, dear, when you're a man."

FRACTURES

Mrs. T. writes: Did you ever hear of a child being born with broken bones?

REPLY

Yes. In osteogenesis imperfecta congenita, the bones are so brittle they may be fractured while the mother is still carrying the child. As a result, the baby is born with deformities of the bones.

FASTING AND FAT

R. E. writes: Would fasting for one week lower the blood cholesterol?

REPLY

Yes, but not as much as you think because the body manufactures cholesterol right along, regardless of what is eaten. There even is a possibility that the level might rise as a result of burning up reserve body tissues that contain cholesterol.

LUNG INFECTION

W. A. writes: Is pneumonitis serious?

REPLY

Yes, especially when caused by micro-organisms that do not respond to the sulfonamides or antibiotics such as penicillin. Pneumonitis is not as serious as pneumonia but the two conditions are so closely related, they are difficult to distinguish from each other.

FREE COUNTRY

W. J. writes: Can a person go to a psychiatrist on his own or does he have to be referred by a physician?

REPLY

Take your choice. Medicine is still under the free enterprise system.

CONCEPTION IS POSSIBLE

G. S. writes: Can a woman conceive if she has all her pelvic organs except a fraction of one ovary?

REPLY

Yes, provided she is the right age.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: Our six-year son has a habit of taking things from neighbors. He gets into their homes under the pretext of using the bathroom, then helps himself to small objects. He shows me (rather proudly) what he took and tells me where he got it.

I always insist he go back to the house and leave the stolen object somewhere.

I've tried to explain he shouldn't take things but he seems to be getting worse instead of better. What shall I do? — WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You are fostering this boy's thievery by making a game of it. The next time he steals something make him take it back and HAND IT TO THE WOMAN with his apologies. And go with him to make sure he does it just this way.

Many youngsters go through the light-fingered stage. With proper parental guidance they normally stop as they get older.

It's a form of collusion when you permit the boy to sneak the stolen object back into the home. He can't see the difference between sneaking it out and sneaking it in. This could become a dangerous practice and I hope you'll put an end to it at once.

DEAR ANN: My wife says I'm a case for a psychiatrist. Before I head for the couch I'd like your opinion.

I'm an incurable romanticist. My wife and I both work. I get home before she does. It's fun to fix cocktails, turn the hi fi on, and prepare a romantic setting.

The minute she comes in she removes her make-up, gets into a shabby bathrobe and says "I'm exhausted!" When I suggest she put on a nice house coat (I've bought her several) and comb her hair she says, "What for? To sit around with a nut like you?"

She's in a high-style business and looks like a fashion model every day. Is it asking too much for her to look presentable for me? Whenever I bring up this subject she says, "Boy, you need help." Do I, Ann Landers? — PSYCHO

DEAR PSYCHO: It could be that SHE needs help. I don't buy the idea that a wife should wear her stand-up girdle and sit-down shoes 18 hours a day. But if she insists on pouring ice water on her husband's romantic moods, and makes him feel like a psycho because he thinks she's still a knock-out — she's asking for trouble.

DEAR ANN: I've been going with a fellow for two years. He's 27 and I'm 5 years younger. The big trouble is he was married and has a little girl he's crazy about.

He tells me his ex-wife means nothing to him, yet he seems to wind up over at her house every time he gets the chance. Whenever he's late (two hours or more) and I ask what delayed him he says he stopped by to see his little girl. I'm beginning to think it's BOTH girls he's stopping to see, but I can't prove it.

I have a wonderful job and could get a transfer to any state in the country. My mother thinks I should leave town and forget this fellow. I love him and I'd marry him tomorrow if he'd say the word. What's your advice? — LADY BUG

DEAR LADY BUG: Fly away.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

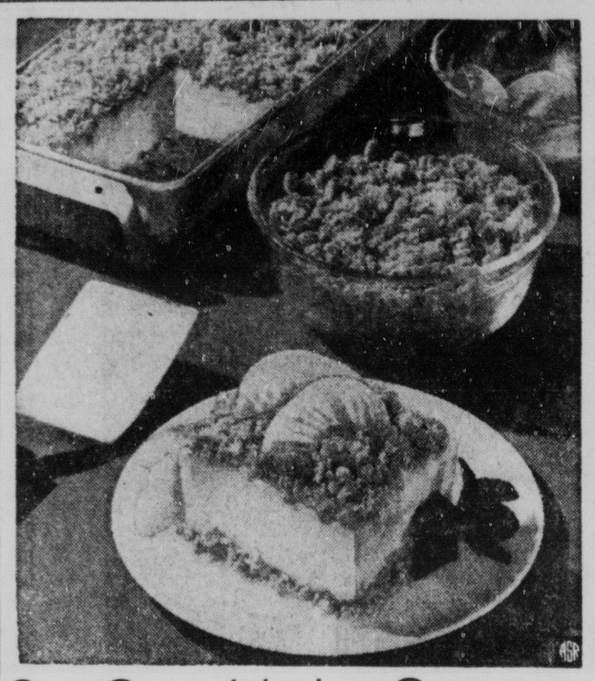
Yield: 4 Chicken-Mushroom Souffle Sandwiches.



Oat Crumble Ice Cream

Hot weather cooks will like the speed and ease of preparing Oat Crumble Ice Cream Dessert. It's so easy to make and requires no baking. Melted butter, brown sugar, and rolled oats are combined in a fry pan over low heat until thoroughly mixed. (An electric fry pan is excellent for this recipe.) This mixture is then spread in a very thin layer on a buttered baking sheet or waxed paper, cooled, and mashed into fine crumbs ready to use. The Oat Crumble can be made ahead of time and stored in an air-tight container for future use. In addition to making the refrigerator dessert pictured above, it makes an excellent topping for ice cream or puddings. The ingredient use of breakfast cereals makes contributions of protein, valuable B vitamins, essential minerals, and food energy.

Oat Crumble Ice Cream Dessert

(Oat Crumble)
⅓ cup butter or margarine
1¼ cups light brown sugar
Dash of salt
1 cup rolled oats, quick or regular

Melt butter or margarine in large fry pan over low heat. Add sugar and stir until sugar is melted. Stir in salt and rolled oats. Cook, stirring constantly, over low heat until thoroughly mixed. Spread out very thin onto buttered baking sheet or waxed paper. Cool. Mash into fine crumbs. Yield: About 2 cups crumbs.

(Ice Cream Dessert)
2 cups oat crumble
2 quarts vanilla ice cream, softened

Sprinkle ½ cup fine oat crumbs evenly over bottoms of 2 refrigerator ice cube trays. Spread softened ice cream over crumbs. Sprinkle tops with remaining crumbs. Return to freezer until frozen. Yield: 12 servings.

Minced Ham Pinwheels

1 can minced ham
1 chopped hard-cooked egg
1 teaspoon pickle relish
Enough mayonnaise to moisten

Mix ingredients above. Remove crusts from a loaf of fresh bread; cut into ¼-inch slices lengthwise; spread with mixture. Roll, wrap in heavy waxed paper. Place in refrigerator for at least ½ hour. Cut in thin crosswise slices.

Try This Peanut-Banana Chiffon Pie

Some crust! Outside the kitchen that saying may not be a compliment but to a pie-maker, it's high praise. Pie crust draws the line between the "pro" and the beginner in the pastry-making department.

There are tricks to all trades, however, and beginners are equal to "pros" when it comes to making crumb crust for pies.

Peanut butter mixed with graham crackers and honey is one of the favorite crumb crusts. It's "easy as pie" to make and it's especially good in summer when refrigerator pies are the order of the day.

The filling for peanut-graham crust? Banana lemon chiffon—light as a cloud. Lemon flavored gelatin, whipped to a froth; whipped evaporated milk (or whipped cream), mashed bananas and lemon juice are combined and poured into the crust. When the filling is firm, garnish with crushed peanut brittle.

Peanut-Graham Cracker Crust

Blend ½ cup creamy style peanut butter with 2 tablespoons honey; combine with ¾ cup graham cracker crumbs; blend thoroughly. Pour mixture into greased 9-inch pie pan and press firmly against bottom and sides of pan. (An easy way to press crumbs into shape is by using an 8-inch pie plate.) Bake in 325 degree oven, 10 minutes. Cool and chill in refrigerator until set—at least 2 hours. Add filling.

Lemon-Banana Chiffon Filling

Open one 6 ounce can evaporated milk and pour into mixing bowl. Place in freezing compartment of refrigerator and chill until ice crystals form around edge of bowl. Meanwhile dissolve 1 package lemon flavored gelatin in ¾ cup hot water. Refrigerate. When cool and partially set (about the consistency of unbeaten egg white) whip with rotary beater or electric mixer until fluffy. Whip milk until stiff, add a dash of salt and fold in the gelatin. Add 1 cup mashed bananas, ¼ cup lemon juice and ½ cup powdered sugar. Pour into chilled pie shell and refrigerate until firm. Before serving sprinkle top of pie with crushed peanut brittle. Makes one 9-inch pie or enough for 8 servings. (If 1 cup whipping cream is used, instead of milk, do not add salt.)

Fudge Pie Filling is delicious in Peanut-Graham Cracker Crust, also. Here's the recipe:

Fudge Pie Filling

1½ cups graham cracker crumbs
14-oz. can condensed milk
½ cup chopped peanuts
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler; combine with remaining ingredients. Spread mixture into chilled crumb crust. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees for 30 minutes. Serves 8 to 10—very rich.

Variations for Peanut-Graham Cracker Crust:

Blend ½ cup peanut butter with 2 tablespoons honey and 1⅓ cups old fashioned gingersnap crumbs; pour into 9-inch pie plate, press firmly into shape; bake in 325 degree oven for 10 minutes; chill before adding filling.

Blend 1 cup graham cracker crumbs with ¼ cup butter and ¼ cup sugar; add ½ cup each finely chopped peanuts and dates. Press mixture into 9-inch pie plate; bake in 325 degree oven 10 minutes, chill well and fill with quick lemon meringue filling.

Lamb, Celery, Cheese Are Peppy Trio

If you're looking for simplicity in meal preparation, here is a recipe easy as A-B-C. You might describe it as Lamburgers but the actual recipe name is Cheese 'n Celery Lamb Patties.

If the children in your house hold favor ground meat dishes, here is your opportunity to score 100 per cent in the eyes of these critical food judges.

Ground lamb is an imaginative way to introduce more lamb into the weekly menu plans. Certainly for summer mealtime plans, this recipe will act as a real incentive to the waning appetites of children.

Seasonings, celery seed and catchup combine with the ground lamb to make perfectly flavored patties ready for the broiler. Grated cheddar cheese is added just long enough before the end of cooking time to give the patties a frosted appearance.

Cheese 'n Celery Lamb Patties

1 pound ground lamb
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon celery seed
¼ cup catchup
¼ cup grated cheddar cheese

Combine lamb, salt, pepper, celery seed and catchup. Shape into 4 patties about ¾ inch thick. Place on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan so that the top surface of meat is 2 to 3 inches from the heat. Broil until brown on first side, about 8 minutes. Turn, broil second side 3 to 4 minutes. Sprinkle grated cheese on patties and continue broiling 1 to 2 minutes, or until cheese is melted. Yield: 4 servings.

Open Faced Sardine, Swiss Cheese Sandwich

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 (3¼-ounce) can sardines, drained and chopped
6 slices Swiss cheese
6 slices enriched bread
6 circles green pepper
6 slices tomato

Melt butter in a skillet. Add onion and green pepper and saute until onions are tender. Add sardines and heat. Place a slice of Swiss cheese on each bread slice. Top with 3 tablespoons of the sardine mixture. Place a green pepper circle on top of the sardine mixture and a tomato slice in the green pepper circle. Top each sandwich with a tablespoon of mayonnaise.

Yield: 6 Open Faced Sardine-Swiss Cheese Sandwiches.

Frosty Tingler

2 cups apple juice
2 cups tomato juice
12 whole cloves
4 onion slices
1 teaspoon sugar
Few pieces basil
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Lemon slices

Combine apple juice, tomato juice, cloves, onion slices, sugar, basil and lemon juice. Heat. Strain. Serve chilled, garnished with lemon slices. Makes 4-6 servings.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Protect your rubber swimming cap when you store it for the winter. Wash thoroughly, dry and cover, inside and out, with talcum powder or corn starch. Then pack it away in a cool, dark place.

Scrambled Egg And Liver Sandwiches

2 slices bacon, chopped
½ cup (¼ pound) chopped liver
¼ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
Few grains cayenne
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
3 eggs, slightly-beaten
4 sandwich buns, split and toasted

Cook chopped bacon over low heat until lightly browned, stirring frequently. Add liver. Continue cooking until liver has lost its red color and just begins to brown, stirring to cook on all sides. Combine milk, salt, pepper, cayenne and green pepper with egg. Stir into bacon mixture and cook over medium heat until mixture just begins to set around edges. Fold edge of mixture into center with a spoon. Repeat until all of mixture is softly set. Serve in toasted buns.

Yield: 4 Scrambled Egg and Liver Sandwiches.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — In a 12-minute conversation with Yul Brynner who is in Paris, he openly admitted to me that there is a definite separation between him and Virginia Gilmore, his wife of many years. Yul told me he did not plan to marry again if he gets his freedom from Virginia.

Twelve minutes were all I was allowed because of the crowded overseas telephone circuits, but I must say Yul packed a lot of news into the phone. He told me he had spent the day with the high commissioners from Geneva, mapping out a world-wide trip to refugee camps which he will do for United Nations. In five days he starts traveling and will televise his findings in the camps for release in the United States at Thanksgiving time.

His next motion picture is "Winter Coffee" which he will make in London for Stanley Donen.

Certainly the plans of Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer sound as if they will be very busy for the next month. Audrey and Mel leave Saturday for Zurich, Switzerland, to attend the premiere of "The Nun's Story." In fact Audrey tells me she is booked for all the "Nun" premieres in Europe, including Stockholm, Copenhagen, Rome, Brussels and Amsterdam.

In Amsterdam there will be two premieres, one for the Red Cross and the other for the Veterans Refugee Fund. Audrey lived in Amsterdam as a little girl during Nazi occupation. At the Brussels opening, the newlyweds Prince Albert and Princess Paoli will be guests of honor.

The Ferrers return to Hollywood the middle of October when Mel will work with Dorothy Kingsley on "Nine Coaches Waiting," the movie he and Dorothy will coproduce.

While Eva Marie Saint's business representatives were trying to work out a schedule so she could do both "Exodus" and "Summer And Smoke," Eva Marie was working in her garden. She came to the telephone out of breath.

She is practically set for "Exodus," which means three months away from home. Eva Marie said she knew it would be a long time, but she still wants to do it. She's taking the two children and their nurse.

"What about leaving Jeffrey (Hayden, her husband)?" I asked. She said, "He'll be so busy working on 'Winesburg, Ohio' and 'Staccato,' the new TV series, that he won't have time to miss me. But he'll probably fly over to see us."

American audiences have had no chance to see Lex Barker since he and Lana Turner were divorced, and he went to live in Italy. Now he is coming back in "Tales Of The Vikings," Kirk Douglas' TV series. Lex just got under the gun in time to make the 39th segment.

He and his new wife went to Munich last week end to film the end of the "Viking" series, which will soon be released in this country. Some of Lex's Hollywood friends were shocked when he showed so little sympathy for Lana and her daughter Cheryl, at a time when they needed him.

I can't get excited over the arrival in our town of Brigitte Bardot's sister, Mijanou, who will be here in time to co-star with Mamie Van Doren in "Teacher Was a Sexpot" — what a horrible title! This will be Al Zugsmith's first for Allied Artists, and will precede "Confessions Of An Opium Eater."

Mijanou was to fly here in July for "The Private Lives Of Adam And Eve," but turned down the role when she learned her costume consisted mainly of fig leaves. Apparently she's more modest than Brigitte, who seems to find being clothed a great burden.

Samuel Goldwyn, known to fame as a producer, but whom I call the best exploitation man in Hollywood, takes off next week with his devoted Frances to be the guest of Anne and Henry Ford II at Grosse Point. By no accident, whatsoever, the Fords are sponsoring the Detroit premiere of "Porgy And Bess," just as later in October Mamie Eisenhower sponsors the Washington premiere on the 14th.

But it actually is all for charity and Sam tells me his Goldwyn Foundation, not a cent of which he keeps, will net millions to give away.

Randolph Co. Man Indicted In Shooting

ELKINS, W. Va. (UPI)—The Randolph County grand jury has indicted Denzil S. Cogar, 23, Ellamore, on a charge of manslaughter in the death last August 11 of James Lee Glendenning, 28, Belington.

Police said Cogar, in an alleged statement, had admitted emptying his .22 caliber rifle by pointing it out the window of his car and firing into the darkness down the road, apparently unaware there was anyone in the vicinity.

Water Meter Plan Adopted At Westernport

Property Owners Will Pay Costs

WESTERNPORT — The second and final reading of an amendment to Ordinance 10 was unanimously approved by the Mayor and Council Wednesday. When a water meter one inch or larger is installed, the property owners will be required to pay for the meter and the cost of installation.

Mrs. Edwin Ross and Mrs. Owen Lewis commended the Mayor and Council for putting blacktop on a portion of Ross Street, and asked that additional repairs to the street be made. They were told that shale will be put on the street and rolled in about two weeks.

Another delegation comprised of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stephens, Clarence W. Fazenbaker, Noah Wright, Harry Nesbitt, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Strong and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Broadwater asked that Riorden Street be improved. They were told that eight tons of blacktop will be laid and holes filled in.

Robert Martin, who resides outside the town limits, asked permission to "hook on" to the tank at the filtration plant to run water to his home. The tank contains water to backwash in the filtration plant. Officials took the matter under advisement.

Mayor Ray L. Wilt stated that Mrs. Jane Gardine asked that a 36-inch sewer be laid at the lower end of Ross Street.

West Virginia And Maryland Rated Even For Saturday

Three Friday Night College Games Listed

Purdue At UCLA, GWU Faces Detroit, Florida At Tulane

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press International

College football crashes into the sports scene this weekend with Purdue of the Big Ten a 12-point choice to whip U.C.L.A. in Friday night's big game at Los Angeles.

Louisiana State, last year's national champion, and many other major teams open their seasons Saturday. However, all Big Ten teams except Purdue plus Notre Dame, Oklahoma and Army won't begin play until the following weekend.

Coach Paul Dietzel's Louisiana State team is a 13½ point choice to defeat Rice of the Southwestern Conference at Baton Rouge, La. This game will be nationally televised (N.B.C.) at 4:45 p.m., e.d.t.

Purdue, rated by some observers the "dark horse" this year in the always-rugged Big Ten, will have an edge over U.C.L.A. in weight and experience. Fullback Bob Jarus is a key man in the Purdue backfield. U.C.L.A. also has a good fullback in Ray Smith and the team expects big things of Bill Kilmer, the tailback in Coach Bill Barnes' single wing.

Detroit, Florida Favored

In Friday night's other two top games, Detroit plays host to George Washington and Tulane entertains Florida. Detroit is favored by 10 points and Florida by seven.

Rice tackles a Louisiana State team that has most of the lettermen back from the 1958 squad that swept 10 regular season games and then shut out Clemson in the Sugar Bowl, 7-0. Coach Jess Neely's Rice team appears strongest in the line—the best place to be strong—where two brothers, Rufus and Boyd King, operate at guard and center.

The South, in particular, is dotted with interesting games Saturday because the big boys no longer open against small fry opponents.

Maryland of the Atlantic Coast Conference and West Virginia, defending Southern Conference champion, are rated even for their clash at College Park, Md.

Pitt Picked To Win

Duke is favored over South Carolina by one point, Georgia is picked over Alabama by the same slim margin, Kentucky and Georgia Tech are rated even, Virginia is a five-point choice over William and Mary, Wake Forest is a two-point favorite over Florida State and Virginia Tech is rated even with North Carolina State in other southern features.

Mississippi of the Southeastern Conference is a 13½ point favorite to win its Saturday night road game with the University of Houston. Arkansas is favored over Tulsa by 12 points, Texas A and M is favored over Texas Tech by 6½, Texas Christian is favored over Kansas by 15 and Oklahoma State is a six-point choice against Cincinnati in other games in the southwest. Texas of the Southwest Conference visits Nebraska and is an 11-point choice.

Oregon Is Choice

In western games Saturday, California is a one-point choice to beat Washington State, Oregon is favored over Stanford by four, Southern California is favored over Oregon State by 6½ and Washington is a five-point choice to defeat Colorado.

Most eastern schools do not play until next week but Navy, under new Coach Wayne Hardin, is a 12½ point favorite for its road game with Boston College. Pittsburgh invades the Midwest and is favored over Marquette by 14 while Penn State invades Columbia, Mo., to meet Missouri. The game is rated a tossup.

Johnson, Anthony To Fight Tonight

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — Alonzo Johnson, a replacement for Willie Pastrano in Friday night's nationally - televised bout at the Baltimore Coliseum, is a 7-5 choice to whip Tony Anthony in the 10-rounder.

Johnson, 26, was selected to replace Pastrano as Anthony's opponent after Pastrano injured a leg in training. Johnson could prove a more dangerous opponent for Anthony, who is ranked fifth among light heavyweights.

Ring Magazine recently boosted Johnson's stock by rating him the No. 10 heavyweight in the country on the strength of his upset victory over Nino Valdez in Madison Square Garden last May. Johnson followed up with another surprise by defeating Pastrano in Louisville, Ky.

Earned 12 Letters

Pirates Trim St. Louis, 7-0

Haddix Wins 12th, Hurls Four-Hitter

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Bill Virdon hit an inside-the-park home run and a double to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7-0 win over the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday night.

Pittsburgh lefty Harvey Haddix twirled a four-hitter to gain his 12th victory against 11 losses.

Virdon's blow and four of the Pirate runs came in the sixth as Don Hoak doubled and went to third later on a bad throw by third baseman Ken Boyer. Bill Mazeroski went to second on the play. Virdon then cleared the bases with his seventh homer.

Pittsburgh scored another on a walk and two singles before reliever Dean Stone retired the side.

Sloppy Cardinal defense gave the Pirates two more in the first.

Lindy McDaniel came in in the ninth for the Cardinals. It was his 59th appearance in relief this year, tying a club record for right handed pitchers.

St. Louis	000 000 000—	0 4 3

Terra Alta Tops Northern, 20-0

Terra Alta High School of Preston county defeated Northern High School of Accident, last night at Kingwood by the score of 20-0.

The loss was the second straight for the Garrett County gridders who dropped a 20-6 decision to Meyersdale, Pa., last weekend.

Terra Alta is now 2-1 for the season, having beaten Clay-Battelle and Northern and lost to Petersburg.

Leo Durocher Quits TV Job For Baseball

Expected To Join Cleveland Indians

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Leo Durocher Thursday quit his $65,000 a year job with NBC-TV to return to baseball as a manager, possibly with the Cleveland Indians.

Durocher, reached as he was about to board a jetliner for Pittsburgh, was reluctant to discuss a report he was going back to the game where he piloted the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants to championship years.

"Yes, it's true that I have notified NBC that I was not re-signing my contract which expires Oct. 1 but I have never told anyone that I was going back to baseball. I guess they were all right in assuming that.

"But I can't say anything because I'm in the midst of negotiation."

A reporter pressed him: "Is it baseball?"

"Yes," answered Durocher, "it's baseball."

"Is it the Cleveland Indians?" asked the reporter.

"I can't say anything about that," he answered.

A source close to Durocher at NBC told a reporter the Indians' General Manager Frank Lane approached Durocher six weeks ago to get him to take over the club in the American League stretch drive with the Chicago White Sox.

"Leo told Lane then that he couldn't break his contract with NBC but that he was interested in the job," the source added.

Rocky Is Humorist

Detroit Tigers teammates insist that shortstop Rocky Bridges must be rated among the top humorists in baseball.

One chuckle they credit to Bridges:

It seems the Tigers were journeying through the Florida countryside en route to an exhibition game last spring when their bus passed by an abandoned rural schoolhouse. The windows were shattered, the brick walls were crumbling, and the roof of the building was completely caved in.

"Looks as though someone must have flunked chemistry," Rocky commented quietly.

Beaglers Will Hold 4th Point Trial Saturday

The fourth in the annual series of six point trials will be held Saturday by the Allegany Beagle Club on the Barton Dairy Farm, McMullen Highway.

Hounds in the 13 inch class will be drawn at 8 p.m., while drawings for the 15 inch class will be made at 1 p.m.

Fred Kreiger, James Hinkle and William Partlow, of the local club, will be the judges.

Meals will be served at the club house.

Game Is Sold Out

WEST POINT, N.Y. (UPI) — The Penn State - Army football game, scheduled at West Point's Michie Stadium Oct. 10, has been sold out, it was announced Thursday by Col. Elliot W. Amick, business manager for the United States Military Academy.

The sale of the entire 27,000 seats some three weeks prior to a game marks the earliest sellout West Point officials could remember for a game here.

Ridgeley Legion Wins Rec League Title

Kenney Shuts Out Old Germans, 14-0; Morgan Has 5 RBIs

Ridgeley's American Legion tossers won the championship of the Men's Rec Softball League for the 1959 season by walloping the Old Germans yesterday at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 14-0.

The win gave the team managed by Don Decker and Al Decker a two-game sweep in the final series with the Old Germans. Ridgeley won the opening game on Wednesday by the score of 5-3.

Bill Kenney, the winningest pitcher in the 14-team circuit this year tossed a two-hitter yesterday and wound up the campaign with an overall record of 23 wins and six losses. John McVicker's single in the second inning and Jimmy Dunn's single in the third frame were the only hits yielded by Kenney over the 7-inning route. It was Kenney's second shutout victory of the season. Bill defeated the Old Germans thrice in four outings this season.

Kenney won 19 and lost five during the regular season and had a 4-1 record in the playoffs. Don Decker had a 2-0 record during the regular campaign.

Ridgeley scored in every inning but the fifth and collected 14 hits off "Pickles" Doolan in yesterday's contest. The Old Germans' pitching ace suffered his 7th loss against 18 victories.

Ed Barley sparked the Legion attack with a triple and three singles while Morgan Morgan hit safely thrice and batted in five runs. Kenney contributed a three-base clout.

Most of the players on the Ridgeley team this season were members of Kelly Local No. 26, league champions of 1958.

Ft. Hill Plays At Frederick, LaSalle Invades Morgantown

Cadets Host Sentinels In League Game

Both Won Openers; Explorers To Play St. Francis Trojans

The local stadium will be dark this weekend but Fort Hill High School's Sentinels will launch their Cumberland Valley Athletic League schedule with the Frederick High Cadets at Frederick and LaSalle's Explorers will journey to Morgantown, W.Va., to do battle with the St. Francis High School Trojans in football contests on tap for tonight.

Allegany High School, victorious last week over Beall by the score of 20-0 in the Mountain City, is idle this weekend but will swing into action again one week from tonight against North Hagerstown High School in the Hub City.

Fort Hill, undefeated since late in 1956, will be gunning for its fourth straight win over Frederick when it meets Jack Molesworth's Cadets in the home town of Barbara Frietchie.

In the past three seasons the Sentinels have rolled up 94 points while yielding only 21 in copping three in a row from the Cadets and are favored in tonight's league game, the first for both schools.

Both Copped Openers

Frederick kicked off the lid last week by whipping Howard County High at Ellicott City, 27-0, while Fort Hill trimmed LaSalle High's Explorers, 39-6. Fort Hill has gone undefeated in 21 consecutive games. This includes a tie contest with North Hagerstown last season. Frederick was 3-7-0 in 1958. This is Jack Molesworth's third year at the helm. Charley Lattimer made his debut as Fort Hill mentor last week.

Fort Hill tied North Hagerstown for the CVAL title last year, each school having won five games and played one tie. In three years of competition in the CVAL Fort Hill won the title outright in 1957, tied Hagerstown High for first place in 1956 and deadlocked North Hagerstown for the crown last year. The Sentinels own a 16-1-1 record in the league.

Trojans Host LaSalle

Coach Don Harden's LaSalle Explorers play their initial road game tonight at Morgantown against Coach Sam Barberio's Trojans who have won their first two outings, beating Lumberport, 19-6, and Mountaineer High of Thomas, 20-6.

LaSalle never has beaten St. Francis on the gridiron. The schools have not met since 1955 and in four meetings the Trojans have won twice and played one tie game.

In another CVAL game on tap for tonight, Herb Ruby's Westminster High School Owls tackle Mel Henry's North Hagerstown High gridders in the Hub City. The co-champions of 1958 battled York, Pa., to a scoreless tie last week while Westminster trimmed Gettysburg, 12-6.

Saturday night, Martinsburg and South Hagerstown's Rebels open their CVAL schedules in the Hub City.

A GOOD SIGN — An outstanding player in American Legion baseball, Darrell Farrar, 17-year-old former Pomona High star, has been signed to a bonus contract by the Boston Red Sox. Farrar, an outfielder, hit over .500 in Legion ball. He will report to Raleigh, N. C., in the Class B loop.

Phillies Beat Chicago, 5-2

598 Chilled Fans See Roberts Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Playing before 598 chilled fans, one of the smallest Wrigley Field crowds in memory, the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 behind the six-hit pitching of Robin Roberts.

It was Robert' fourth triumph in a row, balancing his 1959 record at 15-15.

Two of the hits off Roberts were homers, Irv Noren's fourth and Ernie Banks' 42nd which gave the Chicago shortstop his No. 137 run batted in.

Richie Ashburn, the Phillies' 32-year-old center-fielder, clubbed three singles in his first three times at bat to tie a 58-year-old club record of 2,211 hits. The old mark was set by Ed Delahanty in 1901.

The three hits gave Ashburn a total of 144 hits in 146 games this season. After he walked in the sixth, Manager Eddie Sawyer withdrew Richie from the game and refused to play him again until the Phillies return home Saturday night to play Milwaukee. This will provide him a chance to break Delahanty's mark before Philadelphia fans.

Campbell, Martin Second With 68s

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Doug Ford of Clearwater, Fla., shot a sparkling seven-under-par 65 Thursday to take a three-stroke lead in the first round in the $20,000 El Paso Open golf tourney.

Joe Campbell, Knoxville, Tenn., and Iverson Martin, El Paso, each shot 68 to tie for second place.

Ford sank a 12-foot putt on the first hole to get off to a birdie start. He made a five-footer on number 3 to go two under par on the first three holes. He sank another 12-footer on number 9 for still another birdie.

On the 16th and 17th holes, he made four foot putts for birdies and curved in a 13-footer to mark up his seventh birdie on the 18th.

Keyser High Puts 25-Game Win Streak On Line Today

Clarkmen Entertain Beall In Latter's Conference Debut

Coach Jerry Calhoun's Beall High School Mountaineers make their debut in the Potomac Valley Conference when they tangle with Keyser High School's co-champions of 1958 today at 1:30 p. m. (D.S.T.) at Keyser.

Last season Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark's team shared the PVC crown with the West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romney. Keyser was 5-0 and the Lions were 4-0 for the league season.

Prior to last year KHS had won the crown outright four years in a row and today the Mineral Countians will be putting a 25-game winning streak on the line. The Clarkmen have not lost a PVC game since 1953.

Since Beall revived football in 1946 the Mountaineers have met Keyser ten times and trail in victories scored, seven to three.

Charles Town and Parsons cancelled on Keyser and today's game will be the season opener for the West Virginians. Beall lost its opener to Allegany High by the score of 20-0.

Four Other PVC Tilts

Four other P.V.C. games are on tap for Friday afternoon.

Coach Tom O'Connor's Ridgeley Blackhawks will be angling for win No. 2 when they journey to Berkeley Springs to tackle Allen Goldstrom's Indians, Ed Hartman's Romney Pioneers will play host to the Panthers of Franklin High, Moorefield tackles Wayne Barr's Petersburg Vikings at Petersburg and the West Virginia School for the Deaf, only unbeaten team in the tri-state area last season with an 8-0 mark, plays host to Southern High School of Oakland.

Ridgeley opened with a 26-0 victory over Circleville in the league opener for both schools last week. Berkeley Springs bowed to Hancock, 8-2, for its second loss of the season, Romney lost to Charles Town, 26-9 and Franklin was blanked by Green Bank, 35-0, Moorefield topped Southern of Oakland, 25-7 and Petersburg edged Terra Alta in Preston County, 7-6.

Hancock At Musselman

In other nearby West Virginia games billed today, Mountaineer of Thomas visits Belington and Hancock High visits the Applemen of Muselman High School.

Over in Pennsylvania, Bedford's Bisons, victorious over Everett last week, 20-7, tackle the Eagles at Somerset High tonight.

Colleges Open Saturday

Potomac State College opens its season Saturday night with West Virginia Wesleyan College at Buckhannon. This will be the first of six West Virginia Conference games for Coach Dana "Horse" Lough's Catamounts. Other games are with Glenville, Salem, Shepherd, Davis & Elkins and Concord. Potomac opens at home with Glenville, September 26.

Coach Jesse Riggleman's Shepherd College Rams invade Fairmont for a WVIC contest with the Fairmont State Falcons on Saturday. Shepherd will be playing its 25th game (14-8-1) under Riggleman who is starting his fourth season as head coach of the Rams. Shepherd opens at home Sept. 26 with Shippensburg (Pa.) State Teachers College.

San Francisco Belts Braves, 13-6, Takes 2-Game Lead

Willie Mays Leads Giants' 14-Hit Attack

Spahn Is Chased Early; Mathews Clouts 2 Homers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants, slugging monsters awakening from a hit lethargy, pounded six Milwaukee pitchers for 14 hits Thursday and a stunning 13-6 victory that boosted their league lead to two full games.

With World Series money in the air and only eight more games to play the rollicking young Giants:

1—Chased starter Warren Spahn from the game before he could get a man out. They scored three times in the first inning on four hits and a walk. Spahn pitched only 18 balls before he was lifted.

2—Watched Willie Mays get four hits in four official trips to the plate, including his 31st home run of the year, drive in five runs and score four.

3—Saw leadoff man Eddie Bressoud get three hits including his ninth home run and score four runs.

4—Witnessed Jim Davenport clout his ninth homer and drive in four runs.

San Francisco had an 8-0 lead after four innings and Milwaukee never was in the running.

All six of Milwaukee's runs were driven in by home runs and a sacrifice fly by Eddie Mathews. He clouted one homer off Giant starting pitcher Jack Sanford with two aboard in the fifth and hit another off Sanford with one man on in the seventh.

Compared with Wednesday's 2-0 masterpiece pitched by Lew Burdette for a Milwaukee victory, Thursday's game was a ragged affair. There were two errors by each team, a hit batsman and interference by a catcher.

Sanford, winning his 15th game of the year, was battered freely and gave up nine hits and five runs before he was lifted after seven innings.

Manager Fred Haney of Milwaukee, playing as if the World Series depended upon this game, never let a pitcher come up to hit. However, none of the six hurlers was effective against the rampaging Giants.

Cumberland Mutuel Handle In Hub City $57,429 Above 1958

Wagering for the first four days of the Cumberland Fair Association's race meeting at Hagerstown reached $784,890 yesterday and that's $57,429 more than was handled during the corresponding period last year at the Cumberland half mile oval.

The mutuel handle every day this week in the Hub City had exceeded that at the local half miler in 1958. The four-day total here last year was $727,461.

The fans wagered $199,656 on the eight races yesterday.

William Clark scored a triple for the fourth straight day when he registered yesterday with Luny ($4.00) in the first, Bunny L. ($21.20) in the second and Peter's Joy ($12.20) in the sixth. Clark is setting the pace with 12 winners in four days.

Coe Reaches Semi-Finals At Colorado

Nicklaus, Andrews, Wysong Advance

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—Gene Andrews, a middle-aged Californian, and Dud Wysong, a fuzzy - cheeked Texas youth, reached the semifinals of the National Amateur golf tournament Thursday along with favored Walker Cup stars Charlie Coe and Jackie Nicklaus.

Coe, the brilliant 35-year-old defending champion, defeated Ted Gleichmann of Saticoy, Calif., 4 and 3, in the rain Thursday morning and then edged his 43-year-old Walker Cup teammate, Bill Hyndman of Abington, Pa., 2 up, in a torrid afternoon duel — the most exciting of the tournament.

Jackie Nicklaus, 19 - year - old Ohio State junior from Columbus, Ohio, and Coe's teammate on the Walker Cup team, eliminated David Smith Jr., Gastonia, N.C., 1-up, in the fifth round and ousted 29-year-old Dick Yost, an insurance man from Portland, Ore., 2 and 1, in the afternoon quarterfinals.

Andrews, a 46-year-old insurance man from Whittier, Calif., won both matches by 1 up margins, eliminating Dee Replogle of Oklahoma City in the morning and Charlie Harrison of Atlanta, Ga., in the afternoon.

Wysong, a 20-year-old Dallas student who plans to attend North Texas State college this year, edged Tom Draper of Royal Oak, Mich., 1 up, and 50-year-old David (spec) Goldman of Dallas, 3 and 1.

Michigan State was undefeated in 44 home football games from 1903 to 1910.

Shenandoah Double Won By Northcutt

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP)—J. Frank Northcutt, leading rider at Charles Town, snapped out of a brief slump Thursday night completing his first double of the young meeting by turning in both ends of the Shenandoah Downs daily double.

A ladies night crowd estimated at 3,600 saw Northcutt bring the $17 winner Calico Creek out of the pack to win the first race and then win handily with Blenheim Time in the second to complete the $33.20 payoff. The victories were Northcutt's third and fourth of this meeting.

Blenheim Time, owned and trained by Northcutt's contract holder, George Stribling was the shortest priced winner of the meet, returning his backers $3, $2.20 and $2.20.

White Sox Hope To Twist Tail Of Tiger Into Flag Clincher

Detroit Will Open Three-Game Series In Chicago Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox rested Thursday, hoping to twist the tail of the Detroit Tigers into an American League pennant clinching this weekend.

The White Sox, holding a 5½ game lead over the wavering Cleveland Indians, meet the Tigers Friday night, Saturday and Sunday in a three-game series which could clinch the bunting.

Are the Pale Hose tense, trying as they are to win their first championship in 40 years?

"I think I'm the only tense man on the squad," said Manager Al Lopez. "The attitude of the players is to play each game as it comes up. Me, I'm worried about shutting the gate as soon as possible.

"I have to say this, though, as unusual as it might seem, I slept better last night—despite our 3-1 loss in New York—than I have for a long while. Maybe, it was the cool weather."

Maybe, also, it was the fact that Cleveland also lost Wednesday to Boston 6-5 to reduce the magic number for the White Sox to three.

The White Sox can clinch the pennant by sweeping all three games from Detroit. They also can stow away the title by Saturday with victories in the first two games against Detroit provided Cleveland loses once to Kansas City in a three-game set which also begins Friday.

Two daughters of the great Nashua are among the fillies nominated for the $100,000 guaranteed Sorority at Monmouth Park next season.

Thieves Cut Cable

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—Thieves apparently seeking lead and copper cut the South Africa-Australia cable this week and disrupted service for 48 hours. But they worked in vain—neither of these valuable metals is to be found in the cable, authorities said. Service is routed via Zanzibar and London until low water permits repairs.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT.	2 ♥
3 ♣	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♥.

A slight lack of economy in the management of the trump suit proved fatal to declarer today.

The bidding was enterprising, but the final contract of four spades was reasonable. West opened the queen of hearts which was ducked all around. The suit was continued and ruffed by declarer, who thought it discreet to draw trumps at once. He, therefore, led a low spade and played the ten from dummy, which East gathered in with the king. A heart was returned, and declarer ruffed with the jack. Had West overruffed, declarer would have brought in the hand; for on regaining the lead he could have drawn both remaining trumps with his queen and cashed all his high cards. But West properly refused to ruff because by making a discard he retained ace-nine as a tenace over declarer's queen-four and could not be prevented from winning two trump tricks.

Declarer had handled his trump assets rather wastefully. East's heart bid should have alerted him to the danger of an overruff in that suit, and he should arrange to give as much protection as possible to his spade honors.

Upon winning the second trick, South's best play was to enter dummy by overtaking the jack of diamonds with the queen and lead the low spade from dummy through East. East will play low, and South's jack forces the ace.

West will presumably get out with a diamond. South then enters dummy with a club to lead another low spade, not the ten. East will win with the king and return another heart. Having conserved the ten of spades in dummy, declarer can now afford to ruff with the queen of spades, and the ten in dummy draws West's remaining trump.

Teen-Age Bigamists

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Two Scottish teen-agers were found guilty Thursday of bigamy. Robert Burgess, 19, and Mary Lynch, 18, admitted they were already married to two other people when they went through a ceremony April 24. Burgess was sentenced to three weeks in jail. Mrs. Lynch, the mother of a year-old child by her legal marriage, was let off with a reprimand.

Revenue Of Area Railroad Affected By Steel Strike

The steel strike is affecting the revenues of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and the Western Maryland Railway.

The Baltimore and Ohio succeeded in keeping slightly in the black during August despite a traffic slide caused by the steel strike.

Howard E. Simpson, president, announced that the railroad had a net income of $240,000 last month.

However, this was a drastic decline compared with a net income of $1,740,00 realized in August last year. The road earned $806,000 in July and prior to the strike turned in a net of $2,513,000 for June. Its best monthly profit this year was $3,283,000 marked up for May.

For the first eight months of 1959, Simpson said, the B&O had a net income of $10,989,000, which was not far from the net figure of $11,042,000 for the similar 1958 period.

While the steel work stoppage was mainly responsible for the continued serious decline in revenues and carloadings, another contributing factor was the shutdown of many industrial plants for inventories and vacations, according to the B& O president.

Simpson said operating revenues for the first eight months of this year came to about $266,632,000, up 6.21 per cent compared with the corresponding period of 1958.

Reflecting the drop in freight traffic caused by the steel strike, the Western Maryland Railway dipped into the red to the extent of $3,000 in August.

This was the first monthly loss incurred by the railroad since February, 1950, when it had a deficit of $31,000 incident to a bituminous coal work stoppage.

For August last year the road had a net income of $472,000.

Gross operating revenues last month fell to $2,564,000 from $3,693,000 a year earlier. Coal freight revenues were down only moderately to $808,000 from $999,000 in 1958. Other freight receipts, hit directly by the steel shutdown, fell to $1,579,000 from $2,517,000.

For the first eight months of 1959 the Western Maryland had a net income of $4,547,000 or $6.19 a common share, well ahead of $3,438,000 or $4.60 a share for the corresponding 1958 period.

Gross operating revenues for eight months totaled $31,747,000, up $2,630,000 from a year ago.

Coal freight revenues for the January 1 to August 31 period totaled $11,348,000 against $11,135,000 in 1958. Other freight brought in $19,179,000 versus $16,460,000 a year earlier.

In memory of our dear daughter and sister, Zorka Krnaya, who passed away 15 years ago, September 18, 1944.
September brings sad memories,
Of a loved one gone to rest.
She will never be forgotten,
By the ones who loved her best.
We often look at her picture,
Smiling and she seems to say,
Don't grieve I'm only sleeping,
Will see you all some day.

Montreal Seeks Berth In Third Major League

NEW YORK (UPI) — Montreal Thursday made what Branch Rickey called an "impressive" formal application for a franchise in the new third major league, the Continental League.

Three franchises are open in the new circuit, which plans to begin play in 1961. The founding members of the league are New York, Houston, Minneapolis - St. Paul, Denver and Toronto.

Four Montreal representatives met with Rickey, 77-year-old president of the Continental League, and William A. Shea, chairman of the mayor's committee of New York and one of the league's founders.

The Montreal group outlined plans for a new stadium which would seat 45,000 and would have parking space for 10,000 automobiles. The group previously had presented Rickey and Shea with complete information on its contemplated plans and organization.

Ground Is Broken For Dodgers' Park

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The long fight over Chavez Ravine as the site of the Los Angeles Dodgers ball park passed another point Thursday when ground was broken for the proposed $12,000,000 plant.

The public had been invited to attend the formal ceremony but Dodger officials privately wondered whether many people would show up.

They need not have worried. Upward of 5,000 turned out and the roads in and out of the isolate, brush covered hill country within a few minutes of downtown Los Angeles were clogged by traffic.

Two Men Die In Auto Crash

Car Hits Culvert On Route 55

Two Frostburg men were killed yesterday evening in a spectacular one-car crash on the Vale Summit Road (Maryland Route 55) between Midland and U.S. Route 40 at Clarysville.

State Police identified the victims as Robert D. Seifarth, 40, of 118 McCulloh Street, Frostburg, and Frederick James Rankin, 32, of RD 2, Frostburg.

Police were unable to determine who was driving the car, which apparently was traveling at a high rate of speed at the time of the accident (5:50 p. m.)

Police said the two-door hardtop was traveling east on Route 55 in the direction of Vale Summit. The driver, in attempting to negotiate a slight left turn, lost control of the car, which ran off the shoulder and traveled along a gutter for about 300 feet.

Hits Culvert, Overturns

The vehicle then rammed into a culvert, turned end over end, and after traveling about 75 feet, came to a stop about 20 yards to the left of the highway.

Trooper Joseph Helmstetter said there were no witnesses to the accident, and it is not known who was driving.

The left front of the car got the full impact as it struck the culvert. Mr. Rankin's body was found lying about 20 feet from the car and Mr. Seifarth's body was partially extending from the passenger side of the front seat.

Firemen from Clarysville were called to the scene when it was learned that gasoline was leaking from the wreckage. However, there was no fire.

The accident occurred about one and a half miles west of Vale Summit.

Mr. Rankin, who was 32 years old Wednesday, had formerly worked at the Moose Home in Frostburg. He was a son of Mrs. Mabel (Gordon) Rankin of Borden Mine, and the late James Rankin.

Besides his mother, Mr. Rankin is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elvie (Wampler) Rankin, Vale Summit; two children, Wanda, 9, and William, five; two brothers, John Rankin, Frostburg, and Robert Rankin, at home; four sisters, Mrs. John Albright, Loartown; Mrs. Ronald Moran, Frostburg; Mrs. William Folk, Borden Mine; Miss Ida Rankin, at home.

He was a veteran of World War II.

His body will be at the Durst Funeral Home in Frostburg after 7 p. m. today. Friends will be received from 7 to 9 p. m. today and from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. tomorrow.

Construction Worker

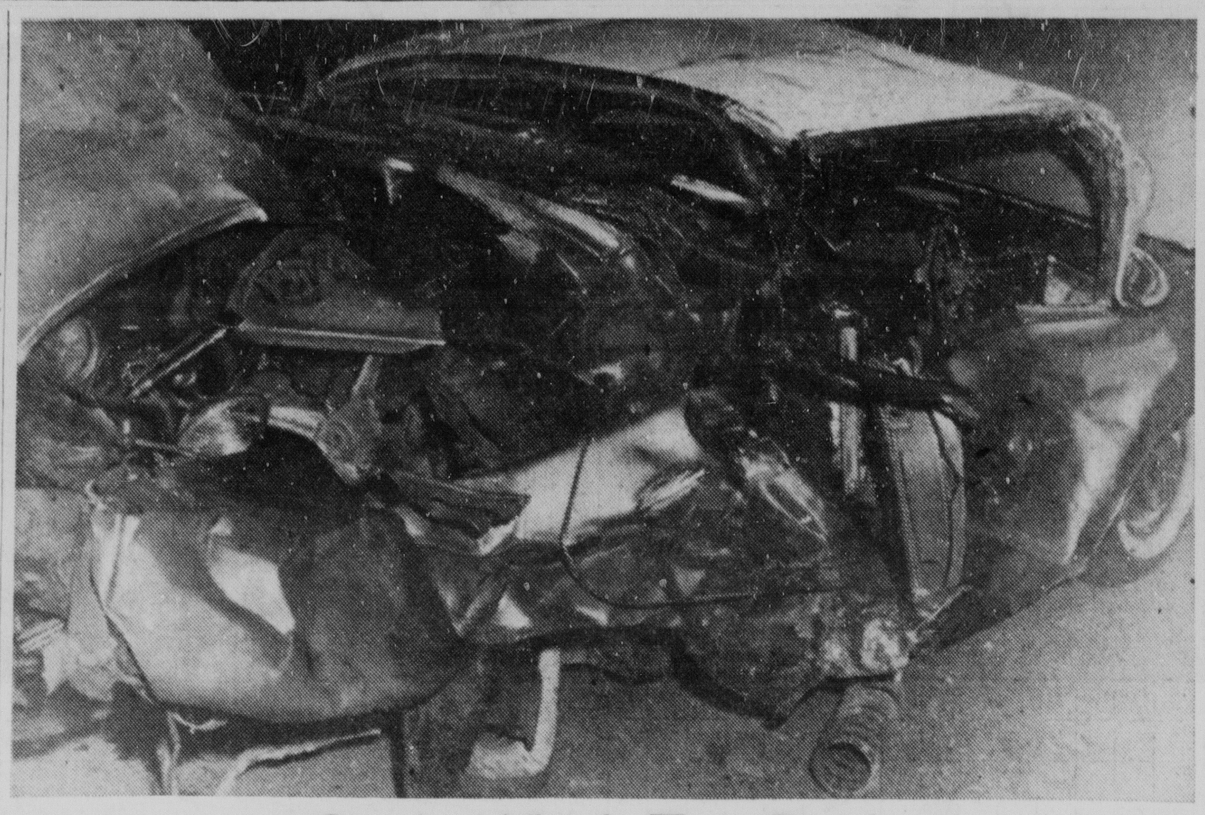
Mr. Seifarth, who was a construction worker, had been working on the Thomas G. Pullen Laboratory School at Frostburg State Teachers College.

He was born at Frostburg on March 30, 1919 and was a son of Andrew Seifarth and the late Mrs. Ruth (Walsh) Seifarth. Besides his father, he is survived by his wife, Edith Seifarth; a son, Robert Seifarth, 12, a daughter, Roberta Ann Seifarth, by a former marriage.

Also surviving are two brothers, Cecil Seifarth of Frostburg; Clifford Seifarth, address unknown; two sisters, Mrs. Roy McDonough, Beaver, Pa. and Mrs. James Meagher, Fairgo.

He also was a veteran of World War II. He was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and of Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church and Iron Workers Local 568.

The body is at the Durst Funeral Home.



Car In Which Two Died

This is all that was left of a late-model hardtop last night after it ran off State Route 55 near Vale Summit, hit a culvert and overturned. Robert D. Seifarth, 40, of Frostburg, and Frederick James Rankin, 32, of RD 2, Frostburg, were killed, apparently instantly. The car landed on its top, throwing one of the men out. The other was found partially out of the car.

Delegate Silver Proposes Bus Safety Control

Seeks Matrons For All Vehicles

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Legislative Council member plans to submit to Gov. Tawes a plan to tighten control over Maryland's school bus operations to prevent accidents similar to one which killed seven youngsters last week.

Delegate Edgar P. Silver (D-Balto 5th), chairman of the council's motor vehicles committee, said "we can't have a recurrence of that type of accident," referring to the train-bus collision at Mountain Lake Park Sept. 10.

Silver said he would present his proposals to Tawes probably next week.

Among other things, Silver belives that a matron should ride each school bus to help keep order and to aid the driver in an emergency.

Drivers Too Busy

He explained that because of today's traffic "a driver has all he can do without . . . having to keep order . . . too."

He also recommended that school buses be prohibited from using railroad crossings 15 minutes before and after the time a train is scheduled to pass. Exit drills also should be held periodically so the riders can learn to use the emergency door.

Silver pointed out that about 48 seconds elapsed between the time the bus stalled on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks at Mountain Lake Park and was crushed by the passenger train, the Diplomat.

"Everyone tried to get out through the front door," Silver said. "Apparently no one thought of the emergency exit."

No Laws Needed

The safety recommendations could be adopted without legislation because they are administrative matters, the delegate said.

Silver also advocated special licensing of school bus drivers, with stiff mental and physical tests; strict examination of the buses; and stricter enforcement of rules against overloading any one vehicle.

Wednesday, the Garrett County grand jury found no criminal negligence in the accident, but recommended safety measures.

The jury suggested that all school buses carry flashing red lights on the roof; periodic, surprise checks of buses and drivers, and the decreasing of train speeds during school hours, especially at crossings.

Copies of the jury's report were to be sent to the Legislative Council and county and state officials.

Inquest Seen In Fatal Crash Near Bedford

Bedford County (Pa.) Coroner Dr. J. H. Knisely said last night that an inquest will probably be held in the death of Mrs. Alice V. Rhodes, 66, of Saxton, who was fatally injured Wednesday in a two-car collision about a half mile south of Bedford on U. S. Route 220.

Her husband, Milton Rhodes, 74, driver of one of the cars, and M/Sgt. Landon Lowe, 35, of Chauncey, W. Va., the other driver, were reported in "fair" condition last night at Bedford County Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Rhodes was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital, according to authorities who said the head-on collision occurred at 5:55 p. m.

State Police said Sgt. Lowe, who is stationed with the Army at Fort Devens, Mass., was traveling south and was just coming out of the curve on U. S. 220 near the south end of the Bedford Elks Golf Course, when his car skidded on the wet pavement.

Airline Report Due In Week

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An initial report probably will be forthcoming next week from a Civic Aeronautics Board examiner on his findings concerning competing applications by three airlines to expand local air service in West Virginia.

Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-W. Va.) said Thursday CAB Chairman James Durfee had advised him the first report would be issued about Sept. 25. Randolph said he asked the CAB to break the silence—that the case had dragged on "long enough."

The case dates back some three years. Piedmont, Lake Central and Allegheny Airlines have been seeking additional routes in West Virginia.

Piedmont has been favored in hearings before a CAB examiner by some West Virginia representatives. But Lake Central drew equal support from Ohio official whose cities also would be on many of the routes.

In West Virginia, among cities affected by the local service case are Charleston, Huntington, Parkersburg, Bluefield, Morgantown, Wheeling, Elkins, Clarksburg, Beckley and Martinsburg, along with Cumberland, Md.

Pilot Discharged From Hospital

The pilot of a private plane who was injured Wednesday night when the craft was forced down by rain and cracked up in a soggy field about two miles west of Somerset, Pa., was discharged yesterday from the Somerset Community Hospital.

Elbert Allen Darnell, 54, of South Bend, Ind., suffered a fractured nose and lacerations. The other occupant of the single-engine Cessna aircraft, Frank Thomas Ray, also of South Bend, was uninjured.

State Police at Somerset said the Indiana men were flying due west from Teterboro, N. J., probably headed for home. When the plane attempted to land it nosed over on the rain-soaked turf, flipping on its top.

City Will Get Alley Request On Monday

Construction Cost Estimated At $7,600

A petition calling for the opening of the proposed service alley at the rear of North Mechanic Street will be presented to the Mayor and Council on Monday.

Plans for the project were discussed Wednesday by the planning committee of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting with Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum.

The Chamber was represented by Earl D. Chaney, president; William D. Claus, vice president in charge of planning, and C. William Gilchrist, member.

During the meeting, city officials related the history of the proposal and pointed out that the City of Cumberland paid $1,600 to the government for strengthening the Wills Creek flood wall between Bedford and Baltimore streets so the wall would bear the weight of traffic.

City officials estimated the alley, which would serve business firms in that area and reduce North Mechanic Street traffic problems, would cost about $7,600 for curbing, base and a blacktop wearing course.

A petition was being prepared yesterday and will be circulated today among business firms which would be served by the alley.

Flintstone FFA Plans Stag Party

A stag party will be presented by the Flintstone Chapter, Future Farmers of America, at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Van-Meter's Beach along Town Creek.

There will be hot dogs, ice cream and lemonade, according to Charles Puffenberger, chapter president.

Farm signs bearing the inscription "Stop and Yield" will be ordered for club members by Kenneth M. Malone, the faculty adviser. New members will be initiated the last week of September.

Members will compete in a regional soil judging contest on Saturday, September 26. As another future project, the chapter will sell Christmas cards again this year.

K. Of P. Conclave Opens Here

Service Held For Deceased Members

The 92d annual convention of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and the 52d annual convention of the Grand Temple, Pythian Sisters, will go into business sessions today with some 250 members of the orders on hand.

Additional delegates are expected to register today at the Fort Cumberland Hotel, headquarters for the three-day conclave which opened here yesterday.

A joint opening service was held yesterday to begin the state meeting.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech welcomed the delegates to the Queen City and the response was given by J. Walter McKee, city, the current grand chancellor.

Reception Held

Afternoon activities included a reception for grand officers of both lodges.

The annual joint memorial service was held last night and was in charge of Robert Wade, city, and Mrs. Sara Schramm, Lonaconing.

Music was by the Nomads Choristers of Victory Santha No. 30, Nomads of Avrudaka.

The roll call of 62 Knights of Pythias members and 21 Pythian Sisters was read by Delue Crawford, Frederick, grand secretary, and William Walters, Gaithersburg, grand K of P secretary.

The emblem of the order was formed with flowers as the ceremony proceeded.

Banquet Is Set

Today's program will feature business sessions of both units at 9 a. m. and 1 p. m.

The annual banquet will be held at 6:30 p. m. and will feature an address by A. Elwood Martak, Baltimore. He is expected to review the highlights of the Knights of Pythias order in Maryland over the past 50 years.

Also expected to speak is Richard L. Meares, supreme treasurer, of Wilmington, N.C., who is representing the supreme lodge.

High Court Gets Barkman Case

An appeal of Philip Barkman, a former plant superintendent of the Cumberland Steel Company, has been taken under advisement by the Maryland Court of Appeals.

Mr. Barkman appealed an Allegany County Circuit Court decision that he was not eligible for workmen's compensation. The 68-year-old employe suffered a severe heart attack in September 1954 while helping crib a truck so it would hold a load of steel.

However, he did not file a claim until 26 months later. The law at the time required that it be filed within one year of the accident.

Mr. Barkman's attorney argued that he was late in filing the claim because his physician did not directly relate the heart attack to the extraordinary physical effort at work until March 1956. The claim finally was filed in October 1956.

Zoning Board Tables Bid For Garage

Delegation Enters Protest To Plan

The Board of Zoning Appeals last night tabled for two weeks the appeal of Emmett A. Dougherty, Bedford Road, to build a garage for the storage and repair of gargabe trucks in a business district on Memorial Avenue.

The delay was voted on the application of James C. Gardner, chairman, after H. Clifford Spiker, member, said there was "nothing else to do" and moved that the permit be granted.

Early in the lengthy hearing, Mr. Dougherty said he wanted to build a truck garage and that the word "storage" in the application was added by someone else.

The permit was issued by City Engineer C. R. Nuzum in accordance with the zoning ordinance which allowed such a use in a business district.

Permit Revoked

The Mayor and Council later revoked the permit and Mr. Dougherty appealed to the Board of Zoning Appeals.

The Bedford Road man told the board he planned to use the building only to store and repair his garbage trucks which would have no more smell than any other garage.

He said he had been displaced from Wineow Street and picked a site in a legal area.

Mr. Gardner ordered that the word "storage" be taken from the permit and said the permit, if granted, would specifically limit use to a garage.

Eight citizens of the area appeared to protest the use of the area, which adjoins a Residential A area, as a garage for storage of garbage trucks.

Enter Protests

Albert C. Owens, 315 South Street, said "garbage is garbage" and that use of the land for a garbage truck storage would create a nuisance, and that such use will devalue nearby property.

The site, the board stressed, is in a business district, and the law leaves the board no alternative.

To another citizen who protested the trucks will stink, Mr. Gardner said he sympathized with the stand taken by the objectors but that the board "must go by the rules."

Can Appeal Permit

He told the objectors they had a perfect right to appeal to the Circuit Court should the permit be granted.

The board added that the objectors were asking the board to reject the application on the grounds of a non-conforming use which can only be assumed, and added that if undue noise, odors and the like occur, they have a right to get a warrant.

The board stressed it can not assume that objectionable odors will result from the building.

The application, Mr. Gardner said, is within the ordinance.

Defers Action

The board also deferred for two weeks the appeal of Allegany Homes Company, 16 South Liberty Street, which is building a one-story dwelling at 612 East First Street.

Two protestants appeared and were advised to be on hand for the appeal. The board said that if the applicant fails to appear the board will act on the application anyway.

The permit, according to City Attorney C. R. Nuzum, was suspended, but protestants said work is still going on.

Objections of the city were based on the switching of the entrance from East First Street to the Memorial Avenue side of the lot.

The board disapproved the application of Lloyd Kirkpatrick to locate a barber shop at 12 North Lee Street.

Approved were the applications of C. W. Redinger to build an addition to his home at 407 Caroline Street and to Harry A. Spies, who sought to build a home on Maple Street with insufficient side yard. The board pointed out other homes on the block do not meet the requirement.

Equity Suits Filed

A number of equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Joseph Purdham vs. Mary Eva Purdham, Laura Pelican vs. William Pelican, Margaret Warnick vs. Cecil Warnick, Helen Lavern Kerns vs. John Francis Kerns, Betty J. Brant vs. Wilbert E. Brant, Wanda L. Miller vs. Harold B. Miller, Marion W. Adam vs. Henry G. Adam, Raymond D. Appold vs. Emma Jean Appold, Erma D. Buckley vs. Otto M. Buckley, Elaine F. Ike Sure Smooth Talking Nik Won't Fool Americans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Thursday Nikita Khrushchev has spoken and acted here like a man who truly is seeking an agreement to end the conflict between East and West.

But Eisenhower told his news conference he is sure Americans will not be psychologically disarmed by the Soviet Premier's argument that communism is a forward step in the march of world progress—that it will bury capitalism.

"When you are talking about communism versus freedom, you are talking down at the very depths of conviction in the hearts of free men," Eisenhower said earnestly.

Convinced Khrush Wants Peace

Most of the news conference sounded like a reply to Khrushchev's Washington speech Wednesday, because that's the way the newsmen's questions came.

But Eisenhower assured the crowded room he feels certain the Soviet leader agrees with him a third great war would be stupid and crazy.

"I believe that is the one thing that he does agree with us very fully," the President said.

But while men can agree on the obvious "futility of committing mutual suicide," he went on, "there is still room for a lot of misunderstanding, a lot of miscalculation which could be very serious."

Too Early To Assess Results

The President replied cautiously when, at the outset of the question-and-answer volleying, he was asked whether he saw any concrete evidence of a change in position by the bald and bouncy Premier on cold war issues.

Khrushchev's attitude has been extremely friendly, Eisenhower parried, but the talks so far have been very preliminary. It would be unwise and undesirable, he added, to talk of progress or the lack of it until after he and Khrushchev wind up their intensive conversations at Camp David, Md., Sept. 25-27.

Roast And Toast

Frosty Welcome Given Khrushchev By New York City

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP(— Nikita Khrushchev told a gathering of American businessmen Thursday night that U.S. restrictions on trade with the Soviet Union have backfired and in some instances even helped his country.

The Soviet leader also said that production in his homeland is expanding so enormously that the U.S.S.R can overtake this country in economic development "more quickly than envisaged in our plans."

Khrushchev spoke to the Economic Club of New York at a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. His prepared address climaxed a day in the great metropolis which produced probably the frostiest welcome New York City has given a top public figure.

For a city of eight million people, the turnout of 175,000 — a police estimate — was pretty unimposing. And the crowds which did show up were largely silent. There were no more flags on display than rigid protocol demanded.

And the traditional ticker tape reception with which the city has greeted some dignitaries with seeming delirium was lacking completely.

Mrs. K Goes To Theater

Earlier, son Sergei and four Soviet companions took a spin over New York in a banana-type Army helicopter.

And Khrushchev, himself, had gone to a reception in his honor given by W. Averell Harriman, former ambassador to Moscow and more recently governor of New York.

Harriman told the Soviet chief that American business and finance want a reduction in armaments, if feasible, thus bringing an end to the arms race.

The Harriman reception followed a luncheon, at which Khrushchev also got off a speech. This earlier address, at a civic affair, again bore down on his call for eternal peace. The Premier didn't neglect to stress the peace theme again Thursday night.

But mainly the talk was beamed toward his businessman audience.

U.S. Embargo Denounced

He hammered hard at U.S. trade policies, as he has done before, and called for better trade relations between his own country and the United States.

Khrushchev struck twice at the U.S. embargo applying to sales of strategic goods to the Soviet Union.

"We are fighting and we will fight against all embargo lists in trade as an unreasonable practice," Khrushchev said.

The Premier said that some people—politicians rather than businessmen — seriously contend that by refusing to trade with the U.S.S.R "The United States retards the economic development of the U.S.S.R. and weakens its defensive might."

Then, with his reference to Soviet scientific achievements, Khrushchev told his audience that all present were familiar with the reports on Soviet Sputniks, rockets and economic growth. This progress has never been so swift, he said, as in the past decade.

Khrushchev said he had told Harriman and was repeating it that "the results of the ban on trade with the U.S.S.R. imposed in the United States as a repressive measure against the Soviet Union have been the very opposite of those hoped for by its authors."

To back that up, the Communist leader said the Soviet Union had to develop the manufacture of machinery it did not have previously and had intended to buy from this country. The Soviet Union, he said, no longer depends on anyone for this machinery, so curtailment of trade with the Soviet Union "has strengthened rather than weakened us."

The kind of reception Khrush-

Khrush To End Visit Sept. 27 With TV Speech

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev will make a nationwide telecast before leaving the United States after his talks with President Eisenhower next week at Camp David, Md.

The Soviet Premier also will hold a news conference here.

This was disclosed Thursday with a White House announcement of the schedule for Khrushchev during the last four days of his history-making American visit.

The newly issued schedule is for the period after his return from Pittsburgh to Washington on Sept. 24.

Khrushchev goes from Des Moines to Pittsburgh Sept. 23.

From Pittsburgh, he flies back to Washington, on Sept. 24, leaving Pittsburgh at 3:25 p.m.

At 4:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 25, he will go by car to Eisenhower's Camp David retreat in the Catoctin Mountains of Maryland, arriving there at 6 p. m. and will stay there until noon of the following Sunday, Sept. 27.

The Camp David talks with Eisenhower are expected to cover the diplomatic work undertaken during his visit to the United States.

The final major public appearances for the Kremlin chief in this country are scheduled soon after his return to Washington from Camp David on Sunday, Sept. 27 at 1:30 p.m.

From 4 to 5 p.m., a full hour, Khrushchev is listed for a news conference to be held at the Soviet Embassy in downtown Washington.

From 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. he is scheduled to deliver an address on NBC TV network from NBC studios in Washington.

Red China Defense Minister Replaced

TOKYO (AP)—Marshal Lin Piao, considered Peiping's leading military strategist, replaced Marshal Peng Teh-huai Thursday as defense minister of Red China.

A reshuffle of the high command of the Communist Chinese armed forces was announced without explanation by Radio Peiping.

The changes were regarded as ominous — possibly a prelude to some new Communist military move — by unofficial quarters in Formosa, Nationalist China's island stronghold.

Both Lin and Peng are deputy premiers in the government of Premier Chou En-lai and members of the State Council which recommended the changes. Peng stays on as a deputy premier.

Each commanded the Red Chinese divisions, called volunteers, in the Korean War, first Lin and then Peng. If they have differed since on such things as Quemoy, Tibet, Laos and the Indian border dispute it is not apparent.

Peng has been the chief go-between for years in consultation between Red China and the Soviet Union on military affairs.

Last May he flew to Albania for talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodio Y. Malinovsky, while the Russians were vacationing in that little Red nation. That was in the lull between Red China's suppression of the Tibetan revolt and the outbreak of the Indian frontier clashes.

Lin, a Communist party member for 32 of his 52 years, is a graduate of the Whampoa Military Academy. He led a Red army throughout the Communists' fight against Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists, campaigning from Manchuria to southern China.

Gen. Lo Jui-ching, 52, another veteran educated at Whampoa, stepped from his post as public security minister to become chief of the army's general staff. He succeeds Gen. Huang Ko-cheng.

Herter, Lloyd Hurl Challenge At Khrushchev

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States and Britain Thursday tried to steal Premier Nikita Khrushchev's thunder with a challenge to join in a broad program for peace—including a new approach to disarmament.

U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd made their proposals in policy speeches to the U.N. General Assembly. The Soviet Premier has announced he will submit a new disarmament plan when he addresses the 82-nation Assembly Friday afternoon.

In his first appearance at the U.N. since becoming secretary of state, Herter outlined a program aimed at bringing about constructive changes by peaceful means in disarmament, world politics and economic and social fields.

Although he did not mention Khrushchev by name, many of his statements were obviously aimed at the Soviet leader now in New York.

Lloyd came up with a new three-stage disarmament plan that will go before the 10-nation East-West conference in Geneva next year along with Khrushchev's proposals.

The British minister called for a study by experts at conferences on particular problems, to be followed by a gradual cutback in nuclear and conventional arms and manpower. The final stage would be comprehensive disarmament by all powers under effective international control.

His detailed proposals included a study on how specific arms could be handed over to the international control organization which have the ultimate responsibility for keeping the peace.

Applause rippled through the hall as Herter was escorted to the speaker's platform by Francis O. Wilcox, assistant secretary of state for international organization affairs.

He made no new proposals on disarmament, but said the United States regards the coming negotiations in Geneva "as a major opportunity."

On peaceful uses of outer space, Herter issued a direct challenge to the Soviet Union to end its boycott of the U.N. committee that has been exploring the problem this year.

First Powered Flight

X15 Passes Major Milestone To Space

EDWARD AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The X15 rocket plane passed a major milestone Thursday on its way to the edge of space. It performed beautifully on its first powered flight.

The black stub-winged dart, with ace test pilot Scott Crossfield in its cramped cockpit, soared and circled spectacularly over the Mojave Desert then glided to a perfect landing on a dry lake bed.

Crossfield called it "a very successful flight. It performed better than expected."

Jubilant officials of North American Aviation, the X15s makers, said this and future flights are pioneering a technique that could be used to shuttle men between the earth and satellite space stations.

The X15, equipped with more powerful engines, is expected later this year to rocket more than 100 miles high at faster than 4,000 m.p.h. Such performance would enable it to reach space stations.

The X15 was carried to 38,000 feet by a B52 mother ship. Cut loose at 8:07 a.m., it dropped 3,000 feet before Crossfield fired the first of its twin rocket engines. The engines caught and it soared like a bullet to 50,000 feet, passing the B52 and three jet fighter chase planes as if they were standing still. It trailed great puffs of white smoke as Crossfield jockeyed the throttle.

He eased it into a wide circle to the left, lining the clear blue sky with twin contrails. Completing the circle, which had a 100-mile perimeter, he leveled off and, his three-minute fuel supply exhausted, dropped quickly down for a perfect 200 m.p.h. landing at 8:17 a.m. on the bed of Rogers Dry Lake. The X15 skidded a mile, kicking up a huge rooster tail of dust.

Crossfield said he flew well in excess of mach 2—1,400 m.p.h.—but declined to give his top speed.

As he flew, Crossfield chatted by radio with Air Force Maj. Robert White, piloting one of the chase planes.

"Nice and easy, daddy," White counseled as Crossfield came in to land.

Meany Blasts Soviet Premier

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—George Meany, AFL-CIO president, warned Americans Thursday not to be fooled by visiting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's peace talk in the face of a Communist record of deceit and aggression.

The head of the nation's 12½ million member union federation told the opening session of the AFL-CIO biennial convention that communism is a godless, atheist system dedicated to human slavery.

Meany devoted the major portion of his keynote speech to a blistering indictment of Khrushchev and the Soviets, grimly reciting the Communist record from the Red invasion of Poland at the start of World War II to present aggressions in Laos, India and Tibet.

Meany, lustily cheered by the delegates, went on:

"We are peaceful by nature and have no designs of aggression on anyone else and a sincere desire to live in friendship with the world.

"But don't let us be fooled and deceive ourselves to the point where we see a contribution to peace when actually what we really should see is a further attempt to spread the doctrine of slavery in the world."

Ike's Words Reach Russia; No Jamming

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's entire news conference was broadcast by the Voice of America for the first time Thursday and apparently reached Russian listeners without Soviet jamming.

This was reported by U.S. officials in a widening test of what chinks may be open in the Iron Curtain because of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

Following Khrushchev's arrival Tuesday, American monitors said that Communist jamming of the U.S. propaganda radio's Russian-language programs had ceased for the first time in 10 years.

Outpost Recaptured

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Royal government troops have recaptured the important outpost of Sam Teu in northeast Samneua Province, it was announced Thursday.

Gen. Ouane Rathikone, chief of staff, said the Communists took the post only last Tuesday but royal troops stormed and took it back Wednesday in one of the bitterest battles of the Laos civil war.

New Satellite Shot Fizzles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States failed to orbit a navigation satellite Thursday and added another black mark to an embarrassing week for American space efforts.

The 265-pound satellite, called Transit I, rode skyward atop a three-stage Thor-Able rocket. It was designed to study the possibility of using satellites as navigation stations in space.

But the rocket's third stage did not ignite and the satellite apparently met a fiery doom in a plunge through the earth's atmosphere.

Another U.S. space shot fizzled Wednesday when a Jupiter missile carrying mice and frogs exploded 1,000 feet above its launching pad. The Jupiter was to lift the tiny animals and other biological speciments 300 miles up in an experiment that could help prepare the way for manned space travel.

Earlier this week, the last of the Vanguard satellite rockets failed to get off the ground because of a faulty ignition system. Another attempt will be made soon, possibly Friday, to launch the Vanguard and its 100-pound scientific satellite.

67th Warning To U.S.

Hundreds Feared Drowned In India

BOMBAY, India (AP) — The flooding Tapti River burst through a protective wall and poured into the city of Surat Thursday, covering two square miles within five minutes. Hundreds were believed drowned.

The waters rushed into the main bazaar area with such speed that hundreds were trapped. The water was 12 feet deep in some place. Many houses and cattle were swept away.

The inundation took place when one of the two ancient city walls collapsed as the river rose two feet above the danger mark. Several policemen keeping an eye on the river were reported missing.

The Bombay state government said flood waters from the Tapti and Narmada rivers had devastated coastal towns and villages. They estimated 5,000 peasant homes were washed away in the Ahmedabad district alone.

Mrs. K Attends Broadway Musical, Causes Sellout

NEW YORK (UPI) — Grandmotherly - looking Mrs. Nina Khrushchev caused a sellout on Broadway Thursday.

The wife of the boss of all the Russians and her two daughters, Rada, 29, and Yulia, 42, and a party of 27 other persons went to see one of Broadway's longest running musicals, "The Music Man" starring Robert Preston.

The show has been running since December, 1957. But all the tickets for Thursday performance at the Majestic Theater had not been sold until the public learned that Mrs. Khrushchev would be in the audience.

"She sold out the house," said the theater's publicity manager, Arthur Canton. "She should come here every night."

As the word spread that Mrs. Khrushchev would attend the hit musical, crowds began lining the sidewalks on each side of the theater entrance and across the street four and five feet deep.

Police set up sawhorses to hold back the crowds. The lobby of the theater was filled to overflowing with ticket-holders curious to see Russia's first lady.

Mrs. Khrushchev arrived at 8:25 p.m. just before the curtain was to rise. She received some applause from the crowd in front of the theater as she alighted with Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, wife of the U.S. ambassador to the U.N., from her black limousine.

Fraternity Pledge Chokes To Death On Raw Liver

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A fraternity pledge being hazed during an initiation choked to death Thursday while trying to swallow a large piece of oil-soaked raw liver.

Police said his life might have been saved if the fraternity members had not misled an ambulance crew. They told rescuers the boy suffered a spasm and didn't mention the meat.

The University of Southern California suspended the Kappa Sigma Fraternity and told its national headquarters to remove the chapter from the campus. Members were placed on university probation pending full investigation.

Richard T. Swanson, 21, predental student and son of a Los Angeles dentist, died after both an ambulance crew and firemen worked over him.

An ambulance man, Nathan Rubin, said he arrived at the Kappa Sigma house at 1:19 a.m.

"I asked if the boy had eaten anything," he said. "They told me no. I got practically no cooperation. If I'd only known he had eaten something, I might possibly have saved him. I was prepared for such an emergency. I had an extractor and could have removed what was in his throat . . . I was working in the dark and didn't have a chance. Neither did the kid."

A quarter-pound of liver—3 by 4 inches, ¾ of an inch thick—later was removed from Swanson's throat.

Police said 11 pledges were assigned numerous pushups, then marched to a table and told to eat liver soaked in olive oil. Six did. Swanson tried five times and on the sixth fell gasping to the floor.

N.C. Prison Escapee Nabbed In Maryland

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—A fugitive from the North Carolina Penitentiary was captured near here Thursday by Maryland State Police.

They identified him as Leland Crawford, 35, who escaped from North Carolina last April after serving part of a sentence for a series of burglaries and larcenies.

Five Maryland troopers arrested Crawford after receiving a tip at the nearby Waterloo State Police barracks. They surrounded him as he got out of an automobile near a small house on a side road about two miles south of Laurel.

"Presidential Suite" Occupied By Khrushchev

Mr. K Looks Like Born U. S. Politician

By ARTHUR EDSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev has been in this country only three days, but already he looks like a born, and highly practiced, U.S. politician.

For Mr. K misses none of the touches so dearly beloved by our own officeholders—the extra wave and the big grin for the photographers, the appearance of being affable and friendly at all times.

Thursday, he gave an excellent illustration of the flair he has, of that hard-to-define something we call color.

For as some baseball players make each home run seem extra special, so does Khrushchev make the most of every opportunity.

He came into New York under the worst possible conditions.

Probably for security reasons, he was greeted in the baggage room of Pennsylvania Station, dismal and cheerless as a tomb.

The confusion was incredible—photographers relentlessly struggling for better position, radio and television men trying to protect their wires from the onrush, newsmen squeezing in everywhere.

It was noisy, distracting and chaotic. Yet when Mr. K. was welcomed to the city, he stepped forward, thanked everybody in sight and several who weren't in sight, and wound up waving his hat and then his hand for photographers.

A presidential candidate couldn't have done it better.

Or move to the Commodore Hotel, where he addressed a luncheon party given by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

He listened to a long series of introductions, to moderately long speeches by Henry Cabot Lodge, Ambassador to the United Nations, and by the mayor.

Then, like the seasoned old hand that he is,he leaped into the oratorical fray fresh as a daisy.

Then, when everyone was lulled into a jolly spirit, he came to the point: Don't waste your breath, comrades, in trying to convert me to capitalism.

Mr. K. recalled an old proverb: "each duck praises its own marsh." But he said he hated to use it because he didn't like to compare communism with a marsh.

When the meeting ran on so long many of the capitalists had to hurry off to make more capital, Khrushchev hurriedly wound it up and apologized for exhausting his audience—an old pro to the end.

One surprising by-product of the Premier's visit: usually "The Star—Spangled Banner" is sung by few, if any, in the average audience. Thursday almost everyone sang lustily, even though some had trouble remembering the words.

Fact-Finders In Laos Await Solid Evidence

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Laos started presenting its case against the Communists to a U.N. fact-finding mission Thursday. But solid proof was lacking and a U.N. spokesman said the four - nation subcommittee does not know when it will get evidence to support Laotian accusations of aggression by Communist North Viet Nam.

Earlier, a Laotian official expressed hope the subcommittee would have proof of the charges by the weekend.

Hand grenades bearing Chinese characteristics have been captured in northern Laos and top the list of evidence the government plans to present the subcommittee, an authoritative source reported. American rifles and machine guns of Czech and Chinese manufacture also are included in the evidence. The American weapons probably were captured from the French during the Indochina War in the 1950s.

American officials here say they have been convinced by circumstantial evidence that North Viet Nam has participated in the attacks on Laos. British officials are keeping an open mind on the subject and the French frankly are skeptical.

The U.N. subcommittee plans to visit rebel - infested Sam Neua province in northern Laos to investigate alleged North Vietnamese complicity in the war, but it does not appear likely the group can leave before the middle of next week. The government has asked the subcommittee to get six helicopters for the trip.

JUBILANT PILOT—Test Pilot Scott Crossfield uses his hands to demonstrate how his helmet was hitting the cockpit canopy yesterday as Crossfield took the X15 rocket plane on its first powered flight at Edwards AFB, Calif. "I hear a funny noise, a rattle," Crossfield said over the radio during the flight. He added later: "Aw, that rattle's just my head." It turned out it was his helmet hitting the canopy. Crossfield told newsmen he considered it "a very successful flight . . . it performed better than expected." (AP Photofax)

TFC Sets Aside Straits Area As Oyster Nursery

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Tidewater Fisheries Commission Thursday closed Holland Straits off Somerset County to the tonging of oysters in order to develop it as a major nursery for bringing back Maryland's oyster production.

Portions of the straits containing marketable oysters will be opened for limited periods this winter so tongers from Smith Island and Dorchester County, who have been using it, can take oysters for the big Thanksgiving and Christmas markets.

But eventually, the 10,000-acre area between South Marsh Island and Smith Island will be closed entirely to harvesting, the TFC agreed. It will be used solely for developing seed or baby oysters for transplanting in less productive areas.

The straits form the state's richest oyster growing area and last year accounted for 90,000 bushels, or five per cent of state production. It is here the TFC will dump several million bushels of oyster shells next June to catch oyster larvae being spawned and provide it with a growing surface.

After the baby oysters are formed they can be transplanted on public bars.

Ralph C. Hammer, biologist in charge of oyster management, who recommended the closing, told the commission Holland Straits have the potential to become Maryland's equivalent to the rich producing James River seed area in Virginia.

"We consistently get a good set of oysters in that area", Hammer said.

The straits were entirely barren in 1941 when the Legislature turned the area over to the TFC for use in cultivating seed. Oysters were brought from the head of Chesapeake Bay to start the brood stock which is now producing the heavy spawning activity each spring.

Harvard University libraries contain nearly six million volumes.

Demo Women Honor Mrs. E. Brooke Lee

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. E. Brooke Lee of Silver Spring was honored Thursday as Maryland's "Democratic Woman of the Year."

The Democratic leader received the title at the quarterly meeting of the United Democratic Women's Clubs of Maryland. The selection committee of more than 170 clubs named Mrs. Lee for her "outstanding and sincere contributions to women's politics and her party."

Mrs. Lee will be the state's candidate for the national title of "Democratic Woman of the Year."

Fatigued Skelton Enters Hospital

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — Comedian Red Skelton was admitted to St. John's Hospital Thursday suffering physical fatigue.

Skelton was hospitalized less than two years after a severe respiratory illness which almost cost him his life.

Honest Convict

JOLIET, Ill. (UPI) — Charles Cox, 50, received a $25 reward Thursday for finding and returning a wallet containing $381. Authorities at Stateville Penitentiary figured Cox should be especially commended since he is a convict serving a sentence for armed robbery and the wallet belonged to prison guard John D. Keith.

Here and there applause and cheers rang out. But there were just about as many hoots and boos and cries of "murderer" and "butcher."

If the Soviet Premier heard the jeers, he gave no sign of anger. And, at a civic luncheon in his honor, he was gay and joshing, and telling a crowd that included many distinguished New Yorkers he knew it was useless to try to convert them to communism.

The setting was the grand ballroom of the Commodore Hotel, resplendent in rose and aqua and huge masses of autumn mums and Dahlias.

The No. 1 man of the world Communist movement had no major pronouncements along lines of international politics and policies.

Those evidently were to be saved for another address Friday to the United Nations. Khrushchev promised in Washington Wednesday that he would have a new proposal then on disarmament, which he called the most burning issue confronting the world.

State National Guard To Have Own West Point

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland's National Guard will have its own West Point for training officers.

Lt. Col. Francis R. Dice, commandant of the school to be held at the Pikesville Armory, said Thursday the first class reporting in January would total about 50.

Dice explained that replacement of Guard officers is a constant problem because family needs must come first.

The Department of the Army, through its National Guard Bureau, has dropped its Army extension courses as a basis for commission in the guard.

The Guard now has its own officer candidate schools in 40 other states, including Virginia. The principal Guard unit in Maryland is the 29th Infantry Division, which includes units from the Old Dominion.

The officer candidates will first take 140 hours of classroom instruction in various military subjects and leadership.

The 140 hours are to be given in 10 weekend assembles at Pikesville, running from 10:30 a.m. on Saturday until 2 p.m. on Sunday in order to permit guardsmen from all over the state to attend.

The second phase for the class will consist of two weeks of field training during the 29th Division's annual summer encampment.

Jail Preferably To Freight Car

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Walter F. Hupfer took one look at the Washington County jail and allowed it was preferable to being locked up inside an empty freight car.

The 55-year-old Danville, Ill., man was sentenced to five days in the jail for trespassing after spending 24 hours cooped up in the rattling car.

Hupfer said he welcomed the five-day term after his ordeal. He told Magistrate William Dwyer he was tired and hungry.

He said he climbed into the empty car at Gettysburg, Pa., and fell asleep. When he awoke, the door was locked shut and the car was moving.

The Western Maryland Railway freight stopped three times and each time Hupfer rapped on the door and shouted for help. No one came to the rescue.

Student Surprised During Holdup Attempt Kills Self

INDIANA, Pa. (AP) — A college freshman fatally shot himself Thursday after he was surprised by two policemen during an attempted holdup of the Indiana Hotel.

Bertram Lynn Kaufman, 19, of Johnstown, Pa., fired a bullet into his head in the lobby of the hotel. He died at Indiana Hospital about 1½ hours later.

Kaufmann entered Indiana State Teachers College earlier this month. He was a transfer student from the Johnstown College of the University of Pittsburgh.

John Gray, 67, a night clerk at the hotel, told police Kaufman, wearing a mask, pulled a gun and demanded that he open a safe.

Gray told Kaufman there was no safe. The youth then began beating Gray on the head with the pistol, Gray told police.

Two Indiana borough officers cruising by in an auto spotted Kaufman through a hotel window. Sgt. Charles McAdoo entered the lobby through the front door while Sgt. Edward Sullinger went to a side entrance.

McAdoo said he pulled his revolver and ordered Kaufman to stop beating Gray. Kaufman spun around toward McAdoo, put a .22 cal. revolver to his head and pulled the trigger.

Gray suffered several head wounds, one requiring seven stitches. He was treated and released.

Kaufman graduated from Ferndale High School in Johnstown in 1957. He was president of his class for two years and active in athletics. He graduated in the upper 25 per cent of his class.

A spokesman for Indiana State Teachers College said there was no apparent reason for the attempted robbery. He added:

"It is known that the boy had money in the bank."

Moon Survey Via Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet scientists see a possibility of casting a Peeping Tom satellite into orbit only six miles above the moon.

That would be close enough to get a detailed look but high enough to avoid crashing into the moon's tall mountains.

Such a baby moon of the big moon would be equipped with television and other devices designed to transmit map-like pictures of the moon to the earth as a prelude for future spaceship landings.

The possibilities are outlined in a technical report by Dr. A. Shternfel'd, a noted Soviet scientist, which has just been translated by the Department of Commerce's office of technical services.

Under Shternfel'd's conception, a rocket would be launched from the earth to a point 120 miles above the moon. There it would automatically be given a kind of sidewise kick that would gradually take it, in lower and lower passes, into a circular path just six miles above the moon.

Worker Cuts Wrong Cable, KOs 1,000 Phones

SALISBURY (AP)—A lineman cut the wrong telephone cable here Thursday, knocking out service on more than 1,000 lines and disrupting communications between Maryland's Eastern and Western Shores.

A spokesman for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. said emergency service was set up to most affected points.

By late afternoon, most lines were back in service and the C&P said it expected to have full service restored by 8 p.m.

The cable break occurred at about 10:30 a.m., Thursday, as workmen relocated lines to make way for a phase of the U.S. 50 highway construction project.

A C&P official said a worker, directed to cut an old underground cable in front of City Hall, instead severed a recently installed cable.

As a result, normal service was knocked out for subscribers in Delmar, Deal Island, Pocomoke, Ocean City, Princess Anne, Snow Hill, Crisfield, and Salisbury, Md.; Georgetown and Seaford, Del., and Onancock, Va., the telephone company said.

To come face to face with your most charming self each day, you must be honest, forthright and persistently so!

Secrets Of Charm

A Well Known "Secret"

Your charm must spring from your inner self. And because of the wealth of beauty and goodness there is in everybody, your charm will develop and grow as long as you live. It is dependent upon your ability to know and understand yourself so that you can put a polish on your best characteristics to make you a more pleasing person for others to be with.

Contrary to an all-too-prevalent impression, the pursuit of charm is not a selfish conceit. It is your duty to others and it is of ever-increasing importance as the world grows smaller and as contacts become more frequent, demanding and exacting.

Vanity is shallow, but charm's depth cannot be fathomed because it is always multiplying itself; it is never static.

Charm never remains with those who treat it lightly. It vanishes quickly from the presence of a woman who is careless of her person and appearance. It flees from those who allow their talents to rust. It is never found where there is intolerance, gossip or hate-mongering.

Deceit and dishonesty are charm's greatest enemies. Procrastination saps its vitality.

Would you like to see your charm grow?

It takes all the frankness, honesay and volition that you can command if you are to make yourself into as interesting and attractive a personality as it is your potential to be.

But as you succeed, you will bring more enjoyment into the lives of all who know you . . . and happiness to yourself!

Tomorrow: Hair Control Made Easy!

HOW MUCH SHOULD YOU WEIGH? A new, lightning calculator that tells you how to compute your own individual ideal weight. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c (in coin) and self-addressed envelope. Ask for "How Much Should You Weigh?"

$5,690 Paid By Swimmers At Constitution Park Pool

The swimming pool at Constitution Park had an excellent year in attendance and income this summer, according to Eugene Mason, city recreation director.

Mason announced yesterday that a total of 24,203 persons used the pool this year, compared to the total of 21,094 in 1958. During the year of 1957 a total of 26,522 used the facilities.

During the past summer 10,301 adults and 13,902 children paid a total of $5,690.65 for swimming, the largest amount paid during the past three seasons.

The figures for this year's receipts also showed an increase of $958.55 over the previous year.

Mason said that Thomas Counihan handled the duties of manager for the second straight year. The rec director said Counihan and his staff of four lifeguards and four checkers turned in an excellent job during the season.

The figures released by the Rec Department yesterday also revealed that during the past season more than 800 persons visited the pool on a single day, while in 1958 the largest single day was the Fourth of July when 750 attended.

The biggest days this past season were on the opening day, June 6, when 858 visited the pool, June 28 when 834 paid admission and on July 6 when 800 were in attendance.

Before the season opened this year, Mason said a number of major projects were completed by Robert Golden, park supervisor, and his department.

Mason said that before the June 6 opening, all the water lines were cleaned and an "overhaul" job was done on the filtration plant.

Before the pool opening in 1960 only one major project is scheduled. That will be a complete paint job, which will also be handled by Golden. The pool will be cleaned and lines checked before the painting is started, Mason said.

Duffy Leaves Today For Navy Duty

James W. Duffy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Duffy, 705 Elm Street, leaves today for San Francisco from where he will fly to Japan for an assignment with the Navy.

Duffy, who has completed nine months of schooling at the Navy School of Music, Washington, is a 1955 graduate of Fort Hill High School. Prior to entering the service, he attended Frostburg State Teachers College.

October 19 Is Deadline On City Taxes

Cumberland's taxpayers, with an assist from the calendar, will have an extra two days in which to take advantage of interest-free tax payments, Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder said yesterday.

The fact that the tax deadline falls on October 17, a Saturday, means taxes can be paid until Monday, October 19, at 5 p. m. without interest. After that time interest at the rate of one half per cent a month will be charged.

Mrs. Roeder said the tax bills were mailed this week and response has been about normal.

Many are taking advantage of the fact that the tax office in City Hall is opening at 8 a. m. for the remainder of this month and through October and November. This is particularly true of workers, it was said.

John Humbird PTA Plans Handbook

The executive committee of the Parent - Teacher Association of John Humbird School met last week to discuss plans for the school year.

The group decided to publish a handbook outlining the year's activities.

The committee consists of Mrs. Sarah Berry, president; John Lancaster, vice president; Mrs. Doris Whiteman secretary; David Smith, treasurer; Miss Sarah Wright, principal; Mrs. Pat Kimmel, program.

Mrs. Myrna Kunis, membership; Mrs. Geraldine Boone, high school service; John Lancaster, safety; Mrs. Margaret Smith, hospitality; Clarence Thompson, budget and ways and means; Mrs. Helen Combs, parent and famil- education; Mrs. Catherine Sulper, health; Mrs. Dorothy Lewis, publication, and Mrs. Ruby Nestor, character and spiritual.

CUF President Sets Fast Pace

William C. Walsh, president of the County United Fund, is setting the pace for workers in the United Givers campaign, according to Winfield Adam, CUF director.

Walsh had the highest goal of any Golden Gifts worker, $20,000, Adam explained, adding that Walsh reported pledges totaling $20,200 shortly before noon yesterday.

Earthquakes are more common in Italy and in Japan than they are anywhere else in the world.

Investigating Groups Briefed On Bus-Train Crash

Two government bodies received details Wednesday on the school bus-train crash that took the lives of seven Deer Park children last Thursday.

Two representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission attended a company sponsored hearing conducted in the Cumberland Division headquarters of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Garrett County State Sen. Bernard I. Gonder, Oakland, gave a report on the accident at a meeting of the Legislative Council's subcommittee on motor vehicle laws, of which he is a member, Thursday afternoon in Baltimore.

He presented the subcommittee with the details of the investigation conducted by the Maryland State Police and Garrett County authorities.

He informed Del. Edgar Silver, of Baltimore's Fifth District, who is chairman of the committee, that he will have additional reports from the Garrett County grand jury which made public its findings Wednesday, and from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Sen. Gonder said the subcommittee will meet again in Baltimore on Wednesday, October 14, when all findings will be presented the full Legislative Council.

The aim of the between-sessions body of the General Assembly is to come up with legislation that will provide more safety at railroad crossings, Sen. Gonder said.

R. J. Cannon, superintendent of the Cumberland Division, reported the railroad conducted a hearing here with members of the train crew of the Diplomat which crashed into the stalled bus testifying.

Cannon said no new developments came from the hearing.

The ICC investigators will make their report and forward it to the Interstate Commerce Commission, which will issue an official finding on the tragedy.

Md. Fair Honors Glass Company

The Cumberland Glass Company was awarded a cash prize for its display at the Maryland State Fair, according to George W. Hickle, sales manager.

The firm had been invited to exhibit its glassware by Timonium officials who said an extra effort was made this year to show Maryland made products.

Hickle was in charge of the display which included tools and other equipment as well as the finished product. He pointed out that his firm is the only one in the state that produces handmade glassware of the highest craftsmanship.

The glass company, located at Mt. Savage since its old quarters in LaVale were destroyed in a fire several years ago, has been invited to exhibit at next year's state fair also, Hickle said.

Water Meeting Set At Bowling Green

Late Sinking Spell Hits Market In Quiet Trading

Volume dropped to 2,090,000 shares from 2,180,000 shares Wednesday, and was the least since Aug. 24, the quietest session since March 3, 1958.

All sections were hit by the late sinking spell which interrupted the serene atmosphere of the earlier dealings. The list had drifted only narrowly on either side of the previous close most of the day, paying very little attention to Khrushchev's arrival here.

It was the thinness of the market rather than any particular news item that brought about the late decline. Most investors stood to the sidelines awaiting some new market stimulants.

Electronics issues were the hardest hit in the late dealings, with losses ranging to 6 points in General Time. Litton dropped 2¾ and Zenith 1¾.

Chrysler stood out in the motors with a loss of 2½ on a report by the company that third quarter operations would be in the red.

Oils also took a good shellacking with Richfield down 3⅜, Sinclair 2, Gulf 1⅝ and Texaco 1½. Youngstown and Lukens both fell 2¼ and U. S. Steel 1⅜ in the depressed steel section.

The rail average was dropped to a new 1959 low by a 2⅜ point loss in Atlantic Coast Line and a 1 point decline in Kansas City Southern.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains were mostly steady Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was off ¼ to up ¼; corn was off ⅛ to up ⅜; oats were up ¼; new oats were off ⅛ to up ¼; rye was up ½ to 2, and soybeans were up ⅛ to ¾.

Moderate liquidation of September wheat led to easiness in some of the deferred contracts. Nearby contracts were steady after an easy opening. There was early buying by brokers with cash connections. Northwest houses sold March and March was bought against sales of May. India was reported to have bought 350,000 bushels of gulf wheat. There was some stop loss selling.

Corn prices were down slightly, led by nearbys as selling encountered resting support on the way down. Commercial houses bought on scale down. One of the mills sold December corn while a cereal house bought March contracts. Export acceptances were 130,000 bushels.

Oats were mostly steady. Longs sold the September after delivery notices were circulated. Cash grain houses bought September and sold December oats at four cents difference.

The soybean market maintained a firm level through most of the session after opening steady. Trade was light. Local traders sold early and bought later. Commission house buying was scattered. Reports from dry areas in downstate Illinois said yields of soybeans are much less than last year. Harvest movement was expected to grow this weekend.

Rye was mostly steady with firmness in the deferred contracts.

Meals were mostly steady. Denmark reportedly bought soybeans and India hard wheat. Peru was said to be in the market for oils and the United Arab Republic for white and red wheat.

Communities Take Steps To Conserve Dwindling Supply Of Water As Drought Continues

The light rainfall received in this section over Wednesday night helped to cut down the forest fire danger, but did little to alleviate the water shortage in many points in this section.

Oakland, Bayard, Hyndman, Keyser and Barton are just a few of the larger communities where the long, hot summer has taken its toll of the community supply.

Cumberland received .11 of an inch of rain while Frostburg had .15 of an inch.

Franklin J. Blaney, city sanitary engineer, reported the city's water supply is in good shape, with Lake Gordon full and Lake Koon only nine feet below the crest.

Henry McComas, chairman of the Oakland water committee, said two 2,000-gallon tanks were placed on city trucks.

For the past two months there has been a curtailment there. Four wells are in operation at Mountain Lake Park for Oakland's reservoir, but only one is producing any quantity of water.

McComas said another well is being drilled in Oakland's west end.

Attempts to tap depleted natural gas wells in that section as a source of water were unsuccessful earlier this summer.

It is reported that some springs and wells at Deep Creek Lake have gone dry.

In many rural areas, farmers are hauling water for household use and for their livestock.

At Bayard, H. R. Fulk Jr., a town councilman, reported today that the town's supply from its two reservoirs comes from springs, but for the past two months a deep well has been placed into emergency use.

For the past two months, Bayard's council has banned the use of municipal water for washing cars and watering gardens.

Hyndman has put a curtailment on the use of municipal water as has Keyser. In the Mineral County seat the Mayor and Council passed an ordinance allowing for fines for violating the restrictions on the use of water.

The Allegany County schools all have ample supplies, Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, said today. Mt. Savage School was the first to feel a shortage until two years ago when a new and better well was drilled. There has been no trouble there since that time, Webster said.

Globe Trotters Series Will Be Presented Here

Kiwanis Sponsors Filmed Travels

Through efforts of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club, many residents of Cumberland and the Tri-State area will have the opportunity this fall to travel the inexpensive way on personally conducted tours of the North Pole, Russia, Germany and Japan.

Well-known globe trotters will appear here in person this fall with their full-length films in color, according to J. D. Eisenberger, Kiwanis president. These professional explorers accompany their pictures with provocative commentary, often humorous, always interesting, taking the viewers behind the scenes of the country visited.

These places may be visited in the Fort Hill High School auditorium on October 15, 22, 29 and November 5, all Thursday night.

The first famous explorer is Rear Admiral Donald B. MacMillan, of whom Lowell Thomas says, "Donald MacMillan is one of our foremost living explorers, a grand story teller, one of the most fascinating men on the platform. I'd go miles to hear MacMillan any day." He will be here for the tour of "The North — Far North" on October 15.

Stoneall O'Brien will conduct the figurative tour to Germany. On his tour will be seen the fairy-tale castle in Bavaria, the Black Forest, Garden Show in Heidelberg with exotic flowers and fraulein, Berlin night life, politicians, poets, farmers and film stars. Germany as it is today will be seen on November 5.

The visit to Japan will be conducted by Gordon Palmquist and he will feature some areas not readily available to the ordinary traveler. It is an up-to-date story of the Japanese people — factual and interesting. Authentic native music will help create the atmosphere of a delightful visit to Japan. This film trip is scheduled for October 22.

The report on "Russia, The New Face" is said to be the "last" picture of true life behind the Iron Curtain and so important that the State Department has made a reproduction of this film. While the Soviet Union is making a pretense of freedom of travel, guidance has been strengthened to prevent the further filming of the broad truth of Russian life which was captured so completely in "Russia, The New Face" to be seen here on October 29.

Tickets may be obtained from any Kiwanian, the Conlon Insurance and Travel Agency, Peoples Drug Store or Frostburg State Teachers College.

Disturbance Is Blamed On Tavern Dispute

Mrs. Nancy Shaw, 19, of 315 Springdale Street was arrested by City Police Officer Wilbur E. Shank Wednesday night on a charge of disturbing the peace.

The disturbance was considered an outgrowth of the hearing Tuesday before the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners in which the beer and wine license of Mrs. Shaw's mother, Mrs. Ruth G. Metz, trading as Clark's Bar at the Springdale Street address, was ordered suspended for 30 days begining Sunday, September 20.

George O. Hollar, 301 Springdale Street, who was one of the witnesses at the Tuesday hearing, notified police Wednesday night that Mrs. Shaw was standing in front of his house making disparaging comments about his wife, Mrs. Grace Hollar, who also testified at the hearing. Officer Shank was called to the scene and when the disturbance persisted he arrested Mrs. Shaw about 7:15 p. m.

A hearing in Police Court is scheduled for 9 a. m. Monday. Mrs. Shaw posted a $20 bond and Mr. Hollar posted a $10 witness bond.

PUBLISHER DIES

TAZEWELL, Va. (UPI) — The publisher and co-owner of the Clinch Valley News, here, Frank W. Leslie, died in a Richlands, Va. hospital Wednesday after a short illness. The paper had been operated by the Leslie family since the late 1880s.

Cattle To Be Sprayed For Grubs

County Agent Joseph M. Steger said that Theodore L. Bissell, entomologist at the University of Maryland, will present the demonstration at 10 a. m. next Wednesday on the farm of Earl F. Stonestreet, Breakneck Road.

Mr. Bissell will demonstrate both the use of spray and the placing of the insecticide in the cattle feed.

Cattle grubs are severe pests of cattle of all kinds and ages. Grubs are known in winter by the ugly swellings, called warbles or wolves, which appear in the backs of cattle. They arise from eggs laid by heel flies on the legs of animals in early summer.

In mid-summer and fall the small grubs, which hatched and bored through the skin earlier, work upward through the animal's body toward the back.

Court Probates Three Wills

The will of John Joseph Reinhard, who was the 73-year-old vice president of the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company here at the time of his death September 3, was one of three probated in Allegany County Orphans Court.

His entire estate was bequeathed to his widow, Mrs. Ada M. Reinhard, Washington-Lee Apartments, who qualified as executrix under a $100 bond. The will was dated February 4, 1958.

Also probated was the will of William F. Breighner, who was 81 and a patient at the County Infirmary at the time of his death August 26. A daughter, Mrs. Rose Breighner Milburn, 400 York Place, qualified as executrix under a $500 bond.

Mr. Breighner left $25 to St. Mary's Catholic Church for masses and the rest of his estate was bequeathed equally to his six children, Mrs. Milburn, James Breighner, Irene Breighner Abbott and three nuns, Sister Ludgena, Sister Theodora and Sister Wilma. The will was dated January 28, 1948.

Also probated was the last testament of William Steele Johnson, who was a 67-year-old Gilmore resident at the time of his death August 28. He left his entire estate to a sister, Mrs. Hannah Johnson Grindle of Gilmore, who qualified as administratrix c.t.a. under a $100 bond.

WATER SKIING--IT'S FUN!

YOUNG ENTHUSIASTS: Mrs. Aliene Williams gets water ski class of youngsters lined up in preparation for going into water together. Tow ropes have to be same length.

The Long Beach Boat and Ski Club at Long Beach, Calif., is a group of families that enjoys flying over the waves — together.

But it's the youngsters who seem to be in the majority at the club as they gather there day after day to get instruction and pick up the finer points of water skiing.

"The club is a family deal," says Mrs. Aliene Williams, a club executive, whose daughter Martha Ann is one of the famed Long Beach baby water skiers. "We have monthly meetings. The kids dance and swim. Then there are weiner bakes, and races and trick skiing." The club numbers almost 100 members and they trek far and wide to get in their water ski thrills.

The children in the group are trained in such fancy water ski events as the slalom, where the skier crosses back and forth across the wake of the speedboat going around the buoys. This can be real tricky. Then they try jumping, flying through the air off a 5-foot ramp. For the smaller children there are always life jackets and extra precautions are taken when they ski.

Martha Ann Williams, the club's young celebrity, started skiing when she was 4. Now Martha is 12 and has already won 194 trophies.

Mrs. Aliene Williams rides beside Sandra Pearson, 8, a beginner, showing her how it's done.

City Loses Bid For Emergency Status Of Municipal Airfield

A city request that Cumberland Municipal Airport be declared an emergency landing field by the Federal Aviation Agency is apparently a dead issue.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said he had received an exchange of correspondence between Sen. J. Glenn Beall and the acting head of the FAA in which it was said it has been many years since an emergency landing field was established.

Keech said the city had asked for the emergency designation to enable the city to get federal assistance in maintaining its electronic, electrical equipment and visual aids.

But James T. Pyle, acting for Gen. E. R. Quesada, administrator of the FAA, wrote Sen. Beall that the agency has been able to reduce the number of such fields from 296 to less than 80 because of the increased number of municipal airports and because of greatly-increased range and reliability of present-day aircraft.

Pyle also said it was felt that federal funds are no longer required for support of emergency fields and although the federal government still pays for operation of lights at some fields and the entire upkeep of others, it is turning these over to states municipalities and counties as fast as the opportunity presents itself in the interest of economy.

The city had made its request after the FAA had sent out notices that aid applications for airfields should be submitted by September 1.

The city felt the local airport located in Wiley Ford should have the emergency status since it is located within reach of the metropolitan centers of Baltimore and Washington and is on scheduled air routes.

A Great Advance Or A Threat?

Most government officials and scientists have accepted the Russian claim to have fired a rocket that gained its target, the moon—although there are some prominent dissenters—so Soviet scientists must be credited with another stupendous achievement in space exploration. As might have been expected, the new feat has created much less interest than did the successful launching of Sputnik I by the Russians.

Obviously, the Soviet Union timed this shot to coincide with Premier Khrushchev's trip to the United States with the aim of making the biggest possible propaganda splash. But if the shot had missed, would the Russians have admitted it?

The implications of a successful moon shot are, after all, obvious to even a rank amateur in rocketry. A nation which can hit a bull's eye on a target 2,160 miles across at a range of 236,000 miles with an 858-pound bullet obviously has the know-how to fire a missile at almost any spot on earth with considerable accuracy.

U. S. experts calculate that an ICBM fired 5,000 miles with the same accuracy as the moon rocket would strike within 5½ miles of the center of the target. With a hydrogen bomb in the nose, this would be close enough for all practical purposes.

These are the cold facts. There is no point in closing our eyes to them. But Mr. Khrushchev has already found that Americans don't panic easily and neither are they ready to submit to rocket blackmail.

The Dalai Lama of Communist-conquered Tibet put it another way. The moon shot, he said, is wonderful. But "It will be still more wonderful," he added, "if that knowledge were to be used for the benefit of human beings."

Will it be, Mr. Khrushchev, or will it be used for their destruction?

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Khrushchev In Kansas

Khrushchev's program does not include Kansas where a large party of Russian Mennonites settled as far back as 1874. These Russians came from the steppes of south Russia and brought with them the seeds for "Turkey Red" wheat. Their story is told by Kendall Bailes in the August issue of "American Heritage."

As I read this article, I could not help thinking that it would be a wonderful experience for Krushchev to go to Kansas to meet the descendants of these immigrants who today are very different from their ancestors who came to America in search of religious freedom. They are no longer frightened people.

Khrushchev comes from a country which cannot accept religious freedom because it interferes with an old Russian adage, "One Czar, one religion, one language." It was the acceptance of this principle by Czar Alexander II which drove the German-speaking Mennonites from Russia to Kansas. In Kansas, they found religious freedom. They settled along the Santa Fe Railroad and no one has interfered with them since, except for a slight misunderstanding about Mennonite pacifism during World War I.

It would be a valuable experience for a man who had never lived in a system of freedom to see what can happen to men from his own country who settled in this land nine decades ago. Altogether 18,000 of them left Russia between 1873 and 1883. Of these, 10,000 went to Kansas, Nebraska and Dakota Territory —mostly to Kansas, however. About 8,000 immigrated to Manitoba in Canada.

In Washington, Khrushchev will meet officials; in New York, he will meet capitalistic tycoons. In Kansas, however, he could meet people whose ancestors were like his, farmers who toiled black soil and who believed in God. Now he can meet their children and grandchildren, English-speaking, looking like any other Americans anywhere, but worshipping God in their own way uncompromisingly. They have been among our most successful farmers and are honored and respected wherever they live.

It could be a novel experience for Khrushchev to meet such Americans. Of course, he can meet other kinds of ex-Russians in many parts of this country, even in New York. He can also meet some of the men and women who helped to make the Russian Revolution to which he is an heir. He did not participate in the initial battles, for he only joined the Communist Party in 1918. But he could sit down with Alexander Kerensky and discover what it took to break away from Czarism. He might hear first hand the story of the early struggles from some of the real revolutionaries who have taken refuge in this country.

Religious freedom is one of the most valuable assets of American life. In Soviet Russia it is not only non-existent but it is regarded as absurd. No person may be a member of the Communist Party unless he is an atheist which means that no God-fearing or God-loving person may hold high office in that country. This is regarded as a scientific view of life. The few religious buildings that remain are a compromise.

In this country, however, Khrushchev could discover, if he sought the facts, that religion plays a large role in the lives of the people. He may be surprised to learn that many American citizens are descendants of persons from countries behind the Iron Curtain and those Americans worship in churches, the creeds of which they brought with them from the fatherlands of their ancestors. In Detroit, Khrushchev might be taken to Hamtramck, to see a large settlement of Polish-speaking Americans. They are Roman Catholics. But if he read the store signs, he would see much to remind him of Warsaw.

In this country are many Lithuanians, Latvians, Esthonians, Czechs, Hungarians and all sorts of peoples from behind the Iron Curtain. Here we think of them as Americans. If they choose to retain relationships with others whose ancestors came from the same country or who have the same religious affiliation, that is their business. Nobody interferes with people over such matters. During World War I, there was some protest against what were called hyphenated Americans, as, for instance, German-Americans. But today, we recognize the rich traditions that many peoples have brought to this country, their religions, their ways of life, their associations.

Perhaps Khrushchev could not understand this.

How To Let The Russians Know How We Feel?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The moon is far away. So seemed the hearts of the people as they watched Soviet Premier Khrushchev when his car moved slowly through the streets of the National Capital. It was a dignified reception — as solemn as a funeral procession.

One couldn't help feeling sad and sorry and wondering why such a visit wasn't postponed until conditions were ripe for it. Khrsuhchev himself appeared friendly and somewhat bewildered. He knew the crowds were restrained. He must have felt the silence of the 200,000 who lined the thoroughfares.

There were some spectators, of course, who look upon the Soviet leader as a criminal, and there were others no doubt who know little of his background but regard him as a symbol of Communism — indeed, as a hostile symbol. It is difficult to show friendliness to a potential enemy. There has been nothing in recent months to indicate that the Soviet ruler will do anything constructive to advance the cause of peace — he was treated, therefore, with natural suspicion and distrust.

The entrance of Nikita Khrushchev to Washington, with all the fanfare and ceremony that is officially bestowed on a head of state, made an impressive picture. Kings and queens and foreign dignitaries have passed along the streets of Washington before, and the people here are not as demonstrative as in other cities. They are used to officialdom in Washington. But the people here do cheer. They do express themselves. They do smile, and they do show their enthusiasm in countless ways. But this time there was a strange mood of quiet acquiescence — a staring at the headline maker whose threats and boasts have been given front-page play in the press in recent years. Even President Eisenhower seemed grave and perhaps worried.

Maybe the Soviet Premier will be unable ever to interpret the curious reception he got. It was not artificially contrived. It was the spontaneous expression of people who feared that the man they were watching might someday push a button and start a world war.

Normally, when a head of state comes to Washington, the people here feel that, in honoring him or her, the tribute is also for the people of the foreign country who have sent their representative on a mission of friendship and good will. Many Washington people must have wished there were on this occasion some way to show the friendship felt in America for the people of the Soviet Union.

Mr. Khrushchev, of course, in his opening address at the airport, spoke about the friendship and good will be brought and managed to introduce a gibe about the Soviet achievement in hitting the moon. But, unfortunately for him, the same words are not as meaningful as when they come from a foreign visitor who is trusted and whose government has repeatedly manifested its friendship for the American people.

There have been times in the last 26 years since the United States extended formal recognition to the Soviet government when there might have been applause and outbursts of enthusiasm if the head of that government had visited Washington. Such a visit, for instance, during World War II might have been the occasion for cheers for an ally — for the people of Soviet Russia who were making supreme sacrifices for our common cause. But since 1945 the Soviets have steadily forfeited the respect of the American people. Even Mr. Khrushchev, in public speeches in 1956, had to denounce what happened during the Stalin regime, though everybody knows he himself played an influential part in some of the same acts of the Stalin government.

To attempt to present to the American people today the head of a government which has for the last 14 years broken pledges, dishonored its written agreements, and carried on acts of aggression and brutality in many countries of the world, is to ask that crime be ignored and applause be given to the man who is responsible for the continuance of the same kind of policies and programs in the Soviet Uuion today.

Nikita Khrushchev's mind dwells in a world of his own making — as far away from American ideals and the spirit of freedom as the distance to the moon. Only a miracle could transform him into a different being.

There are those who hope for such a miracle. The next 10 days could convey to the Soviet Premier some idea of what was really back of the coolness in the courteous reception he received here on Tuesday. If he begins to ponder what makes whole peoples distrustful, he will at least have made a start toward that better understanding which he claims to seek in the relations between the government of the Soviet Union and the American people.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

NINA PETROVNA — Remember that name, for you're going to read a lot about her in the next few weeks. She is the wife of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. She also represents a major shift in the behavior of Russian leaders.

Mrs. Khrushchev will accompany her husband on his tour of the United States, along with their son, two daughters and a son-in-law. She is one of the few wives of Soviet officials to emerge from the privacy of her home in many years.

American officials are jubilant over her coming. They hope she will see many things that her husband would miss or tend to discount — women as homemakers rather than laborers, well dressed, fed and housed; rearing their children in what to her eyes undoubtedly will be relative opulence.

Through her, the United States will have incomparable opportunity to show off hospital facilities, schools, recreation areas, all as the fruits of virile capitalism operating under political freedom.

"Never underestimate the power of a woman" is an old American slogan. It is not too far-fetched to hope that the real results of Khrushchev's tour will stem from what his wife sees and transmits to him as a wife and mother, rather than what he sees and hears as the hardened Communist realist he is.

Allergy Patients' Reactions Differ Greatly

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Allergies affect different people in different ways. The relationship between dust and asthma is well known and the same can be said of ragweed pollen and hay fever. Babies who are allergic to milk develop asthma; hives is the reaction of persons sensitive to strawberries or tomatoes. In these instances, the adverse effects are noted in the lungs, nose, or skin.

No one knows why John's allergy crops out in the lungs as asthma whereas Tom's nose is the target when the hay fever season rolls around Some cases of deafness, stomach ache, canker sores, diarrhea, as well as certain eye afflictions and emotional upheavals, have been traced to allergies.

The latest to come to my attention is a disturbance of the bladder arising from a food allergy. The victim was a 45-year-old woman who had been bothered by hay fever and asthma since age 17. For more than 10 years she had encountered bouts of urinary burning, bladder spasms, and frequency.

These attacks usually came on about once a week and were associated with a rash on the face and hands. All of the usual tests for bladder and kidney disease were normal. Food tests showed a strong positive reaction to cabbage, peanuts, soybeans, and filberts. Her physician suggested that she avoid cabbage, nuts, and all members of the pea family. She improved immediately.

Bedwetting in children also has been blamed on food allergy but this is a rare cause. Dr. Harry Swartz tells of an allergist who bleeds from the urinary tract every time he eats foods that contain the slightest trace of cane sugar.

A Brooklyn dermatologist described an itching eruption on the hands of a 4-year-old who was a hula hoop addict. Tests showed she was allergic to the plastic material used in the gadget. The eruption subsided after she switched to an aluminum hula hoop.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send a leaflet on allergy if stamped, addressed envelope accompanies request).

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

One of the reasons Jack Benny stays at the top in the turbulent TV world year after year is his infectious enthusiasm and obvious enjoyment of his work. His wife Mary reveals that Jack's gusto carries over into the most minute facets of his home life.

One day, sunning himself beside his Palm Springs swimming pool, he suddenly pulled George Burns to his feet and urged, "I've got to show you something sensational upstairs in my dressing room." Burns expected the blueprint of a new space ship at least — but Benny whipped out a pair of sport shoes. "Admit it," he declared happily. "Isn't that the greatest shine you ever saw?"

Poem composed by a weary Arizona taxpayer: "Rock-a-bye, baby, why do you fret? Are you aware of the national debt? Father has gone 'round the corner to vote millions in bonds that his snookums will tote. Are you suspicious? Sleep while you can. You will squirm later, dear, when you're a man."

GOP Sold Negroes Down The River To Buy Votes To Uphold Vetoes

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Shortly before Congress adjourned, Charlie Halleck, Republican of Indiana, was lying raw and naked on a rubdown table in the Burning Tree Club where Ike golfs. On the next table lay Sen. Tom Hennings, Democrat of Missouri.

"Tom, when are we going to get out of here?" asked Halleck from under a wet towel.

"I'm afraid to talk to you," drawled the Senator from Missouri. "I've been reading about you being a tough, relentless, gut-fighter, the President's leader in Congress. It didn't sound like the old Charlie Halleck I used to know in the House."

"When are we going to get out of here?" repeated Halleck undaunted by Hennings' kidding.

"Well, we're all tired of each other, and the country's tired of us," replied the Missouri Democrat. "We ought to give the country a rest and come back in the winter, but you're the President's leader, you're the tough gut-fighter. Why don't you do something about adjourning Congress?"

Reviewing Congress

Senator Hennings was not far off. His old friend Charlie Halleck had more to do with upholding the President's hand on a long string of vetoes and running circles around the good old 77-year-old Sam Rayburn than anyone else in Washington. And now that Congress has adjourned it might be well to take a brief moment from speculating over Nikita Khrushchev to figure how Charlie did it.

He did it by the simple expedient of promising 33 key southern Congressmen everything they wanted in the way of slapping down the Negro, if they in turn would slap down housing aid-to-education, rural electrification, a moderate labor bill, and anything else Eisenhower wanted defeated.

In return, the civil rights bill was blocked for weeks in the House Judiciary Committee. Halleck had the votes to bring it out at any time. The 11 Republicans on that committee have been almost completely loyal to him. But the Congressmen from the party of Abraham Lincoln threw their weight with southern Congressmen to water down the bill and hold it up for months. Even GOP Congressman Arch Moore, who represents a srong Negro district in northern West Virginia, went along with Halleck though it may defeat him.

As a result, even the Loser bill to try to prevent dynamiting of schools and places of worship got lost in committee. A southern Congressman, Carl Loser of Tennessee, introduced the anti-dynamiting bill, but failed to get northern support.

When Halleck faced a battery of newspaper questions on "Meet the Press," Sarah McClendon of the El Paso Times was the only one to goad Charlie on the ticklish question of the GOP-southern alliance. It's supposed to be the privilege of a diplomat and a politician to lie. Charlie smilingly and effectively exercised that privilege.

As he did so, his own party whips and the GOP Policy Committee members were having regular meetings with a carefully selected group of southern Congressmen in order to strengthen the coalition, which Charlie swore did not exist.

The key southerners they picked were: Frank Boykin of Alabama, E. C Gathings and Oren Harris of Arkansas, Syd Herlong of Florida, John Pilcher, E. L. Forrester, James Davis and Iris Blitch of Georgia, Otto Passman of Louisiana, John Williams and William Colmer of Mississippi, Graham Barden and Carl Durham of North Carolina, Mendel Rivers, John Riley, W. J. Dorn and John McMillan of South Carolina, O. C. Fisher of Texas, and Howard Smtih, Vaughan Gary, Watkins Abbitt, William Tuck and Burr Harrison of Virginia.

Other Congressmen joined the coalition at times. But this was the little group of regulars that Halleck could count on. This was why when the margin of votes was slipping against him during the veto fight over the public works bill, Halleck was able to get Herlong of Florida, a Democrat, to switch his vote in order to uphold the President.

Halleck's Risks

Despite Charlie Halleck's effectiveness, he took some risks. Chief risk is that northern Negro voters will wake up. Negro voters read the newspapers less than some other groups, but once they wake up they don't forget. And Halleck runs the grave risk of having the big bloc of Negro voters in northern cities who were beginning to lean Republican suddenly wake up to the fact that they were the goats of the 86th Congress.

They didn't know it at the time, but they were responsible for upholding the President's hand. And each time it was upheld, they were sold down the river.

For in addition to Negro interest in civil rights, Negroes need public housing perhaps more than any other group. They also need better schools. But each time these questions came up, Ike's leader in the House, Charlie Halleck, rallied Republican votes with the Dixicrats to block or defeat legislation.

Another risk Halleck took is industrial repercussions in the north. Some Republicans, as Silvio Conte (Mass.), William Cahill (N. J.), and John Lindsay (N. Y.), began openly bucking the Halleck leadership. Others didn't buck openly but worried privately. Many come from strong labor districts. Even more come from industial districts which will suffer from the migration of industry to the non-union South.

And the Landrum-Griffin bill which Halleck pushed through Congress is likely to start the biggest migration of northern industry southward that this country has ever seen. Halleck's home state, Indiana, lost six Democratic Congressmen last November, and he himself squeaked through by only 6,000 votes. So if more industry moves out of Indiana as a result of Halleck's "relentless, restless gut-fighting," some of his GOP friends wonder how many more Congressional seats their party will lose in the industrial North, including Indiana.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The sweet season is coming. This will be the best. The rivers flow quiet and cold and fat fish fracture the wet mirror. Wild ducks break bomber formation to come down in the tall reeds. The summer anger of the sun has mellowed and it comes up over the blue veils of morning mist to give the milkman a long shadow. It is a time for sleeping.

The breeze is cool and it sweeps the leaves into little whirling bowls of cornflakes. The pheasant cock scratches the ground, ruffles his feathers, and begins his mating dance for a speckled hen who sits on the nest, watching and blinking and thinking. A cat digs her paws into a rug, and pulls against them in a long stretch, stares balefully at the world through yellow eyes, and dozes.

Cellars and attics are cleaned out, and debris sits on top of the refuse cans at the curb. A girl going out on a date is told by her mother: "Better wear a coat." From kindergarten, the first little drawings are brought home to mother. A man mows a lawn and mutters: "Positively the last time." From a window, an announcer says: "Carnegie Tech takes the kick on its own four, and runs it back to the nineteen."

The sea is quiet, digging its long green fingers into the scalp of sand on shore. Far out, a rutsy freight with spurious pride moves off the edge of the world. A big oak moans in the night wind because summer is gone and the long sleep is ahead. On a farm, the hounds sit quietly outside the kitchen, tails twitching, waiting for the man with the gun.

Across the Great Plains, miles and miles of gold wheat are cut and digested by big combines and corn shocks stand crisp in death. A talior dry cleans a topcoat and tries to match a button. Crisp criss-cross curtains go up behind windows. The oil man leaves the first bill of the season in the mail box. Near the breakfast table, school bus tickets and sandwiches wait on the drainboard for a child who doesn't want to get out of bed.

Little huts in the mountains are boarded up. A rowboat, pulled up from the edge of a lake, lies upside down. At the shore, sea gulls walk miles of beach alone, pecking for baby crabs in the sand. For days the sky is deep blue and cloudless. The air has a clear sparkle to it and the odor of burning leaves supplies the perfume of autumn.

The good shows are back on television and the teen agers demand to know why they can't stay up until eleven. The man at the filling station says that the car could stand a tuneup. When daylight saving goes out, everyone asks: "Do I turn the clock back or forward?" The news commentators warn us about hurricanes that are a thousand miles away and die there.

A round orange moon grins down at a country dance. On a hayride, a laughing girl looks up seriously at a boy chewing on straw and murmurs: "Don't say that unless you mean it." Birds fly south and a hint of honeysuckle hangs in the air. Church steeples hold crosses against the clear sky and a little girl puts on her Doctor Denton nighties and forgets to shut the trap door.

An old lady sits on a rocker in a home and she squints as she watches one more season die. Soon, she too will go, and she no longer minds because she has seen all this so many times. An infant draws his tiny knees up as the hunger pain hits him and he wails for service.

A teen ager on a phone says: "I'd like to, but my mother says I have to wash all the windows. Outside." On Broadway, the big shows stage their opening nights, nights when the show on the sidewalk is better than the one on the stage.

In the deep woods, the colors make drunk the eyes. It is a season of plumage and death. The sweet season . . .

LUNG INFECTION

W. A. writes: Is pneumonitis serious?

REPLY

Yes, especially when caused by micro-organisms that do not respond to the sulfonamides or antibiotics such as penicillin. Pneumonitis is not as serious as pneumonia but the two conditions are so closely related, they are difficult to distinguish from each other.

FREE COUNTRY

W. J. writes: Can a person go to a psychiatrist on his own or does he have to be referred by a physician?

REPLY

Take your choice. Medicine is still under the free enterprise system.

CONCEPTION IS POSSIBLE

G. S. writes: Can a woman conceive if she has all her pelvic organs except a fraction of one ovary?

REPLY

Yes, provided she is the right age.

FRACTURES

Mrs. T. writes: Did you ever hear of a child being born with broken bones?

REPLY

Yes. In osteogenesis imperfecta congenita, the bones are so brittle they may be fractured while the mother is still carrying the child. As a result, the baby is born with deformities of the bones.

FASTING AND FAT

R. E. writes: Would fasting for one week lower the blood cholesterol?

REPLY

Yes, but not as much as you think because the body manufactures cholesterol right along, regardless of what is eaten. There even is a possibility that the level might rise as a result of burning up reserve body tissues that contain cholesterol.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: Our six-year son has a habit of taking things from neighbors. He gets into their homes under the pretext of using the bathroom, then helps himself to small objects. He shows me (rather proudly) what he took and tells me where he got it.

I always insist he go back to the house and leave the stolen object somewhere.

I've tried to explain he shouldn't take things but he seems to be getting worse instead of better. What shall I do? — WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You are fostering this boy's thievery by making a game of it. The next time he steals something make him take it back and HAND IT TO THE WOMAN with his apologies. And go with him to make sure he does it just this way.

Many youngsters go through the light-fingered stage. With proper parental guidance they normally stop as they get older.

It's a form of collusion when you permit the boy to sneak the stolen object back into the home. He can't see the difference between sneaking it out and sneaking it in. This could become a dangerous practice and I hope you'll put an end to it at once.

DEAR ANN: My wife says I'm a case for a psychiatrist. Before I head for the couch I'd like your opinion.

I'm an incurable romanticist. My wife and I both work. I get home before she does. It's fun to fix cocktails, turn the hi fi on, and prepare a romantic setting.

The minute she comes in she removes her make-up, gets into a shabby bathrobe and says "I'm exhausted!" When I suggest she put on a nice house coat (I've bought her several) and comb her hair she says, "What for? To sit around with a nut like you?"

She's in a high-style business and looks like a fashion model every day. Is it asking too much for her to look presentable for me? Whenever I bring up this subject she says, "Boy, you need help." Do I, Ann Landers? — PSYCHO

DEAR PSYCHO: It could be that SHE needs help. I don't buy the idea that a wife should wear her stand-up girdle and sit-down shoes 18 hours a day. But if she insists on pouring ice water on her husband's romantic moods, and makes him feel like a psycho because he thinks she's still a knock-out — she's asking for trouble.

DEAR ANN: I've been going with a fellow for two years. He's 27 and I'm 5 years younger. The big trouble is he was married and has a little girl he's crazy about.

He tells me his ex-wife means nothing to him, yet he seems to wind up over at her house every time he gets the chance. Whenever he's late (two hours or more) and I ask what delayed him he says he stopped by to see his little girl. I'm beginning to think it's BOTH girls he's stopping to see, but I can't prove it.

I have a wonderful job and could get a transfer to any state in the country. My mother thinks I should leave town and forget this fellow. I love him and I'd marry him tomorrow if he'd say the word. What's your advice? — LADY BUG

DEAR LADY BUG: Fly away.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

¾ cup milk
⅛ teaspoon crushed tarragon
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese

Yield: 4 Chicken-Mushroom Souffle Sandwiches.

Oat Crumble Ice Cream

Hot weather cooks will like the speed and ease of preparing Oat Crumble Ice Cream Dessert. It's so easy to make and requires no baking. Melted butter, brown sugar, and rolled oats are combined in a fry pan over low heat until thoroughly mixed. (An electric fry pan is excellent for this recipe.) This mixture is then spread in a very thin layer on a buttered baking sheet or waxed paper, cooled, and mashed into fine crumbs ready to use. The Oat Crumble can be made ahead of time and stored in an air-tight container for future use. In addition to making the refrigerator dessert pictured above, it makes an excellent topping for ice cream or puddings. The ingredient use of breakfast cereals makes contributions of protein, valuable B vitamins, essential minerals, and food energy.

Oat Crumble Ice Cream Dessert

(Oat Crumble)
⅓ cup butter or margarine
1¼ cups light brown sugar
Dash of salt
1 cup rolled oats, quick or regular

Melt butter or margarine in large fry pan over low heat. Add sugar and stir until sugar is melted. Stir in salt and rolled oats. Cook, stirring constantly, over low heat until thoroughly mixed. Spread out very thin onto buttered baking sheet or waxed paper. Cool. Mash into fine crumbs. Yield: About 2 cups crumbs.

(Ice Cream Dessert)
2 cups oat crumble
2 quarts vanilla ice cream, softened

Sprinkle ½ cup fine oat crumbs evenly over bottoms of 2 refrigerator ice cube trays. Spread softened ice cream over crumbs. Sprinkle tops with remaining crumbs. Return to freezer until frozen. Yield: 12 servings.

Minced Ham Pinwheels

1 can minced ham
1 chopped hard-cooked egg
1 teaspoon pickle relish
Enough mayonnaise to moisten

Try This Peanut-Banana Chiffon Pie

Some crust! Outside the kitchen that saying may not be a compliment but to a pie-maker, it's high praise. Pie crust draws the line between the "pro" and the beginner in the pastry-making department.

There are tricks to all trades, however, and beginners are equal to "pros" when it comes to making crumb crust for pies.

Peanut butter mixed with graham crackers and honey is one of the favorite crumb crusts. It's "easy as pie" to make and it's especially good in summer when refrigerator pies are the order of the day.

The filling for peanut-graham crust? Banana lemon chiffon—light as a cloud. Lemon flavored gelatin, whipped to a froth; whipped evaporated milk (or whipped cream), mashed bananas and lemon juice are combined and poured into the crust. When the filling is firm, garnish with crushed peanut brittle.

Peanut-Graham Cracker Crust

Blend ½ cup creamy style peanut butter with 2 tablespoons honey; combine with ¾ cup graham cracker crumbs; blend thoroughly. Pour mixture into greased 9-inch pie pan and press firmly against bottom and sides of pan. (An easy way to press crumbs into shape is by using an 8-inch pie plate.) Bake in 325 degree oven, 10 minutes. Cool and chill in refrigerator until set—at least 2 hours. Add filling.

Lemon-Banana Chiffon Filling

Open one 6 ounce can evaporated milk and pour into mixing bowl. Place in freezing compartment of refrigerator and chill until ice crystals form around edge of bowl. Meanwhile dissolve 1 package lemon flavored gelatin in ¾ cup hot water. Refrigerate. When cool and partially set (about the consistency of unbeaten egg white) whip with rotary beater or electric mixer until fluffy. Whip milk until stiff, add a dash of salt and fold in the gelatin. Add 1 cup mashed bananas, ¼ cup lemon juice and ½ cup powdered sugar. Pour into chilled pie shell and refrigerate until firm. Before serving sprinkle top of pie with crushed peanut brittle. Makes one 9-inch pie or enough for 8 servings. (If 1 cup whipping cream is used, instead of milk, do not add salt.)

Fudge Pie Filling is delicious in Peanut-Graham Cracker Crust, also. Here's the recipe:

Fudge Pie Filling

6-oz. package semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1½ cups graham cracker crumbs
14-oz. can condensed milk
½ cup chopped peanuts
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler; combine with remaining ingredients. Spread mixture into chilled crumb crust. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees for 30 minutes. Serves 8 to 10—very rich.

Variations for Peanut-Graham Cracker Crust:

Blend ½ cup peanut butter with 2 tablespoons honey and 1⅓ cups old fashioned gingersnap crumbs; pour into 9-inch pie plate, press firmly into shape; bake in 325 degree oven for 10 minutes; chill before adding filling.

Blend 1 cup graham cracker crumbs with ¼ cup butter and ¼ cup sugar; add ½ cup each finely chopped peanuts and dates. Press mixture into 9-inch pie plate; bake in 325 degree oven 10 minutes, chill well and fill with quick lemon meringue filling.

Lamb, Celery, Cheese Are Peppy Trio

If you're looking for simplicity in meal preparation, here is a recipe easy as A-B-C. You might describe it as Lamburgers but the actual recipe name is Cheese 'n Celery Lamb Patties.

If the children in your household favor ground meat dishes, here is your opportunity to score 100 per cent in the eyes of these critical food judges.

Ground lamb is an imaginative way to introduce more lamb into the weekly menu plans. Certainly for summer mealtime plans, this recipe will act as a real incentive to the waning appetites of children.

Seasonings, celery seed and catchup combine with the ground lamb to make perfectly flavored patties ready for the broiler. Grated cheddar cheese is added just long enough before the end of cooking time to give the patties a frosted appearance.

Cheese 'n Celery Lamb Patties

1 pound ground lamb
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon celery seed
¼ cup catchup
¼ cup grated cheddar cheese

Combine lamb, salt, pepper, celery seed and catchup. Shape into 4 patties about ¾ inch thick. Place on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan so that the top surface of meat is 2 to 3 inches from the heat. Broil until brown on first side, about 8 minutes. Turn, broil second side 3 to 4 minutes. Sprinkle grated cheese on patties and continue broiling 1 to 2 minutes, or until cheese is melted. Yield: 4 servings.

Open Faced Sardine, Swiss Cheese Sandwich

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 (3¼-ounce) can sardines, drained and chopped
6 slices Swiss cheese
6 slices enriched bread
6 circles green pepper
6 slices tomato

Melt butter in a skillet. Add onion and green pepper and saute until onions are tender. Add sardines and heat. Place a slice of Swiss cheese on each bread slice. Top with 3 tablespoons of the sardine mixture. Place a green pepper circle on top of the sardine mixture and a tomato slice in the green pepper circle. Top each sandwich with a tablespoon of mayonnaise.

Yield: 6 Open Faced Sardine-Swiss Cheese Sandwiches.

Frosty Tingler

2 cups apple juice
2 cups tomato juice
12 whole cloves
4 onion slices
1 teaspoon sugar
Few pieces basil
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Lemon slices

WIFE PRESERVERS

Protect your rubber swimming cap when you store it for the winter. Wash thoroughly, dry and cover, inside and out, with talcum powder or corn starch. Then pack it away in a cool, dark place.

Scrambled Egg And Liver Sandwiches

2 slices bacon, chopped
½ cup (¼ pound) chopped liver
¼ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
Few grains cayenne
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
3 eggs, slightly-beaten
4 sandwich buns, split and toasted

Cook chopped bacon over low heat until lightly browned, stirring frequently. Add liver. Continue cooking until liver has lost its red color and just begins to brown, stirring to cook on all sides. Combine milk, salt, pepper, cayenne and green pepper with egg. Stir into bacon mixture and cook over medium heat until mixture just begins to set around edges. Fold edge of mixture into center with a spoon. Repeat until all of mixture is softly set. Serve in toasted buns.

Yield: 4 Scrambled Egg and Liver Sandwiches.

Apple Ham Mousse

1 12-oz. can luncheon meat, ground, or
2 cups ground cooked ham
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 cup canned apple sauce
2 tablespoons horseradish
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
½ cup heavy cream
Chicory
*Mustard Dressing

To ground meat add celery, onion, apple sauce, horseradish and mustard. Soften gelatine in cold water in top section of double boiler. Then place over boiling water to dissolve gelatine; add to meat mixture. Beat cream until stiff; fold into meat mixture. Pour into mold; chill until firm. Unmold on chicory. Serve with dressing. Makes 6-8 servings.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — In a 12-minute conversation with Yul Brynner who is in Paris, he openly admitted to me that there is a definite separation between him and Virginia Gilmore, his wife of many years. Yul told me he did not plan to marry again if he gets his freedom from Virginia.

Twelve minutes were all I was allowed because of the crowded overseas telephone circuits, but I must say Yul packed a lot of news into the phone. He told me he had spent the day with the high commissioners from Geneva, mapping out a world-wide trip to refugee camps which he will do for United Nations. In five days he starts traveling and will televise his findings in the camps for release in the United States at Thanksgiving time.

His next motion picture is "Winter Coffee" which he will make in London for Stanley Donen.

Certainly the plans of Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer sound as if they will be very busy for the next month. Audrey and Mel leave Saturday for Zurich, Switzerland, to attend the premiere of "The Nun's Story." In fact Audrey tells me she is booked for all the "Nun" premieres in Europe, including Stockholm, Copenhagen, Rome, Brussels and Amsterdam.

In Amsterdam there will be two premieres, one for the Red Cross and the other for the Veterans Refugee Fund. Audrey lived in Amsterdam as a little girl during Nazi occupation. At the Brussels opening, the newlyweds Prince Albert and Princess Paoli will be guests of honor.

The Ferrers return to Hollywood the middle of October when Mel will work with Dorothy Kingsley on "Nine Coaches Waiting," the movie he and Dorothy will coproduce.

While Eva Marie Saint's business representatives were trying to work out a schedule so she could do both "Exodus" and "Summer And Smoke," Eva Marie was working in her garden. She came to the telephone out of breath.

She is practically set for "Exodus," which means three months away from home. Eva Marie said she knew it would be a long time, but she still wants to do it. She's taking the two children and their nurse.

"What about leaving Jeffrey (Hayden, her husband)?" I asked. She said, "He'll be so busy working on 'Winesburg, Ohio' and 'Staccato,' the new TV series, that he won't have time to miss me. But he'll probably fly over to see us."

American audiences have had no chance to see Lex Barker since he and Lana Turner were divorced, and he went to live in Italy. Now he is coming back in "Tales Of The Vikings," Kirk Douglas' TV series. Lex just got under the gun in time to make the 39th segment.

He and his new wife went to Munich last week end to film the end of the "Viking" series, which will soon be released in this country. Some of Lex's Hollywood friends were shocked when he showed so little sympathy for Lana and her daughter Cheryl, at a time when they needed him.

I can't get excited over the arrival in our town of Brigitte Bardot's sister, Mijanou, who will be here in time to co-star with Mamie Van Doren in "Teacher Was a Sexpot" — what a horrible title! This will be Al Zugsmith's first for Allied Artists, and will precede "Confessions Of An Opium Eater."

Mijanou was to fly here in July for "The Private Lives Of Adam And Eve," but turned down the role when she learned her costume consisted mainly of fig leaves. Apparently she's more modest than Brigitte, who seems to find being clothed a great burden.

Samuel Goldwyn, known to fame as a producer, but whom I call the best exploitation man in Hollywood, takes off next week with his devoted Frances to be the guest of Anne and Henry Ford II at Grosse Point. By no accident, whatsoever, the Fords are sponsoring the Detroit premiere of "Porgy And Bess," just as later in October Mamie Eisenhower sponsors the Washington premiere on the 14th.

But it actually is all for charity and Sam tells me his Goldwyn Foundation, not a cent of which he keeps, will net millions to give away.

Chicken Liver Appetizers

Property Owners Will Pay Costs

WESTERNPORT — The second and final reading of an amendment to Ordinance 10 was unanimously approved by the Mayor and Council Wednesday. When a water meter one inch or larger is installed, the property owners will be required to pay for the meter and the cost of installation.

Mrs. Edwin Ross and Mrs. Owen Lewis commended the Mayor and Council for putting blacktop on a portion of Ross Street, and asked that additional repairs to the street be made. They were told that shale will be put on the street and rolled in about two weeks.

Another delegation comprised of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stephens, Clarence W. Fazenbaker, Noah Wright, Harry Nesbitt, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Strong and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Broadwater asked that Riorden Street be improved. They were told that eight tons of blacktop will be laid and holes filled in.

Robert Martin, who resides outside the town limits, asked permission to "hook on" to the tank at the filtration plant to run water to his home. The tank contains water to backwash in the filtration plant. Officials took the matter under advisement.

Mayor Ray L. Wilt stated that Mrs. Jane Gardine asked that a 36-inch sewer be laid at the lower end of Ross Street.

Purdue At UCLA, GWU Faces Detroit, Florida At Tulane

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press International

College football crashes into the sports scene this weekend with Purdue of the Big Ten a 12-point choice to whip U.C.L.A. in Friday night's big game at Los Angeles.

Louisiana State, last year's national champion, and many other major teams open their seasons Saturday. However, all Big Ten teams except Purdue plus Notre Dame, Oklahoma and Army won't begin play until the following weekend.

Coach Paul Dietzel's Louisiana State team is a 13½ point choice to defeat Rice of the Southwestern Conference at Baton Rouge, La. This game will be nationally televised (N.B.C.) at 4:45 p.m., e.d.t.

Purdue, rated by some observers the "dark horse" this year in the always-rugged Big Ten, will have an edge over U.C.L.A. in weight and experience. Fullback Bob Jarus is a key man in the Purdue backfield. U.C.L.A. also has a good fullback in Ray Smith and the team expects big things of Bill Kilmer, the tailback in Coach Bill Barnes' single wing.

Detroit, Florida Favored

In Friday night's other two top games, Detroit plays host to George Washington and Tulane entertains Florida. Detroit is favored by 10 points and Florida by seven.

Rice tackles a Louisiana State team that has most of the lettermen back from the 1958 squad that swept 10 regular season games and then shut out Clemson in the Sugar Bowl, 7-0. Coach Jess Neely's Rice team appears strongest in the line—the best place to be strong—where two brothers, Rufus and Boyd King, operate at guard and center.

Pitt Picked To Win

Duke is favored over South Carolina by one point, Georgia is picked over Alabama by the same slim margin, Kentucky and Georgia Tech are rated even, Virginia is a five-point choice over William and Mary, Wake Forest is a two-point favorite over Florida State and Virginia Tech is rated even with North Carolina State in other southern features.

Mississippi of the Southeastern Conference is a 13½ point favorite to win its Saturday night road game with the University of Houston. Arkansas is favored over Tulsa by 12 points, Texas A and M is favored over Texas Tech by 6½. Texas Christian is favored over Kansas by 15 and Oklahoma State is a six-point choice against Cincinnati in other games in the southwest. Texas of the Southwest Conference visits Nebraska and is an 11-point choice.

Oregon Is Choice

In western games Saturday, California is a one-point choice to beat Washington State, Oregon is favored over Stanford by four, Southern California is favored over Oregon State by 6½ and Washington is a five-point choice to defeat Colorado.

Most eastern schools do not play until next week but Navy, under new Coach Wayne Hardin, is a 12½ point favorite for its road game with Boston College. Pittsburgh invades the Midwest and is favored over Marquette by 14 while Penn State invades Columbia,Mo., to meet Missouri. The game is rated a tossup.

Johnson, Anthony To Fight Tonight

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — Alonzo Johnson, a replacement for Willie Pastrano in Friday night's nationally - televised bout at the Baltimore Coliseum, is a 7-5 choice to whip Tony Anthony in the 10-rounder.

Johnson, 26, was selected to replace Pastrano as Anthony's opponent after Pastrano injured a leg in training. Johnson could prove a more dangerous opponent for Anthony, who is ranked fifth among light heavyweights.

Ring Magazine recently boosted Johnson's stock by rating him the No. 10 heavyweight in the country on the strength of his upset victory over Nino Valdez in Madison Square Garden last May. Johnson followed up with another surprise by defeating Pastrano in Louisville, Ky.

Earned 12 Letters

Pirates Trim St. Louis, 7-0

Haddix Wins 12th, Hurls Four-Hitter

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Bill Virdon hit an inside-the-park home run and a double to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7-0 win over the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday night.

Pittsburgh lefty Harvey Haddix twirled a four-hitter to gain his 12th victory against 11 losses.

Virdon's blow and four of the Pirate runs came in the sixth as Don Hoak doubled and went to third later on a bad throw by third baseman Ken Boyer. Bill Mazeroski went to second on the play. Virdon then cleared the bases with his seventh homer.

Lindy McDaniel came in in the ninth for the Cardinals. It was his 59th appearance in relief this year, tying a club record for right handed pitchers.

St. Louis	000 000 000—	0 4 3

Haddix (12-11) and Burgess. Jackson, Stone (6), Duliba (7), McDaniel (9) and Mc Carver. Loser—Jackson (13-13). HR—Virdon.

Terra Alta Tops Northern, 20-0

Terra Alta High School of Preston county defeated Northern High School of Accident, last night at Kingwood by the score of 20-0.

The loss was the second straight for the Garrett County gridders who dropped a 20-6 decision to Meyersdale, Pa., last weekend.

Terra Alta is now 2-1 for the season, having beaten Clay-Battelle and Northern and lost to Petersburg.

Leo Durocher Quits TV Job For Baseball

Expected To Join Cleveland Indians

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Leo Durocher Thursday quit his $65,000 a year job with NBC-TV to return to baseball as a manager, possibly with the Cleveland Indians.

Durocher, reached as he was about to board a jetliner for Pittsburgh, was reluctant to discuss a report he was going back to the game where he piloted the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants to championship years.

"Yes, it's true that I have notified NBC that I was not re-signing my contract which expires Oct. 1 but I have never told anyone that I was going back to baseball. I guess they were all right in assuming that.

A reporter pressed him: "Is it baseball?"

"Yes," answered Durocher, "it's baseball."

"Is it the Cleveland Indians?" asked the reporter.

"I can't say anything about that," he answered.

A source close to Durocher at NBC told a reporter the Indians' General Manager Frank Lane approached Durocher six weeks ago to get him to take over the club in the American League stretch drive with the Chicago White Sox.

"Leo told Lane then that he couldn't break his contract with NBC but that he was interested in the job," the source added.

Rocky Is Humorist

Detroit Tigers teammates insist that shortstop Rocky Bridges must be rated among the top humorists in baseball.

One chuckle they credit to Bridges:

It seems the Tigers were journeying through the Florida countryside en route to an exhibition game last spring when their bus passed by an abandoned rural schoolhouse. The windows were shattered, the brick walls were crumbling, and the roof of the building was completely caved in.

"Looks as though someone must have flunked chemistry," Rocky commented quietly.

Ridgeley Legion Wins Rec League Title

Kenney Shuts Out Old Germans, 14-0; Morgan Has 5 RBIs

Ridgeley's American Legion tossers won the championship of the Men's Rec Softball League for the 1959 season by walloping the Old Germans yesterday at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 14-0.

The win gave the team managed by Don Decker and Al Decker a two-game sweep in the final series with the Old Germans. Ridgeley won the opening game on Wednesday by the score of 5-3.

Bill Kenney, the winningest pitcher in the 14-team circuit this year tossed a two-hitter yesterday and wound up the campaign with an overall record of 23 wins and six losses. John McVicker's single in the second inning and Jimmy Dunn's single in the third frame were the only hits yielded by Kenney over the 7-inning route. It was Kenney's second shutout victory of the season. Bill defeated the Old Germans thrice in four outings this season.

Kenney won 19 and lost five during the regular season and had a 4-1 record in the playoffs. Don Decker had a 2-0 record during the regular campaign.

Ridgeley scored in every inning but the fifth and collected 14 hits off "Pickles" Doolan in yesterday's contest. The Old Germans' pitching ace suffered his 7th loss against 18 victories.

Ed Barley sparked the Legion attack with a triple and three singles while Morgan Morgan hit safely thrice and batted in five runs. Kenney contributed a three-base clout.

The Legion tossers turned in a 21-5 record during the regular season and copped two out of three games from the Sports Shoppe in the playoff semi-finals. The Old Germans eliminated Post's Playground, two games to one, to reach the finals.

Most of the players on the Ridgeley team this season were members of Kelly Local No. 26, league champions of 1958.

Yesterday's score:

Old Germans	000 000 0—	0 2 3
Ridgeley Legion	116 303 x—14	14 0

Doolan and Eversole, B. Kenney and J. Weakley.

Ft. Hill Plays At Frederick, LaSalle Invades Morgantown

Cadets Host Sentinels In League Game

Both Won Openers; Explorers To Play St. Francis Trojans

The local stadium will be dark this weekend but Fort Hill High School's Sentinels will launch their Cumberland Valley Athletic League schedule with the Frederick High Cadets at Frederick and LaSalle's Explorers will journey to Morgantown, W.Va., to do battle with the St. Francis High School Trojans in football contests on tap for tonight.

Allegany High School, victorious last week over Beall by the score of 20-0 in the Mountain City, is idle this weekend but will swing into action again one week from tonight against North Hagerstown High School in the Hub City.

Fort Hill, undefeated since late in 1956, will be gunning for its fourth straight win over Frederick when it meets Jack Molesworth's Cadets in the home town of Barbara Frietchie.

In the past three seasons the Sentinels have rolled up 94 points while yielding only 21 in copping three in a row from the Cadets and are favored in tonight's league game, the first for both schools.

Both Copped Openers

Frederick kicked off the lid last week by whipping Howard County High at Ellicott City, 27-0, while Fort Hill trimmed LaSalle High's Explorers, 39-6. Fort Hill has gone undefeated in 21 consecutive games. This includes a tie contest with North Hagerstown last season. Frederick was 3-7-0 in 1958. This is Jack Molesworth's third year at the helm. Charley Lattimer made his debut as Fort Hill mentor last week.

Fort Hill tied North Hagerstown for the CVAL title last year, each school having won five games and played one tie. In three years of competition in the CVAL Fort Hill won the title outright in 1957, tied Hagerstown High for first place in 1956 and deadlocked North Hagerstown for the crown last year. The Sentinels own a 16-1-1 record in the league.

Trojans Host LaSalle

Coach Don Harden's LaSalle Explorers play their initial road game tonight at Morgantown against Coach Sam Barberio's Trojans who have won their first two outings, beating Lumberport, 19-6, and Mountaineer High of Thomas, 20-6.

LaSalle never has beaten St. Francis on the gridiron. The schools have not met since 1955 and in four meetings the Trojans have won twice and played one tie game.

In another CVAL game on tap for tonight, Herb Ruby's Westminster High School Owls tackle Mel Henry's North Hagerstown High gridders in the Hub City. The co-champions of 1958 battled York, Pa., to a scoreless tie last week while Westminster trimmed Gettysburg, 12-6.

Saturday night, Martinsburg and South Hagerstown's Rebels open their CVAL schedules in the Hub City.

Purdue Is Picked To Cop Grid Title

CHICAGO (UPI) — Purdue was picked Thursday by ten of 19 football writers who toured Big Ten training camps by chartered plane to win the conference championship and a Rose Bowl berth.

The Boilermakers finished with 175 points on the basis of 10 points for a first place selection, nine for second etc., and no writer picked them to finish worse than fourth.

Wisconsin, with six first place votes, was runner - up with 172 points and Ohio State, with the other three first place ballots, was third with 164 points.

Defending champion Iowa was next with 118 points, Northwestern fifth with 110, and Michigan State sixth with 108. Point totals for the other teams were Illinois 62, Indiana 61, Michigan 41, Minnesota 34.

Lyles Is Claimed By Forty Niners

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Forty Niners on Thursday claimed halfback Lenny Lyles of the Baltimore Colts.

Lyles, put up on waivers by the Colts, was their first draft choice in 1958. He will arrive in San Francisco Thursday night and accompany the team to Salt Lake City Saturday for the game against the New York Giants.

Lyles, a graduate of University of Louisville, stands 6-1 and weighs 203 pounds.

To Wax Ingo

LONDON (AP) — Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson is about to line up with the great men of all time—in wax. Madame Tussaud's Waxworks announced Thursday they are putting an effigy of the big Swede in their box-the corner, tucked away among kings and queens, statesmen and soldiers.

A GOOD SIGN — An outstanding player in American Legion baseball, Darrell Farrar, 17-year-old former Pomona High star, has been signed to a bonus contract by the Boston Red Sox. Farrar, an outfielder, hit over .500 in Legion ball. He will report to Raleigh, N. C., in the Class B loop.

Phillies Beat Chicago, 5-2

598 Chilled Fans See Roberts Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Playing before 598 chilled fans, one of the smallest Wrigley Field crowds in memory, the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 behind the six-hit pitching of Robin Roberts.

It was Robert' fourth triumph in a row, balancing his 1959 record at 15-15.

Richie Ashburn, the Phillies' 32-year-old center-fielder, clubbed three singles in his first three times at bat to tie a 58-year-old club record of 2,211 hits. The old mark was set by Ed Delahanty in 1901.

The three hits gave Ashburn a total of 144 hits in 146 games this season. After he walked in the sixth, Manager Eddie Sawyer withdrew Richie from the game and refused to play him again until the Phillies return home Saturday night to play Milwaukee. This will provide him a chance to break Delahanty's mark before Philadelphia fans.

Ford Leads At El Paso, Shoots 65

Campbell, Martin Second With 68s

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Doug Ford of Clearwater, Fla., shot a sparkling seven-under-par 65 Thursday to take a three-stroke lead in the first round in the $20,000 El Paso Open golf tourney.

Ford, justifying his role as one of the pre-tourney favorites, fired a three-under 34 on the front nine and then birdied the last three holes for a four-under 31 on the final nine.

Joe Campbell, Knoxville, Tenn., and Iverson Martin, El Paso, each shot 68 to tie for second place.

At 69 were Ernie Vossler of Midland, Houston Laclaire of Birmingham, Ala., and Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla.

Ford sank a 12-foot putt on the first hole to get off to a birdie start. He made a five-footer on number 3 to go two under par on the first three holes. He sank another 12-footer on number 9 for still another birdie.

On the 16th and 17th holes, he made four foot putts for birdies and curved in a 13-footer to mark up his seventh birdie on the 18th.

Keyser High Puts 25-Game Win Streak On Line Today

Clarkmen Entertain Beall In Latter's Conference Debut

Coach Jerry Calhoun's Beall High School Mountaineers make their debut in the Potomac Valley Conference when they tangle with Keyser High School's co-champions of 1958 today at 1:30 p. m. (D.S.T.) at Keyser.

Last season Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark's team shared the PVC crown with the West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romney. Keyser was 5-0 and the Lions were 4-0 for the league season.

Prior to last year KHS had won the crown outright four years in a row and today the Mineral Countians will be putting a 25-game winning streak on the line. The Clarkmen have not lost a PVC game since 1953.

Since Beall revived football in 1946 the Mountaineers have met Keyser ten times and trail in victories scored, seven to three.

Charles Town and Parsons cancelled on Keyser and today's game will be the season opener for the West Virginians. Beall lost its opener to Allegany High by the score of 20-0.

Four Other PVC Tilts

Four other P.V.C. games are on tap for Friday afternoon.

Coach Tom O'Connor's Ridgeley Blackhawks will be angling for win No. 2 when they journey to Berkeley Springs to tackle Allen Goldstrom's Indians, Ed Hartman's Romney Pioneers will play host to the Panthers of Franklin High, Moorefield tackles Wayne Barr's Petersburg Vikings at Petersburg and the West Virginia School for the Deaf, only unbeaten team in the tri-state area last season with an 8-0 mark, plays host to Southern High School of Oakland.

Ridgeley opened with a 26-0 victory over Circleville in the league opener for both schools last week. Berkeley Springs bowed to Hancock, 8-2, for its second loss of the season. Romney lost to Charles Town, 26-9 and Franklin was blanked by Green Bank, 35-0, Moorefield topped Southern of Oakland, 25-7 and Petersburg edged Terra Alta in Preston County, 7-6.

George Maver Dies

Hancock At Musselman

In other nearby West Virginia games billed today, Mountaineer of Thomas visits Belington and Hancock High visits the Applemen of Muselman High School.

Over in Pennsylvania, Bedford's Bisons, victorious over Everett last week, 20-7, tackle the Eagles at Somerset High tonight.

Colleges Open Saturday

Potomac State College opens its season Saturday night with West Virginia Wesleyan College at Buckhannon. This will be the first of six West Virginia Conference games for Coach Dana "Horse" Lough's Catamounts. Other games are with Glenville, Salem, Shepherd, Davis & Elkins and Concord. Potomac opens at home with Glenville, September 26.

Coach Jesse Riggleman's Shepherd College Rams invade Fairmont for a WVIC contest with the Fairmont State Falcons on Saturday. San Francisco Belts Braves, 13-6, Takes 2-Game Lead

Willie Mays Leads Giants' 14-Hit Attack

Spahn Is Chased Early; Mathews Clouts 2 Homers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants, slugging monsters awakening from a hit lethargy, pounded six Milwaukee pitchers for 14 hits Thursday and a stunning 13-6 victory that boosted their league lead to two full games.

With World Series money in the air and only eight more games to play the rollicking young Giants:

1—Chased starter Warren Spahn from the game before he could get a man out. They scored three times in the first inning on four hits and a walk. Spahn pitched only 18 balls before he was lifted.

2—Watched Willie Mays get four hits in four official trips to the plate, including his 31st home run of the year, drive in five runs and score four.

3—Saw leadoff man Eddie Bressoud get three hits including his ninth home run and score four runs.

San Francisco had an 8-0 lead after four innings and Milwaukee never was in the running.

All six of Milwaukee's runs were driven in by home runs and a sacrifice fly by Eddie Mathews. He clouted one homer off Giant starting pitcher Jack Sanford with two aboard in the fifth and hit another off Sanford with one man on in the seventh.

Compared with Wednesday's 2-0 masterpiece pitched by Lew Burdette for a Milwaukee victory, Thursday's game was a ragged affair. There were two errors by each team, a hit batsman and interference by a catcher.

Sanford, winning his 15th game of the year, was battered freely and gave up nine hits and five runs before he was lifted after seven innings.

Manager Fred Haney of Milwaukee, playing as if the World Series depended upon this game, never let a pitcher come up to hit. However, none of the six hurlers was effective against the rampaging Giants.

Cumberland Mutuel Handle In Hub City $57,429 Above 1958

Wagering for the first four days of the Cumberland Fair Association's race meeting at Hagerstown reached $784,890 yesterday and that's $57,429 more than was handled during the corresponding period last year at the Cumberland half mile oval.

The mutuel handle every day this week in the Hub City had exceeded that at the local half miler in 1958. The four-day total here last year was $727,461.

The fans wagered $199,656 on the eight races yesterday.

Coe Reaches Semi-Finals At Colorado

Nicklaus, Andrews, Wysong Advance

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—Gene Andrews, a middle-aged Californian, and Dud Wysong, a fuzzy - cheeked Texas youth, reached the semifinals of the National Amateur golf tournament Thursday along with favored Walker Cup stars Charlie Coe and Jackie Nicklaus.

Coe, the brilliant 35-year-old defending champion, defeated Ted Gleichmann of Saticoy, Calif., 4 and 3, in the rain Thursday morning and then edged his 43-year-old Walker Cup teammate, Bill Hyndman of Abington, Pa., 2 up, in a torrid afternoon duel — the most exciting of the tournament.

Jackie Nicklaus, 19 - year - old Ohio State junior from Columbus, Ohio, and Coe's teammate on the Walker Cup team, eliminated David Smith Jr., Gastonia, N.C., 1-up, in the fifth round and ousted 29-year-old Dick Yost, an insurance man from Portland, Ore., 2 and 1, in the afternoon quarterfinals.

Andrews, a 46-year-old insurance man from Whittier, Calif., won both matches by 1 up margins, eliminating Dee Replogle of Oklahoma City in the morning and Charlie Harrison of Atlanta, Ga., in the afternoon.

Wysong, a 20-year-old Dallas student who plans to attend North Texas State college this year, edged Tom Draper of Royal Oak, Mich., 1 up, and 50-year-old David (spec) Goldman of Dallas, 3 and 1.

Shenandoah Double Won By Northcutt

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP) —J. Frank Northcutt, leading rider at Charles Town, snapped out of a brief slump Thursday night completing his first double of the young meeting by turning in both ends of the Shenandoah Downs daily double.

A ladies night crowd estimated at 3,600 saw Northcutt bring the $17 winner Calico Creek out of the pack to win the first race and then win handily with Blenheim Time in the second to complete the $33.20 payoff. The victories were Northcutt's third and fourth of this meeting.

Blenheim Time, owned and trained by Northcutt's contract holder, George Stribling was the shortest priced winner of the meet, returning his backers $3, $2.20 and $2.20.

White Sox Hope To Twist Tail Of Tiger Into Flag Clincher

Detroit Will Open Three-Game Series In Chicago Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox rested Thursday, hoping to twist the tail of the Detroit Tigers into an American League pennant clinching this weekend.

The White Sox, holding a 5½ game lead over the wavering Cleveland Indians, meet the Tigers Friday night, Saturday and Sunday in a three-game series which could clinch the bunting.

Are the Pale Hose tense, trying as they are to win their first championship in 40 years?

"I think I'm the only tense man on the squad," said Manager Al Lopez. "The attitude of the players is to play each game as it comes up. Me, I'm worried about shutting the gate as soon as possible.

"I have to say this, though, as unusual as it might seem. I slept better last night—despite our 3-1 loss in New York—than I have for a long while. Maybe, it was the cool weather."

Maybe, also, it was the fact that Cleveland also lost Wednesday to Boston 6-5 to reduce the magic number for the White Sox to three.

The White Sox can clinch the pennant by sweeping all three games from Detroit. They also can stow away the title by Saturday with victories in the first two games against Detroit provided Cleveland loses once to Kansas City in a three-game set which also begins Friday.

Thieves Cut Cable

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—Thieves apparently seeking lead and copper cut the South Africa-Australia cable this week and disrupted service for 48 hours. But they worked in vain—neither of these valuable metals is to be found in the cable, authorities said. Service is routed via Zanzibar and London until low water permits repairs.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT.	2 ♥
3 ♣	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♥.

A slight lack of economy in the management of the trump suit proved fatal to declarer today.

The bidding was enterprising, but the final contract of four spades was reasonable. West opened the queen of hearts which was ducked all around. The suit was continued and ruffed by declarer, who thought it discreet to draw trumps at once. He, therefore, led a low spade and played the ten from dummy, which East gathered in with the king. A heart was returned, and declarer ruffed with the jack. Had West overruffed, declarer would have brought in the hand, for on regaining the lead he could have drawn both remaining trumps with his queen and cashed all his high cards. But West properly refused to ruff because by making a discard he retained ace-nine as a tenace over declarer's queen-four and could not be prevented from winning two trump tricks.

Declarer had handled his trump assets rather wastefully. East's heart bid should have alerted him to the danger of an overruff in that suit, and he should arrange to give as much protection as possible to his spade honors.

Upon winning the second trick, South's best play was to enter dummy by overtaking the jack of diamonds with the queen and lead the low spade from dummy through East. East will play low, and South's jack forces the ace.

West will presumably get out with a diamond. South then enters dummy with a club to lead another low spade, not the ten. East will win with the king and return another heart. Having conserved the ten of spades in dummy, declarer can now afford to ruff with the queen of spades, and the ten in dummy draws West's remaining trump.

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Two Scottish teen-agers were found guilty Thursday of bigamy. Robert Burgess, 19, and Mary Lynch, 18, admitted they were already married to two other people when they went through a ceremony April 24. Burgess was sentenced to three weeks in jail. Mrs. Lynch, the mother of a year-old child by her legal marriage, was let off with a reprimand.

Revenue Of Area Railroad Affected By Steel Strike

The steel strike is affecting the revenues of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and the Western Maryland Railway.

Howard E. Simpson, president, announced that the railroad had a net income of $240,000 last month.

However, this was a drastic decline compared with a net income of $1,740,00 realized in August last year. The road earned $806,000 in July and prior to the strike turned in a net of $2,513,000 for June. Its best monthly profit this year was $3,283,000 marked up for May.

For the first eight months of 1959, Simpson said, the B&O had a net income of $10,989,000, which was not far from the net figure of $11,042,000 for the similar 1958 period.

While the steel work stoppage was mainly responsible for the continued serious decline in revenues and carloadings, another contributing factor was the shutdown of many industrial plants for inventories and vacations, according to the B& O president.

Simpson said operating revenues for the first eight months of this year came to about $266,632,000, up 6.21 per cent compared with the corresponding period of 1958.

Reflecting the drop in freight traffic caused by the steel strike, the Western Maryland Railway dipped into the red to the extent of $3,000 in August.

This was the first monthly loss incurred by the railroad since February, 1950, when it had a deficit of $31,000 incident to a bituminous coal work stoppage.

For August last year the road had a net income of $472,000.

Gross operating revenues last month fell to $2,564,000 from $3,693,000 a year earlier. Coal freight revenues were down only moderately to $808,000 from $999,000 in 1958. Other freight receipts, hit directly by the steel shutdown, fell to $1,579,000 from $2,517,000.

For the first eight months of 1959 the Western Maryland had a net income of $4,547,000 or $6.19 a common share, well ahead of $3,438,000 or $4.60 a share for the corresponding 1958 period.

Gross operating revenues for eight months totaled $31,747,000, up $2,630,000 from a year ago.

Coal freight revenues for the January 1 to August 31 period totaled $11,348,000 against $11,135,000 in 1958. Other freight brought in $19,179,000 versus $16,460,000 a year earlier.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear daughter and sister, Zorka Krnaya, who passed away 15 years ago, September 18, 1944.
September brings sad memories,
Of a loved one gone to rest.
She will never be forgotten,
By the ones who loved her best.
We often look at her picture,
Smiling and she seems to say,
Don't grieve I'm only sleeping,
Will see you all some day.
Sadly missed by her
Father, Mother, Brother and Sister

Montreal Seeks Berth In Third Major League

NEW YORK (UPI) — Montreal Thursday made what Branch Rickey called an "impressive" formal application for a franchise in the new third major league, the Continental League.

Three franchises are open in the new circuit, which plans to begin play in 1961. The founding members of the league are New York, Houston, Minneapolis - St. Paul, Denver and Toronto.

The Montreal group outlined plans for a new stadium which would seat 45,000 and would have parking space for 10,000 automobiles. The group previously had presented Rickey and Shea with complete information on its contemplated plans and organization.

Ground Is Broken For Dodgers' Park

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The long fight over Chavez Ravine as the site of the Los Angeles Dodgers ball park passed another point Thursday when ground was broken for the proposed $12,000,000 plant.

The public had been invited to attend the formal ceremony but Dodger officials privately wondered whether many people would show up.

They need not have worried. Upward of 5,000 turned out and the roads in and out of the isolate, brush covered hill country within a few minutes of downtown Los Angeles were clogged by traffic.

Two Men Die In Auto Crash

Car Hits Culvert On Route 55

Two Frostburg men were killed yesterday evening in a spectacular one-car crash on the Vale Summit Road (Maryland Route 55) between Midland and U.S. Route 40 at Clarysville.

State Police identified the victims as Robert D. Seifarth, 40, of 118 McCulloh Street, Frostburg, and Frederick James Rankin, 32, of RD 2, Frostburg.

Police were unable to determine who was driving the car, which apparently was traveling at a high rate of speed at the time of the accident (5:50 p. m.)

Police said the two-door hardtop was traveling east on Route 55 in the direction of Vale Summit. The driver, in attempting to negotiate a slight left turn, lost control of the car, which ran off the shoulder and traveled along a gutter for about 300 feet.

Hits Culvert, Overturns

The vehicle then rammed into a culvert, turned end over end, and after traveling about 75 feet, came to a stop about 20 yards to the left of the highway.

Trooper Joseph Helmstetter said there were no witnesses to the accident, and it is not known who was driving.

The left front of the car got the full impact as it struck the culvert. Mr. Rankin's body was found lying about 20 feet from the car and Mr. Seifarth's body was partially extending from the passenger side of the front seat.

Firemen from Clarysville were called to the scene when it was learned that gasoline was leaking from the wreckage. However, there was no fire.

The accident occurred about one and a half miles west of Vale Summit.

Mr. Rankin, who was 32 years old Wednesday, had formerly worked at the Moose Home in Frostburg. He was a son of Mrs. Mabel (Gordon) Rankin of Borden Mine, and the late James Rankin.

Besides his mother, Mr. Rankin is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elvie (Wampler) Rankin, Vale Summit; two children, Wanda, 9, and William, five; two brothers, John Rankin, Frostburg, and Robert Rankin, at home; four sisters, Mrs. John Albright, Loartown; Mrs. Ronald Moran, Frostburg; Mrs. William Folk, Borden Mine; Miss Ida Rankin, at home.

He was a veteran of World War II.

His body will be at the Durst Funeral Home in Frostburg after 7 p. m. today. Friends will be received from 7 to 9 p. m. today and from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. tomorrow.

Construction Worker

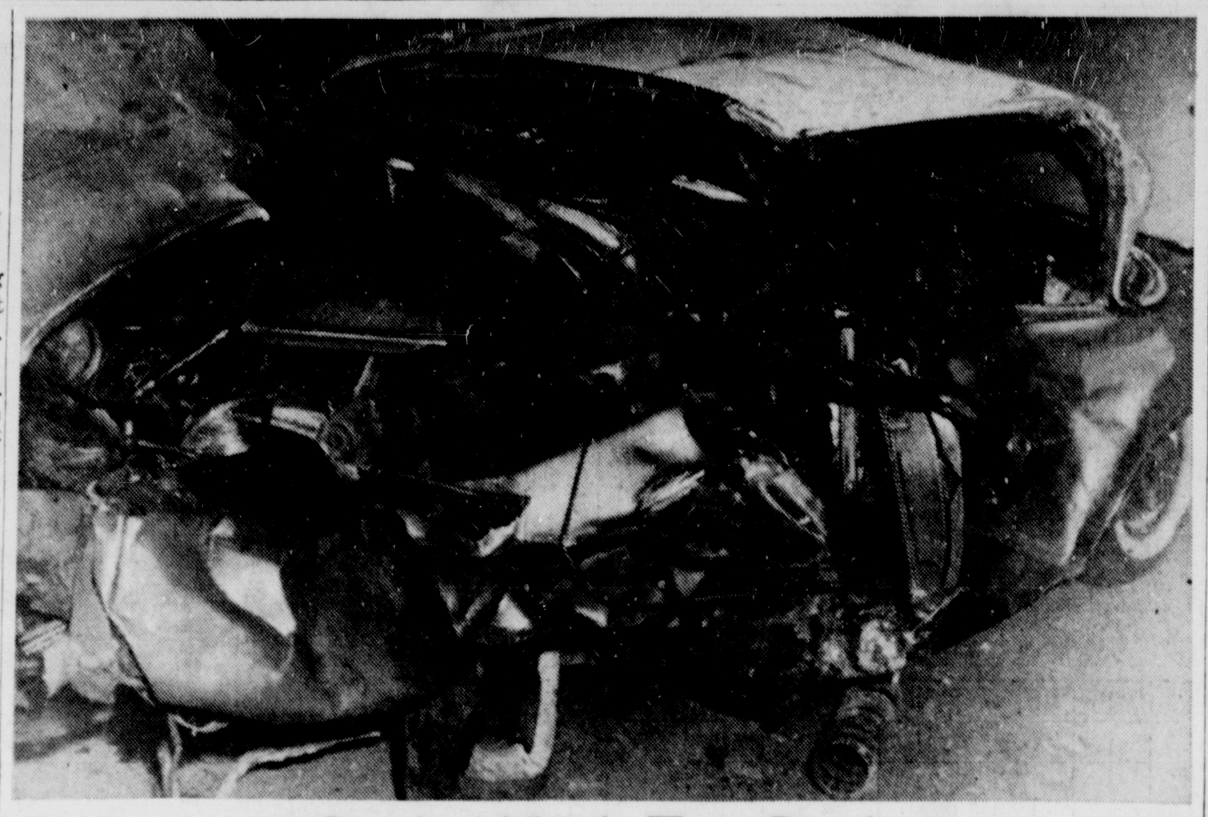
Mr. Seifarth, who was a construction worker, had been working on the Thomas G. Pullen Laboratory School at Frostburg State Teachers College.

He was born at Frostburg on March 30, 1919 and was a son of Andrew Seifarth and the late Mrs. Ruth (Walsh) Seifarth. Besides his father, he is survived by his wife, Edith Seifarth; a son, Robert Seifarth, 12, a daughter, Roberta Ann Seifarth, by a former marriage.

Also surviving are two brothers, Cecil Seifarth of Frostburg; Clifford Seifarth, address unknown; two sisters, Mrs. Roy McDonough, Beaver, Pa. and Mrs. James Meagher, Fairgo.

He also was a veteran of World War II. He was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and of Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church and Iron Workers Local 568.

The body is at the Durst Funeral Home.



Car In Which Two Died

This is all that was left of a late-model hardtop last night after it ran off State Route 55 near Vale Summit, hit a culvert and overturned. Robert D. Seifarth, 40, of Frostburg, and Frederick James Rankin, 32, of RD 2, Frostburg, were killed, apparently instantly. The car landed on its top, throwing one of the men out. The other was found partially out of the car.

Delegate Silver Proposes Bus Safety Control

Seeks Matrons For All Vehicles

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Legislative Council member plans to submit to Gov. Tawes a plan to tighten control over Maryland's school bus operations to prevent accidents similar to one which killed seven youngsters last week.

Delegate Edgar P. Silver (D-Balto 5th), chairman of the council's motor vehicles committee, said "we can't have a recurrence of that type of accident," referring to the train-bus collision at Mountain Lake Park Sept. 10.

Silver said he would present his proposals to Tawes probably next week.

Among other things, Silver believes that a matron should ride each school bus to help keep order and to aid the driver in an emergency.

Drivers Too Busy

He explained that because of today's traffic "a driver has all he can do without . . . having to keep order . . . too."

He also recommended that school buses be prohibited from using railroad crossings 15 minutes before and after the time a train is scheduled to pass. Exit drills also should be held periodically so the riders can learn to use the emergency door.

Silver pointed out that about 48 seconds elapsed between the time the bus stalled on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks at Mountain Lake Park and was crushed by the passenger train, the Diplomat.

"Everyone tried to get out through the front door," Silver said. "Apparently no one thought of the emergency exit."

No Laws Needed

The safety recommendations could be adopted without legislation because they are administrative matters, the delegate said.

Silver also advocated special licensing of school bus drivers, with stiff mental and physical tests; strict examination of the buses; and stricter enforcement of rules against overloading any one vehicle.

Wednesday, the Garrett County grand jury found no criminal negligence in the accident, but recommended safety measures.

The jury suggested that all school buses carry flashing red lights on the roof; periodic, surprise checks of buses and drivers, and the decreasing of train speeds during school hours, especially at crossings.

Inquest Seen In Fatal Crash Near Bedford

Bedford County (Pa.) Coroner Dr. J. H. Knisely said last night that an inquest will probably be held in the death of Mrs. Alice V. Rhodes, 66, of Saxton, who was fatally injured Wednesday in a two-car collision about a half mile south of Bedford on U. S. Route 220.

Her husband, Milton Rhodes, 74, driver of one of the cars, and M/Sgt. Landon Lowe, 35, of Chauncey, W. Va., the other driver, were reported in "fair" condition last night at Bedford County Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Rhodes was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital, according to authorities who said the head-on collision occurred at 5:55 p. m.

State Police said Sgt. Lowe, who is stationed with the Army at Fort Devens, Mass., was traveling south and was just coming out of the curve on U. S. 220 near the south end of the Bedford Elks Golf Course, when his car skidded on the wet pavement.

Airline Report Due In Week

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An initial report probably will be forthcoming next week from a Civic Aeronautics Board examiner on his findings concerning competing applications by three airlines to expand local air service in West Virginia.

Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-W. Va.) said Thursday CAB Chairman James Durfee had advised him the first report would be issued about Sept. 25. Randolph said he asked the CAB to break the silence—that the case had dragged on "long enough."

The case dates back some three years. Piedmont, Lake Central and Allegheny Airlines have been seeking additional routes in West Virginia.

Piedmont has been favored in hearings before a CAB examiner by some West Virginia representatives. But Lake Central drew equal support from Ohio official whose cities also would be on many of the routes.

In West Virginia, among cities affected by the local service case are Charleston, Huntington, Parkersburg, Bluefield, Morgantown, Wheeling, Elkins, Clarksburg, Beckley and Martinsburg, along with Cumberland, Md.

Pilot Discharged From Hospital

The pilot of a private plane who was injured Wednesday night when the craft was forced down by rain and cracked up in a soggy field about two miles west of Somerset, Pa., was discharged yesterday from the Somerset Community Hospital.

Elbert Allen Darnell, 54, of South Bend, Ind., suffered a fractured nose and lacerations. The other occupant of the single-engine Cessna aircraft, Frank Thomas Ray, also of South Bend, was uninjured.

State Police at Somerset said the Indiana men were flying due west from Teterboro, N. J., probably headed for home. When the plane attempted to land it nosed over on the rain-soaked turf, flipping on its top.

City Will Get Alley Request On Monday

Construction Cost Estimated At $7,600

A petition calling for the opening of the proposed service alley at the rear of North Mechanic Street will be presented to the Mayor and Council on Monday.

Plans for the project were discussed Wednesday by the planning committee of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting with Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum.

The Chamber was represented by Earl D. Chaney, president; William D. Claus, vice president in charge of planning, and C. William Gilchrist, member.

During the meeting, city officials related the history of the proposal and pointed out that the City of Cumberland paid $1,600 to the government for strengthening the Wills Creek flood wall between Bedford and Baltimore streets so the wall would bear the weight of traffic.

City officials estimated the alley, which would serve business firms in that area and reduce North Mechanic Street traffic problems, would cost about $7,600 for curbing, base and a blacktop wearing course.

A petition was being prepared yesterday and will be circulated today among business firms which would be served by the alley.

Additional delegates are expected to register today at the Fort Cumberland Hotel, headquarters for the three-day conclave which opened here yesterday.

A joint opening service was held yesterday to begin the state meeting.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech welcomed the delegates to the Queen City and the response was given by J. Walter McKee, city, the current grand chancellor.

Julius E. Schindler, local attorney and past grand chancellor, gave the address at the opening session, and Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, gave the invocation.

Afternoon activities included a reception for grand officers of both lodges.

High Court Gets Barkman Case

An appeal of Philip Barkman, a former plant superintendent of the Cumberland Steel Company, has been taken under advisement by the Maryland Court of Appeals.

Mr. Barkman appealed an Allegany County Circuit Court decision that he was not eligible for workmen's compensation. The 68-year-old employe suffered a severe heart attack in September 1954 while helping crib a truck so it would hold a load of steel.

However, he did not file a claim until 26 months later. The law at the time required that it be filed within one year of the accident.

Mr. Barkman's attorney argued that he was late in filing the claim because his physician did not directly relate the heart attack to the extraordinary physical effort at work until March 1956. The claim finally was filed in October 1956.

Zoning Board Tables Bid For Garage

Delegation Enters Protest To Plan

The Board of Zoning Appeals last night tabled for two weeks the appeal of Emmett A. Dougherty, Bedford Road, to build a garage for the storage and repair of gargabe trucks in a business district on Memorial Avenue.

The delay was voted on the application of James C. Gardner, chairman, after H. Clifford Spiker, member, said there was "nothing else to do" and moved that the permit be granted.

Early in the lengthy hearing, Mr. Dougherty said he wanted to build a truck garage and that the word "storage" in the application was added by someone else.

The permit was issued by City Engineer C. R. Nuzum in accordance with the zoning ordinance which allowed such a use in a business district.

Permit Revoked

The Mayor and Council later revoked the permit and Mr. Dougherty appealed to the Board of Zoning Appeals.

The Bedford Road man told the board he planned to use the building only to store and repair his garbage trucks which would have no more smell than any other garage.

He said he had been displaced from Wineow Street and picked a site in a legal area.

Mr. Gardner ordered that the word "storage" be taken from the permit and said the permit, if granted, would specifically limit use to a garage.

Eight citizens of the area appeared to protest the use of the area, which adjoins a Residential A area, as a garage for storage of garbage trucks.

Enter Protests

Albert C. Owens, 315 South Street, said "garbage is garbage" and that use of the land for a garbage truck storage would create a nuisance, and that such use will devalue nearby property.

The site, the board stressed, is in a business district, and the law leaves the board no alternative.

To another citizen who protested the trucks will stink, Mr. Gardner said he sympathized with the stand taken by the objectors but that the board "must go by the rules."

Can Appeal Permit

He told the objectors they had a perfect right to appeal to the Circuit Court should the permit be granted.

The board added that the objectors were asking the board to reject the application on the grounds of a non-conforming use which can only be assumed, and added that if undue noise, odors and the like occur, they have a right to get a warrant.

The board stressed it can not assume that objectionable odors will result from the building.

The application, Mr. Gardner said, is within the ordinance.

Defers Action

The board also deferred for two weeks the appeal of Allegany Homes Company, 16 South Liberty Street, which is building a one-story dwelling at 612 East First Street.

Two protestants appeared and were advised to be on hand for the appeal. The board said that if the applicant fails to appear the board will act on the application anyway.

The permit, according to City Attorney C. R. Nuzum, was suspended, but protestants said work is still going on.

The board disapproved the application of Lloyd Kirkpatrick to locate a barber shop at 12 North Lee Street.

Approved were the applications of C. W. Redinger to build an addition to his home at 407 Caroline Street and to Harry A. Spies, who sought to build a home on Maple Street with insufficient side yard. The board pointed out other homes on the block do not meet the requirement.

Equity Suits Filed

A number of equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Joseph Purdham vs. Mary Eva Purdham, Laura Pelican vs. William Pelican, Margaret Warnick vs. Cecil Warnick, Helen Lavern Kerns vs. John Francis Kerns, Betty J.
